Orcutt-Gachiri, 2022-08-23 It is a feature of the twenty first century that world languages are displacing local languages at an alarming rate transforming social relations and complicating cultural transmission in the process This language shift the gradual abandonment of minority languages in favor of national or international languages is often in response to inequalities in power signaling a pressure to conform to the political and economic structures represented by the newly dominant languages In its most extreme form language shift can result in language death and thus the permanent loss of traditional knowledge and lifeways To combat this indigenous and scholarly communities around the world have undertaken various efforts from archiving and lexicography to the creation of educational and cultural programs What works in one community however may not work in another Indeed while the causes of language endangerment may be familiar the responses to it depend on highly specific local conditions and opportunities In keeping with this premise the editors of this volume insist that to understand language endangerment researchers and communities must come to understand what is happening to the speakers not just what is happening to the language The eleven case studies assembled here strive to fill a gap in the study of endangered languages by providing much needed sociohistorical and ethnographic context and thus connecting specific language phenomena to larger national and international issues The goal is to provide theoretical and methodological tools for researchers and organizers to best address the specific needs of communities facing language endangerment The case studies here span regions as diverse as Kenya Siberia Papua New Guinea Mexico Venezuela the United States and Germany The volume includes a foreword by linguistic anthropologist Jane Hill and an afterword by poet and linguist Ofelia Zepeda Linguistics of the Himalayas and Beyond Roland Bielmeier, Felix Haller, 2011-05-12 The approximately 250 languages of the Tibeto Burman family are spoken by 65 million speakers in ten different countries including Pakistan India Nepal Bhutan Burma and China Tibet They are characterized by a fascinating linguistic historical and cultural diversity The languages spoken in the Himalayas on their southern slopes and on the high Tibetan plateau in the north constitute the core of this diversity Thus the 21 papers mainly deal with these languages and some go even beyond to the area of the Blue Lake in northern Amdo and to southern Kham within linguistic Tibet The ten papers dedicated to Tibetan linguistic studies offer approaches to the phonological analysis of Balti to labial place assimilation perfective stem renovation and stem alternation connected with verbal valence in Amdo Tibetan to directional markers in Tokpe Gola in northeastern Nepal to secondary verb constructions in Kham Tibetan to narrative texts in Dzongkha to case marking patterns in various Tibetan dialects and to language history of Tibetan in general Other papers deal with deictic patterns and narratives in western Himalayan Kinnauri and with the classification of neighbouring Bunan With the Tamangic languages of northern Nepal the relationship between vowels and consonants and the development of demonstratives and plural markers are addressed A further paper investigates the genetic relationship between Dzala and Dakpa two East Bodish languages and another one case marking in Rabha and Manipuri in northeastern India With the Kiranti languages Sampang Limbu Chaurasia and Sunwar in eastern Nepal questions of accent pronominally marked determiners subclassification and language shift are discussed The impressive selection of languages and linguistic topics dealt with in this book underlines the diversity of the Tibeto Burman languages in Central and South Asia and highlights their place within present day linguistic research The results achieved by leading experts are remarkable in general and the book is of interest to linguists anthropologists and geographers Language, Culture and Identity - Signs of Life Vera da Silva Sinha, Ana Moreno-Núñez, Zhen Tian, 2020-04-30 The dynamics of language culture and identity are a major focus for many linguists and cognitive and cultural researchers This book explores the inextricable connection that language has with cultural identity and cultural practices with a particular emphasis on how they contribute to shaping personal identity The volume brings together selected peer reviewed papers from the 7th International Conference on Language Culture and Mind with other specially commissioned chapters Like the conference this book aims to enhance mutual understanding among researchers from diverse disciplinary and theoretical perspectives offering a wealth of insights to a wide range of readers on recent culturally oriented cognitive studies of language Insights from Practices in Community-Based Research Shannon T. Bischoff, Carmen Jany, 2018-03-19 Free Access in January 2019 There has been an increasing interest in the emerging subfield within linguistics and anthropology often referred to as community based research Himmelmann 1998 Rice 2010 Crippen and Robinson 2013 among others This volume brings together perspectives from academics community members and those that find themselves in both academia and the community The volume begins with a working definition of the notions of community based research as a practice and illustrates how such notions shifted without abandoning the outlined tenets within the working definition as the chapters developed to include notions of community based research as a tool and ideology as well as an orientation Each of the 17 chapters represents a case study with the first five including discussions of broader issues and theoretical perspectives while exploring community based research as an emerging subfield within linguistics The case studies comprise work from the Americas Australia India Europe and Africa The goal of the volume is to build on the emerging literature and practices in the field to arrive at a better understanding of how community based research is theorized and practiced in a variety of environments communities and cultures Linguistics ,2006 Aboriginal Peoples and Birds in Australia Philip A.
