Language Hungry An Introduction To Language Learning Fun And Selfest:

Self-Esteem and Foreign Language Learning Fernando Rubio, 2021-02-19 Self Esteem and Foreign Language Learning deals with a topic which has been given surprisingly little attention in Second and Foreign Language Acquisition studies. Although there are several studies dealing with general education, this volume addresses the need to take self-esteem into consideration in the language classroom and adopts both theoretical research and practical perspectives with the hope of being useful for both researchers and practitioners. The book is organized into three main parts. Part I serves as an introduction to self-esteem. Part II reports on the existing literature about the theory and research dealing with self-esteem and foreign language learning, and Part III includes procedures for implementation and activities for classroom applications. Self Esteem and Foreign Language Learning is edited by Fernando Rubio PhD, a researcher and teacher at the University of Huelva in Spain. Most of the chapters have been written by members of the research group Affective factors in language learning, which has also published a book on Multiple Intelligences and the teaching of English. Dr Jane Arnold, Dr Carmen Fonseca etc. There are two outside contributions: one is by Andrew Wright, author of numerous publications for language teachers, and the other by Veronica de Andr s, teacher trainer from the University of El Salvador, Argentina, and member of the executive board of the International Council for Self Esteem. Dr Elaine Horwitz of the University of Texas has contributed a preface.

The Routledge Handbook of Language Awareness Peter Garrett, Josep M. Cots, 2017-11-06 The Routledge Handbook of Language Awareness is a comprehensive and informative overview of the broad field of language awareness. It contains a collection of state-of-the-art reviews of both established themes and new directions, authored and edited by experts in the field. The handbook is divided into three sections and reflects the engaging diversity of language awareness: perspectives on language teaching and teachers' language learning and learners' and extending to additional areas of importance that are less directly concerned with language instruction. In their introductory chapter, the editors provide valuable background to the language awareness field along with their summary of the chapters and issues covered. A helpful section giving further reading suggestions for each of the chapters is included at the end of the book. This volume is essential reading for graduate students and researchers working in the sphere of language awareness within applied linguistics, sociolinguistics, and across the wider spectrum of language and communication.

Handbook of Research in Second Language Teaching and Learning Eli Hinkel, 2005-03-23 This landmark volume provides a broad-based state-of-the-art overview of current knowledge and research into second language teaching and learning. Fifty-seven chapters are organized in eight thematic sections: social contexts of second language learning; research methodologies in second language learning; acquisition and teaching; contributions of applied linguistics to the teaching and learning of second language skills; second language processes and development; teaching methods and curricula; issues in second or foreign language testing and assessment; identity, culture, and critical pedagogy in second language teaching and learning; and important considerations in language planning and policies The Handbook of Research in Second Language Teaching and Learning is intended for researchers practitioners graduate students and faculty in teacher education and applied linguistics programs teachers teacher trainers teacher trainees curriculum and material developers and all other professionals in the field of second language teaching and learning

The Impact of Self-Concept on Language Learning Kata Csizér, Michael Magid, 2014-08-27 This edited volume seeks to highlight the effects of self concept on L2 learning and teaching by considering a wide range of theories as well as their practical application The book is divided into four sections and includes chapters discussing various approaches related to self concept empirical studies related to the selves of the learners research from teachers perspectives on students self concept and L2 motivational intervention studies associated with the development of self concept of language learners The volume contains a collection of studies from around the world Central Europe Canada Asia and Australia which were carried out using a variety of research methods and have a range of foci including adult and young learners public and private education foreign and second language settings and teacher and learner motivation

Language Hungry! Tim Murphey, 1998 New Insights into Language Anxiety Christina Gkonou, Mark Daubney, Jean-Marc Dewaele, 2017-04-25 This book provides an overview of current theory research and practice in the field of language anxiety and brings together a range of perspectives on this psychological construct in a single volume Chapters in the volume are divided into three sections Part 1 revisits language anxiety theory showing that it can be viewed as a complex and dynamic construct and that it is linked to other psychological variables such as the self and personality In Part 2 a series of contextualised studies on language anxiety are presented with a key feature of these studies being the diverse research designs which are applied in different instructional settings across the globe Part 3 bridges theory and practice by presenting coping strategies and practice activities with a view to informing classroom practice and pedagogical interventions

The Psychology of the Language Learner Zoltán Dörnyei, 2014-04-04 Research results over the past decades have consistently demonstrated that a key reason why many second language learners fail while some learners do better with less effort lies in various learner attributes such as personality traits motivation or language aptitude In psychology these attributes have traditionally been called individual differences The scope of individual learner differences is broad ranging from creativity to learner styles and anxiety yet there is no current comprehensive and unified volume that provides an overview of the considerable amount of research conducted on various language learner differences until now Each chapter in this new volume focuses on a different individual difference variable Besides a review of the relevant second language literature Zoltán Dörnyei presents a concise overview of the psychological research involving each topic A key concern for the author has been to define the various learner factors as measurable constructs and therefore the discussion includes a summary of the most famous tests and questionnaires in each domain A wide range of readers will benefit from this book students in linguistics applied linguistics modern languages and psychology programs second language teachers participating in in service training courses and researchers in second language acquisition and psychology

Language Learning Motivation in Japan Matthew T. Apple, Dexter Da Silva, Terry Fellner, 2013-09-27 This book synthesises current theory and research on L2 motivation in the EFL Japanese context covering topics such as the issues of cultural identity demotivation language communities positive psychology possible L2 selves and internationalisation within a key EFL context The studies examine L2 motivation in primary secondary and tertiary education utilising a wide variety of research methodologies to do so

Multiple Perspectives on the Self in SLA Sarah Mercer, Marion Williams, 2014-02-03 Instead of viewing different perspectives on the self as competing with each other and considering one perspective on the self as being inherently better than another this book takes the view that a fuller more comprehensive picture of the self in SLA can be gained by examining and combining insights from different perspectives This original collection of papers thus attempts to provide a thorough overview of the ways in which the self can be conceptualised in SLA contexts The editors have brought together a diverse range of theoretical perspectives on the self to allow the reader to appreciate the insights that each approach contributes to overall understandings of the self in the domain of second language acquisition and foreign language learning

Positive Psychology in SLA Peter D. MacIntyre, Tammy Gregersen, Sarah Mercer, 2016-04-20 Positive psychology is the scientific study of how human beings prosper and thrive This is the first book in SLA dedicated to theories in positive psychology and their implications for language teaching learning and communication Chapters examine the characteristics of individuals contexts and relationships that facilitate learning positive emotional states such as love enjoyment and flow and character traits such as empathy hardiness and perseverance The contributors present several innovative teaching ideas to bring out these characteristics among learners The collection thus blends new teaching techniques with cutting edge theory and empirical research undertaken using qualitative quantitative and mixed methods approaches It will be of interest to SLA researchers graduate students trainee and experienced teachers who wish to learn more about language learning psychology individual differences learner characteristics and new classroom practices

Beliefs About SLA P. Kalaja, A.M. Ferreira Barcelos, 2007-10-03 This edited collection of articles illustrates more recent work on beliefs about SLA drawing on the thinking of educational philosophers and discursive psychologists including Dewey Bakhtin Vygotsky and Potter The data for these reports have been collected by a variety of means e g narratives diary journal entries interviews completion tasks classroom observations and subjected to a number of novel ways of analysis The book puts past and present research into perspective by comparing and contrasting different approaches Both beliefs from second foreign language learners and teachers are subject of research The contributions provide detailed accounts of starting points definitions methods of data collection and analysis main findings and implications for further research
