Theoretical Framework for Analyzing Complex Linguistic Networks Alexander Mehler,Andy Lücking,Sven Banisch,Philippe Blanchard,Barbara Job,2015-07-07 The aim of this book is to advocate and promote network models of linguistic systems that are both based on thorough mathematical models and substantiated in terms of linguistics In this way the book contributes first steps towards establishing a statistical network theory as a theoretical basis of linguistic network analysis the boarder of the natural sciences and the humanities This book addresses researchers who want to get familiar with theoretical developments computational models and their empirical evaluation in the field of complex linguistic networks It is intended to all those who are interested in statistical models of linguistic systems from the point of view of network research This includes all relevant areas of linguistics ranging from phonological morphological and lexical networks on the one hand and syntactic semantic and pragmatic networks on the other In this sense the volume concerns readers from many disciplines such as physics linguistics computer science and information science It may also be of interest for the upcoming area of systems biology with which the chapters collected here share the view on systems from the point of view of networks represent a new generation of information processing paradigms designed to mimic in a very limited sense the human brain They can learn recall and generalize from training data and with their potential applications limited only by the imaginations of scientists and engineers they are commanding tremendous popularity and research interest Over the last four decades researchers have reported a number of neural network paradigms however the newest of these have not appeared in book form until now Recent Advances in Artificial Neural Networks collects the latest neural network paradigms and reports on their promising new applications World renowned experts discuss the use of neural networks in pattern recognition color induction classification cluster detection and more Application engineers scientists and research students from all disciplines with an interest in considering neural networks for solving real world problems will find this collection
