Language Use in Ethiopia from a Network Perspective Ronny Meyer, Renate Richter, 2003 This publication describes the usage of languages in the multilingual society of Ethiopia It is based on empirical studies conducted in nine states of the Federal Democratic Republic of Ethiopia in 1997 and 1998 A research team of German and Ethiopian scholars surveyed about 3 500 high school students from 35 Ethiopian towns regarding their language behaviour The data on the distribution of mother tongues and second languages are published here for the first time and are representative for a typical Ethiopian town These data outline the development of multilingualism over three generations students parents grandparents and elucidate factors which promote the spread of multilingualism The frame for the representation and explanation of the data is an adapted model of the social network theory

Rethinking Language Use

in Digital Africa Leketi Makalela, Goodith White, 2021-06-23 This book challenges the view that digital communication in Africa is limited and relatively unsophisticated and questions the assumption that digital communication has a damaging effect on indigenous African languages The book applies the principles of Digital African Multilingualism DAM in which there are no rigid boundaries between languages The book charts a way forward for African languages where greater attention is paid to what speakers do with the languages rather than what the languages look like and offers several models for language policy and planning based on horizontal and user based multilingualism The chapters demonstrate how digital communication is being used to form and sustain communication in many kinds of online groups including for political activism and creating poetry and offer a paradigm of language merging online that provides a practical blueprint for the decolonization of African languages through digital platforms This book is open access under a CC BY NC ND licence

Aethiopica, 2008 Grammatical Borrowing in Cross-Linguistic Perspective Yaron Matras, Jeanette Sakel, 2008-08-27 The book contains 30 descriptive chapters dealing with a specific language contact situation The chapters follow a uniform organisation format being the narrative version of a standard comprehensive questionnaire previously distributed to all authors The questionnaire targets systematically the possibility of contact influence grammatical borrowing in a full range of categories The uniform structure facilitates a comparison among the chapters and the languages covered The introduction describes the setup of the questionnaire and the methodology of the approach along with a survey of the difficulties of sampling in contact linguistics Two evaluative chapters each authored by one of the co editors draws general conclusions from the volume as a whole one in relation to borrowed grammatical categories and meaningful hierarchies the other in relation to the distribution of Matter and Pattern replication The World's Major Languages Bernard Comrie, 2017-07-05 This volume features over fifty of the world's languages and language families The featured languages have been chosen based on the number of speakers their role as official languages and their cultural and historical importance Each language is looked at in depth and the chapters provide information on both grammatical features and on salient features of the language's history and cultural role This second edition has been updated and revised Two new languages Amharic and Javanese have been included This accessible volume will appeal to anyone with an interest in linguistics Key features Attention is paid to both grammatical and sociolinguistic features Attention is concentrated on the world's major languages Designed to be accessible to all readers with an interest in language Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress.
