Mila Schwartz, 2024-02-27. This book presents ecological perspectives towards early language education that conceptualise the phenomenon of interactions between child, language, based agency, teachers, agency peers, agency and parents, agency, consequently furthering insights into the lives of young children growing up in multilingual homes. Drawing on rich empirical research evidence, the book explores teachers' and family strategies and practices aimed at enhancing children's interest in home language maintenance and enrichment, as well as in the novel language learning. It defines early language education as the education of children up to the age of 6 and considers international evidence of children's language from diverse sociolinguistic backgrounds and indigenous endangered heritage, regional minority, majority, and marginalized languages, as well as foreign and second languages in education at home and out of home settings. It claims that only through collaboration between teachers, families, peers, and close environment can the child be engaged in early language learning and fully experience his or her potential to act as agent in a novel language learning. The book will be of great interest to researchers, academics, and postgraduate students in the fields of language education, multilingualism, applied linguistics, and early childhood education. Practitioners in these fields may also find the volume a valuable resource.

(Re)defining Success in Language Learning Katie A. Bernstein, 2020-09-08. This book follows four emergent bilingual students in an English medium pre-kindergarten in the US as they navigate the social and linguistic demands of school. It illustrates how students' differing classroom social positions shaped their participation in interaction and in turn their English language learning across a school year. With a unique focus on both processes and outcomes, the book highlights language strategies that are overlooked if the focus is solely on one language or on group participation, and it emphasizes the importance of assessment choice in shaping which learners appear to be successful. It is a powerful argument for recognising the translingual and multimodal abilities of learners even in education which is officially English medium and monolingual
