Marginal Spaces Michael Peter Smith, 2017-10-23 The literature on modernist and postmodernist urban development is abundant yet few researchers have taken up the challenge of studying the areas in which marginalized people live as sources of resistance to continued modernization In Marginal Spaces Michael Smith has assembled case studies combining structural and historical analyses of the moves of powerful social interests to dominate social space and the tactics and strategies various marginalized social groups employ to reclaim dominated space for their own use The marginal spaces embodied in the title of this fifth volume of the Comparative Urban and Community Research series include five sites of domination and resistance A squatters movement in Ann Arbor Michigan resists the adverse consequences of four decades of urban development A homeless encampment in Chicago engages hi guerilla architecture and other moves designed to reconstitute prevailing social constructions of the problem of homelessness An antigentrification movement hi the East Village of New York engages hi an ongoing struggle to resist efforts by developers to market their neighborhood as space for luxury condominium development There is a Public Housing Council organized by African American women hi New Orleans that is resisting both the material regulation of their daily lives and the dominant social construction of public housing as a racially gendered space suitable only for dependent women and children of color Finally there is a subordinate labor market niche hi California agriculture where indigenous Mixtec peasants from Oaxaca are displacing the more traditional mestizo farm workers but who are also politically organizing as a transnational grassroots movement pursuing a binational strategy to alleviate then economic political and cultural marginality Contributions and contributors include House People Not Cars by Corey Dolgon Michael Kline and Laura Dresser Tranquillity City by Tahnadge Wright Private Redevelopment and the Changing Forms of Displacement hi the East Village of New York by Christopher Mele Resisting Racially Gendered Space by Alma Young and Jyaphia Christos Rodgers and Mixtecs and Mestizos hi California Agriculture by Carol Zabin This volume will be of interest to urban planners sociologists and political scientists especially those with strong interests hi local ethnography and concrete policy

Reshaping the World
Ernesto Castañeda, 2021-03-16 This volume provides information and analyses to better grasp the social implications of geographical borders as well as the individuals who travel between them and those who live in border regions Sociologists anthropologists philosophers linguists and scholars of international relations and public health are just some of the authors contributing to Rethinking Borders The diversity in the authors disciplines and the topics they focus on exemplify the intricacies of borders and their manifold effects This openness to so many schools of thought stands in contrast to the solidification of stricter borders across the globe The contributions range from case studies of migrants sense of belonging and safety to theoretical discussions about migration and globalization from empirical studies about immigrant practices and exclusionary laws to ethical concerns about the benefits of inclusion It is timely that this collective work is published in the middle of a pandemic that has affected every single part of the world Unprecedented border closures and stringent travel restrictions have not been enough to contain the virus entirely As COVID 19 shows diseases ideas and xenophobic and racist discourses know no borders Plans that transcend borders are vital when dealing with global threats such as climate change and pandemics

Swept Up Lives? Paul Cloke, Jon May, Sarah Johnsen, 2011-01-31 Utilizing innovative ethnographic research Swept Up Lives challenges conventional accounts of urban homelessness to trace the complex and varied attempts to care for homeless people Presents innovative ethnographic research which suggests an important shift in perspective in the analysis and understanding of urban homelessness Emphasizes the ethical and emotional geographies of care embodied and performed within homeless services spaces Suggests that different homelessness scenes develop in different places due to varied historical political and cultural responses to the problems faced

Cities of Difference Ruth Fincher, Jane Margaret Jacobs, 1998-03-20 By adopting an approach that is sensitive to issues of difference as well as to the role of the state Cities of Difference considers the fragmentation of city life and the complex relationship between identity power and place

Making Spaces through Infrastructure Marian Burchardt, Dirk Laak, 2023-07-04 Infrastructures are fundamental means through which societies create spaces but little is known about the precise ways in which this occurs How have infrastructures animated certain understandings of space How do infrastructures stabilize or undermine the spatial formats in which we live which shape our everyday practices and which regulate access to services and resources And conversely how do spaces frame the ways infrastructural provision is organized How do existing spaces shape infrastructural development and the scope and forms of access to vital services such as transport and water In this volume historians and sociologists draw on a range of fascinating case studies and provide compelling answers to these questions Exploring among others the provision of irrigation water in nineteenth century Los Angeles the invention of airport transit zones and the infrastructural practices of homeless people in Berlin the book demonstrates how the making of spaces through infrastructure is deeply political Intent on revealing uneven geographies of provision and hierarchies of access the contributors highlight how infrastructures are products of global entanglements

