Landscape With Canals The Second Part Of His Autobiography:

Landscape with Canals L. T. C. Rolt, 2017 Landscape with Canals The Second Part of His Autobiography The Life of LTC Rolt Victoria Owens, 2024-07-30 In 1926 Tom Rolt who was then sixteen years old abandoned his public school education Having taken a job with a small firm of agricultural engineers he realized that he had found his life's calling But the way ahead was neither smooth nor easy Having secured a premium apprenticeship the firm which took him on foundered and although he eventually qualified as a mechanical engineer the 1930s depression made it almost impossible to find regular employment Nothing daunted with the encouragement of his mysterious companion Cara he turned to writing His literary career flourished alongside his association with the Vintage Sports Car Club the Inland Waterways Association and the Talylyn Railway Between his Inland Waterways Association and Talylyn phases Angela his first wife left him to join Billy Smart's Circus and Sonia an actress turned boatwoman would become his second wife Over the course of his life he produced over thirty books their subject matters ranging from canals and railways to engineering biography company histories a collection of accomplished ghost stories and a topographical survey of Worcestershire He also wrote polemics about the plight of the craftsman in a world which relied increasingly upon mass production In this book the first full length biography of Tom Rolt and a complement to his auto biographical Landscape trilogy Victoria Owens draws upon his surviving letters and unpublished manuscripts to tell the story of the engineer turned writer who made Britain's industrial past the stuff of enduring literature Canals in a Changing Britain Jules P. Gehrke, 2024-12-15 Canals in a Changing Britain Construction Culture and Environment 1760-1968 assesses canals as a major technological system re-shaping Britons relationship with their landscape and environment for over 200 years It offers a sustained narrative addressing canal construction in the late eighteenth century living and working communities alongside canals in the nineteenth century canals relationship to concerns regarding de-industrialization in the early twentieth century and canals as sites for the experience of nature and rural life in the postwar era between 1945 and 1968 This book makes use of a variety of archival and published material on canals and references academic publications on histories of technology and the environment as well as scholarship related specifically to canals It argues contemporary conversations regarding the current and future use of canals as multi-faceted sites of recreation leisure heritage and experience of the natural environment in Britain must be seen in the context of an arc of historical experience between 1760 and 1968 Driving Spaces Peter Merriman, 2009-07-31 Peter Merriman traces the social and cultural histories and geographies of driving spaces through an examination of the design construction and use of England's M1 motorway in the 1950s and 1960s A first of its kind academic study examining the production and consumption of the landscapes and spaces of a British motorway An interdisciplinary approach engaging with theoretical and empirical work from sociology history cultural studies anthropology and geography Contains 38 high quality illustrations Based on extensive original archive work The Imperial Dictionary of Universal Biography John

The American Whig Review, 1847 Victorian Landscape Watercolors Scott Wilcox, Christopher Newall, 1992 English landscape watercolor painting a perfect marriage of genre and medium entered a lively period of experimentation in style and content during the second half of the nineteenth century with rich and diverse results Through all the changes of style and technique and all the debates over the appropriate use of the medium it was watercolor's ability to convey the timeless truth and reality of the natural world that mattered to artists critics and audiences British watercolors of the Victorian period continued to observe an essential humility before nature they remain fresh and compellingly immediate because they derived in the first place from the artists heartfelt communion with the elements of nature Victorian Landscape Watercolors begins with a consideration of the continuing influence of the great generation who earlier in the century during the extraordinary parallel rise of watercolor and landscape painting had established the landscape watercolor as a major British contribution to the arts The second chapter examines the role of the landscape watercolor in the aesthetic thought of John Ruskin whose critical voice played a dominant role in shaping that art The third chapter looks at the place of landscape within the watercolor societies and its development as it appeared in their annual exhibitions The final chapter deals with the tug of new and old foreign and native in the later Victorian period The book also features 126 watercolors from public and private collections in America and England all reproduced in full color and accompanied by individual commentaries Among the 76 artists represented are David Cox Sr and Jr Walter Crane William Holman Hunt Edward Lear Samuel Palmer James Mallord William Turner James McNeill Whistler and Ruskin himself along with dozens of lesser known masters of the medium Victorian Landscape Watercolors is published in conjunction with the first exhibition to survey this period of this particularly British contribution to the arts the exhibition organized by the Yale Center for British Art in New Haven Connecticut will also be seen at the Cleveland Museum of Art and in Birmingham England
