from the earliest surviving human symbolism of fertility and the hunt to the Jewish bris and the clitoridectomies given to young girls in parts of Africa The book also explores how cultural practices influence gene selection and makes a connection with the natural sciences by exploring how color perception influences the human proclivity to create blood symbols and rituals Word of the Law D.R. Klinck,1992-05-15 We Share Walls Katherine E. Hoffman,2008-04-15 We Share Walls Language Land and Gender in Berber Morocco explores how political economic shifts over the last century have reshaped the language practices and ideologies of women and men in the plains and mountains of rural Morocco Offers a unique and richly textured ethnography of language maintenance and shift as well as language and place making among an overlooked Muslim group Examines how Moroccan Berbers use language to integrate into the Arab speaking world and retain their own distinct identity Illuminates the intriguing semiotic and gender issues embedded in the culture Part of the Blackwell Studies in Discourse and Culture Series Old English Philology Leonard Neidorf,Rafael J. Pascual,T. A. Shippey,2016 Essays bringing out the crucial importance of philology for understanding Old English texts North American Contributions to the History of Linguistics Francis P. Dinneen,E. F. K. Koerner,1990-01-01 This volume unites papers given by members of the North American Association for the History of the Language Sciences NAAHoLS at meetings held in Washington D C in March and December 1989 respectively They represent the scope and breadth of interest of North American scholars in this growing field ranging from linguistic concepts ideas and theories in the Classical Greek and Roman period to developments in grammatical theory and sociolinguistics in the second half of the 20th century and from the study of American Indian languages in the 17th through the present century and the philosophy of language from Aristotle to John Locke to F B Skinner and Chomsky A detailed Index of Authors including life dates rounds off the volume The text of this volume has also been published in Historiographia Linguistica XVII 1 2 Phonological Studies Roman Jakobson,2012-01-02 No detailed description available for Phonological Studies Linguistic Worldview(s) Adam Głaz,2021-10-01 This book explores the concept of linguistic worldview which is underpinned by the underlying idea that languages in their lexicogrammatical structures and patterns of usage encode interpretations of reality that symbolize shape and construct speakers cultural experience The volume traces the development of the linguistic worldview conception from its origins in ancient Greece to 20th century linguistic relativity Western ethnosemantics parallel movements in eastern Europe and contemporary inquiry into languacultures It outlines the important theoretical issues surveys the major approaches and identifies areas of both convergence and discrepancy between them By proposing three sample analyses the book highlights the relevant questions addressed in different but compatible models as well as identifies possible avenues of their further development Finally it considers several domains of potential interest to the linguistic worldview agenda Because inquiry into linguistic worldviews concerns the sphere of the symbolic and the cultural it touches upon the very essence of human lives This book will be of interest to scholars working in cultural linguistics ethnolinguistics linguistic anthropology comparative semantics and translation studies The Gita within Walden Paul Friedrich, 2008-10-22 This book explores and interprets the myriad connections between two spiritual classics Henry David Thoreau's Walden and the Bhagavad Gita. Evidence shows that Thoreau took the Gita with him when he moved to Walden Pond and the books have much in common touching on ultimate ethical and metaphysical questions. Paul Friedrich looks at how each work speaks to fundamental problems of good and evil, self and cosmos, duty and passion, reality and illusion, political engagement and philosophical meditation, sensuous wildness and ascetic devotion. His examination moves through several stages from an analysis of key symbols such as the upside down tree to an exposition of social, ethical and metaphysical values to a consideration of the many sources of these syncretic works. This book should be of lively interest to those concerned with the origins of Indian and American thought, activism and poetry.

Professing Linguistic Historiography E.F.K. Koerner, 1995-11-24 The volume brings together recent papers by the author selected to form a broad picture of his teachings, all of them revised and updated, either addressing particular topics in the Historiography of Linguistics Part I or offering historical accounts of linguistic subfields Part II. Death, Beauty, Struggle Margaret Trawick, 2017-06-13 Death, Beauty, Struggle contains an original vision of gendered lives, poetry, devotion and social hierarchy in Tamil Nadu.