Research Handbook on Mental Health Policy Christopher G. Hudson, 2022-11-18 This Research Handbook is an essential guide to the design and use of research in mental health policy from a global perspective It focuses on public mental health as well as quasi public and private policies in nations with significant private sectors      Down on Their Luck David A. Snow, Leon Anderson, 1993-02-12 David Snow and Leon Anderson show us the wretched face of homelessness in late twentieth century America in countless cities across the nation Through hundreds of hours of interviews participant observation and random tracking of homeless people through social service agencies in Austin Texas Snow and Anderson reveal who the homeless are how they live and why they have ended up on the streets Debunking current stereotypes of the homeless Down on Their Luck sketches a portrait of men and women who are highly adaptive resourceful and pragmatic Their survival is a tale of human resilience and determination not one of frailty and disability      Banished Katherine Beckett, Steve Herbert, 2009-11-12 With urban poverty rising and affordable housing disappearing the homeless and other disorderly people continue to occupy public space in many American cities Concerned about the alleged ill effects their presence inflicts on property values and public safety many cities have wholeheartedly embraced zero tolerance or broken window policing efforts to clear the streets of unwanted people Through an almost completely unnoticed set of practices these people are banned from occupying certain spaces Once zoned out they are subject to arrest if they return effectively banished from public places Banished is the first exploration of these new tactics that dramatically enhance the power of the police to monitor and arrest thousands of city dwellers Drawing upon an extensive body of data the authors chart the rise of banishment in Seattle a city on the leading edge of this emerging trend to establish how it works and explore its ramifications They demonstrate that although the practice allows police and public officials to appear responsive to concerns about urban disorder it is a highly questionable policy it is expensive does not reduce crime and does not address the underlying conditions that generate urban poverty Moreover interviews with the banished themselves reveal that exclusion makes their lives and their path to self sufficiency immeasurably more difficult At a time when more and more cities and governments in the U S and Europe resort to the criminal justice system to solve complex social problems Banished provides a vital and timely challenge to exclusionary strategies that diminish the life circumstances and rights of those it targets      Helter-Shelter Prashan Ranasinghe, 2017-10-03 Helter Shelter is an ethnographic account of the manner in which an emergency shelter is governed on a daily basis from the perspective of the personnel who are employed and tasked with providing care Prashan Ranasinghe focuses on how the founding ethos of the shelter an ethic of care is conceptualized and practiced by examining its successes and failures Ranasinghe reveals how this logic is diluted and adulterated because of two other important logics security and legality which working alongside take precedence and trump the import of care The care that is deployed is heavily legalized and securitized and it is also administered inconsistently and idiosyncratically As a result disorder and confusion pervade the shelter Helter Shelter offers a unique perspective on the delivery of care and how this laudable intention faces such daunting challenges      Bibliographie Internationale de Sociologie 1987 British Library of Political and Economic Science, 1991 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge on the social sciences      Rough Magic Miranda Newman, 2024-04-16 NATIONAL BESTSELLER A harrowing but ultimately uplifting memoir about living with borderline personality disorder the most stigmatized diagnosis in mental health I didn't know whether to take you to a psychologist or an exorcist This is how Miranda Newman's mother described the experience of trying to find an explanation for her daughter's behaviour It would be years before Miranda was able to find a diagnosis that explained the complicated way she moved through the world She would have to advocate for herself in the mental health system while dealing with abuse being unhoused survival sex suicide attempts and hospitalizations Through it all Miranda has found strength in her diagnosis Her recollections are visceral and confessional but also self-aware irreverent and funny She tells readers how she has found strength and joy in what others might see as tragic while bolstering her personal recollections with deeply researched observations on Canada's mental healthcare system and the history of diagnostics and disorder using research supported by her work at Yale University

Homelessness James M. Henslin, 2023-07-28 This is Volume II of a bibliography of works on the homelessness and is dedicated to the many homeless people who discussed their situation during the author's research across the United States

A Companion to Health and Medical Geography Tim Brown, Sara McLafferty, Graham Moon, 2009-12-21 A COMPANION TO HEALTH AND MEDICAL GEOGRAPHY A Companion to Health and Medical Geography provides an essential starting point for anyone interested in studying the role of geography and of geographers both past and present in promoting an understanding of issues relating to health and illness Whilst thoroughly mapping out the territory covered by the sub discipline and examining changes in focus and terminology this book offers a discussion of the major themes from differing methodological and theoretical perspectives Questions of class ethnicity gender age and sexuality are covered throughout the text and case studies within chapters draw upon scholarship from around the globe in order to illuminate key points Organized to promote dialogue and encourage health and medical geographers to rethink sub disciplinary boundaries this Companion provides a unique account of the history of the field and its future potential and possibilities
