L'angle Mort:

L'angle mort Véronique Merlier, 2012 Cécile et François forment un jeune couple a priori ordinaire et heureux ils sont les parents d'un petit garçon de trois ans aimeraient avoir un autre enfant et continuer ce chemin semé de joies simples Un angle mort pourtant borne leur vie commune depuis l'origine Cet endroit invisible François l'a perdu dès l'adolescence sans jamais lui donner de nom sans jamais en parler personne Il s'est laissé porter par la vie et envelopper par l'amour de Cécile Mais l'otomeurt sa grande mère François bascule Il passe une frontière qu'il ne percevait que confusément jusque l'été de vivre ses attirances homosexuelles Pour autant il ne veut pas changer de vie et pense garder secrète cette transgression C'est impossible il faut désormais qu'il parle et qu'il vive pleinement cette part de lui-même Bouleversé par son aveu Cécile ne cesse pas d'aimer François elle veut toute force comprendre ce basculement et pense qu'ils passeront l'épreuve Mais peut-être n'y a-t-il justement rien à comprendre Quelle que soit l'énergie déployée quel que soit le point de vue il y aura toujours une part invisible incompréhensible un angle mort

Measuring the Visible Andrea Cady,2024-09-16 Kant's ›Critique of Aesthetic Judgment‹ in the 20th Century

Stefano Marino, Pietro Terzi, 2020-11-09 Kant's Critique of Judgment represents one of the most important texts in modern philosophy. However, while its importance for 19th century philosophy has been widely acknowledged, scholars have often overlooked its far-reaching influence on 20th century thought. This book aims to account for the various interpretations of Kant's notion of aesthetic judgment formulated in the last century. The book approaches the subject matter from both a historical and a theoretical point of view and in relation to different cultural contexts, also exploring in an unprecedented way its influence on some very up-to-date philosophical developments and trends. It represents the first choral and comprehensive study on this missing piece in the history of modern and contemporary philosophy, capable of cutting in a unique way across different traditions, movements, and geographical areas. All main themes of Kant's aesthetics are investigated in this book, while at the same time showing how they have been interpreted in very different ways in the 20th century. With contributions by Alessandro Bertinetto, Patrice Canivez, Dario Cecchi, Diarmuid Costello, Nicola Emery, Serena Felio, Ginter Figal, Tom Huhn, Hans Peter Krüger, Thomas W. Leddy, Stefano Marino, Claudio Paolucci, Anne Sauvagnargues, Dennis J. Schmidt, Arno Schübbach, Scott R. Stroud, Thomas Teufel, and Pietro Terzi. Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège, 2009-12-11

Cinema has been long associated with France, dating back to 1895 when Louis and Auguste Lumière screened their works, the first public viewing of films anywhere. Early silent pioneers Georges Méliès, Alice Guy Blaché, and others followed in the footsteps of the Lumière brothers, and the tradition of important filmmaking continued throughout the 20th century and beyond. In Encyclopedia of French Film Directors, Philippe Rège identifies every French director who has made at least one feature film since 1895. From undisputed masters to obscure one-timers, nearly 3,000 directors are cited here, including at least 200 filmmakers not mentioned in similar books published in France. Each director's entry contains a brief biographical summary, including dates and places of birth and death, information on the individual's education and professional training, and other pertinent details such as real names when the filmmaker uses a pseudonym. The entries also provide complete filmographies, including credits for feature films, shorts, documentaries, and television work. Some of the most important names in the history of film can be found in this encyclopedia, from masters of the Golden Age, Jean Renoir and René Clair, to French New Wave artists such as François Truffaut and Jean-Luc Godard. The Plant-based and Vegan Handbook Yanoula Athanassakis, Renan Larue, William O'Donohue, 2024-09-17 The Plant-based and Vegan Handbook is the first of its kind to bring together interlocking and sometimes conflicting perspectives focused on veganism and plant-based living. As an interdisciplinary volume, the noted contributors are from the fields of medicine, psychiatry, environmental studies, sociology, marine ecology, philosophy, agriculture, psychology, animal studies, religion, economics, literature, business, and law. Despite a range of individual preferences, these authors advance a scientific argument for a societal move away from the current model of human and nonhuman animal relationships. In our Anthropocene era, experts not only debate about how human beings will survive on Earth, but more particularly are more concerned with how they will thrive. As evidenced by the authors in this collection it will involve a reconsideration of the way our species relates to the planet and to other species This volume can serve as a critical reference work especially for students and scholars working in both emerging and established fields such as psychology medicine animal studies food studies environmental studies philosophy animal ethics and marine ecology

A Self-conscious Art Akane Kawakami, 2000-01-01 A Self Conscious Art deals with the formal complexities of Modiano's work by reading against the grain of his self-professed ingenuousness A detailed examination of his narratives shows the deeply postmodern nature of his writing Parodying precursors such as Proust or the nouveau romanciers his narratives are built around a profound lack of faith in the ability of writing to retrieve the past through memory and this failure is acknowledged in the discreet playfulness that characterises his novels Bulletin, 1917 Urban Secularism Julia Martínez-Ariño, 2020-12-31 While French la cit is often considered something fixed its daily deployment is rather messy What might we learn if we study the governance of religion from a dynamic bottom up perspective Using an ethnographic approach this book examines everyday secularism in the making How do city actors understand frame and govern religious diversity Which local factors play a role in those processes In Urban Secularism Negotiating Religious Diversity in Europe Julia Martínez-Ariño brings the reader closer to the entrails of la cit She provides detailed accounts of the ways religious groups city officials municipal employees secularist actors and other civil society organisations negotiate concrete public expressions of religion Drawing on rich empirical material the book demonstrates that urban actors draw and reproduce dichotomies of inclusion and exclusion and challenge static conceptions of la cit and the nation Illustrating how urban national and international contexts interact with one another the book provides researchers with a deeper understanding of the multilevel governance of religious diversity Minority Nations in Multinational Federations Min Reuchamps, 2014-12-17 Multinational federations rest on the coexistence of two or more nations within a single polity Within these federations minority nations play a significant role as their character differs from the other building blocks of the federation This edited volume offers a comprehensive comparison of two such minority nations Quebec in Canada and Wallonia in Belgium which exemplifies many dimensions themes and issues highly resonant to the study of federalism and regionalism across the globe Quebec and Wallonia have experienced several decades of federal dynamics where both regions have had to find their way as a minority nation in a multinational federation For those studying federalism and regionalism their importance lies in a number of characteristics but principally in the fact of these minority nations have transformed into mini states with fully fledged legislative powers within their federation This book seeks to study the specific dynamics within these small worlds and between them and the rest of the federation This text will be of key interest to students and scholars of federalism nationalism and regionalism comparative politics and policies political ideas and social movements

The Making of a Dialogical Theory

Ivana Marková, 2023-07-06 Creating a stimulating social theory with long lasting influence for generations of scholars is driven by multiple interacting factors The fortune of a theory is determined not only by the author's creative mind but also by the ways in which principal concepts are understood and interpreted The proper understanding of a social theory requires a good grasp of major historical political and cultural challenges that contribute to its making Considering these issues Markov explores Serge Moscovici's theory of social representations and communication as a case study in the making of a dialogical social theory She analyses both the undeveloped features and the forward moving inspirational highlights of the theory and presents them as a resource for linking issues and problems from diverse domains and disciplines This dialogical approach has the potential to advance the dyad Self Other as an irreducible intellectual ethical and aesthetic unit in epistemologies of the human and social sciences