Code-Switching in Conversation Peter Auer, 2013-07-04 Code Switching, the alternating use of two or more languages in conversation, has become an increasingly topical and important field of research. Now available in paperback, Code Switching in Conversation brings together contributions from a wide variety of sociolinguistics settings in which the phenomenon is observed. It addresses not only the structure and the function but also the ideological values of such bilingual behaviour. The contributors question many views of code switching on the empirical basis of many European and non-European contexts. By bringing together linguistics, anthropological and socio-psychological research, they move towards a more realistic conception of bilingual conversation action.

Peaks of Yemen I Summon Steven C. Caton, 1990-12-11 In this first full-scale ethnographic study of Yemeni tribal poetry, Steven Caton reveals an astonishingly rich folkloric system where poetry is both a creation of art and a political and social act. Almost always spoken or chanted, Yemeni tribal poetry is cast in an idiom considered colloquial and ungrammatical yet admired for its wit and spontaneity. In Yemeni society the poet has power over people. By eloquence the poet can stir or if his poetic talents are truly outstanding, motivate an audience to do his bidding. Yemeni tribesmen think in fact that poetry's transformative effect is too essential not to use for pressing public issues. Drawing on his three years of field research in North Yemen Caton illustrates the significance of poetry in Yemeni society by analyzing three verse genres and their use in weddings war mediations and political discourse on the state Moreover Caton provides the first anthropology of poetics Challenging Western cultural assumptions that political poetry can rarely rise above doggerel Caton develops a model of poetry as cultural practice To compose a poem is to construct oneself as a peacemaker as a warrior as a Muslim Thus the poet engages in constitutive social practice Because of its highly interdisciplinary approach this book will interest a wide range of readers including anthropologists linguists folklorists literary critics and scholars of Middle Eastern society language and culture

Varieties of Questions in English Conversation Elizabeth G. Weber,1993-01-01 This book examines relations which hold between morphosyntactic form and communicative function in discourse by examining form function correlations of noninterrogative questions in ordinary English conversation So called nontypical declarative and nonclausal questions are identified functionally The role morphosyntax plays in the production and interpretation of these forms as doing questioning is then considered Speakers are shown to use specific patterns of morphosyntactic marking to enable recipients to interpret noninterrogatives as functional questions Explanations for morphosyntactic patterns found in the data are stated in terms of discourse use

Reading the Written Image Christopher Collins,1991 Reading the Written Image is a study of the imagination as it is prompted by the verbal cues of literature Since every literary image is also a mental image a representation of an absent entity Collins contends that imagination is a poesis a making up an act of play for both author and reader The willing suspension of disbelief which Coleridge said constitutes poetic faith therefore empowers and directs the reader to construct an imagined world in which particular hypotheses are proposed and demonstrated Although the imagination as a central concept in poetics emerges into critical debate only in the eighteenth century it has been a crucial issue for over two millennia in religious philosophical and political discourse The two recognized alternative methodologies in the study of literature the poetic and the hermeneutic are opposed on the issue of the written image poets and readers feel free to imagine while hermeneuts feel obliged to specify the meanings of images and failing that to minimize the importance of imagery Recognizing this problem Collins proposes that reading written texts be regarded as a performance a unique kind of play that transposes what had once been an oral dramatic situation onto an inner imaginary stage He applies models drawn from the psychology of play to support his theory that reader response is essentially a poietic response to a rule governed set of ludic cues

Reterritorializing Linguistic Landscapes David Malinowski,Stefania Tufi,2020-01-23 A historically spatially and methodologically rich sub field of sociolinguistics Linguistic Landscapes LL is a rapidly evolving area of research and study With contributions by an international team of experts from the USA Europe the UK South Africa Israel Hong Kong and Colombia this volume is a cutting edge interdisciplinary account of the most recent theoretical and empirical developments in this area It covers both the conceptual tools and methodologies used to define and question and case studies of real world phenomena to showcase Linguistic Landscapes methods in action Divided into four parts chapters bring into dialogue themes relating to reterritorialization practices and the productive nature of boundaries and spaces This book considers the contemporary challenges facing the field the politics and processes of identifying and demarcating sites of research and the ethics and pedagogical applications of LL research With comprehensive lists of further reading extended discussion questions and suggestions for independent research at the end of each chapter this is an essential reference work for all LL scholars and students who wish to keep abreast of the current state of the art
