Language Of Advertising:

The Language of Advertising Guy Cook, 2008 The Language of Advertising Angela Goddard, 2002 Drawing on literary and linguistic theory for analysis of texts this book covers all aspects of advertising language from the interrelation of language image and layout to the discourse between reader and advertisement The Language of Advertising and T.V. Commercials A. R. Fatihi, 1991 The Language of Advertising Guy W. D. Cook, 2007 The Discourse of Advertising Guy Cook, 2001 This second edition considers advertising in the context of current changes in communication All chapters have been fully revised and updated and substantial new material has been added The social functions and aesthetic effects of advertisements are comprehensively analysed across a wide range of media from billboards to email and the Internet Controversially advertisements are contrasted and compared with literary texts throughout The book clearly explains relevant concepts from semiotics poetics and linguistics and can serve as an introduction to all of these disciplines Practical exercises to stimulate further discussion are included at the end of each chapter The Language of Advertising and Merchandising in English David P. Rein, 1982 Advertising Language Keiko Tanaka, 2005-07-05 Keiko Tanaka offers an analysis of the linguistic devices that are used in advertisements looking at the strategems which advertisers employ to gain and retain the attention of their audience Using relevance theory as a framework she sets out its key aspects and applies them to the language of written advertising in Britain and Japan Particular emphasis is placed on covert communication puns and metaphors and the book contains a unique chapter on images of women in Japanese advertising It is fully illustrated throughout with recent contrasting advertisements drawn from the two countries The book provides a compelling analysis of the language of advertising and an exploration of Relevance Theory that will be of interest to scholars in many fields

To what Extent is Advertising Language a 'Sondersprache'? Jil Hoeser, 2016-02-26 Essay from the year 2016 in the subject German Studies Linguistics grade 2.7 University College London language English abstract Advertising happens in a lot of areas of life such as politics or charity and it almost every time happens by means of a specific use of language Exactly this specific use of the language in advertising will be the main focus of the following essay and we are going to ask if advertising language can be seen as a Sondersprache After providing a general definition of advertising and analysing its different techniques to influence peoples behaviour we will deal with the linguistic characteristics Finally after exposing the linguistic features of advertising we shall analyse whether advertising language could be seen as a Sondersprache Nowadays we encounter advertising like Saturn Geiz ist geil in the most different forms in our everyday life Whether it is on flyers on the radio or on the television everywhere we look advertising is flooding us We hear a specific melody coming from the radio and we know what product is meant we see a little green crocodile in the left corner of a t shirt and we directly know what brand it is from At this stage these two examples show us to what extent advertising is surrounding us What is more we can already observe a first tendency advertising is not only using language but it is also playing our minds with pictures and music Most people link this term only to commercial and product advertising but that definition is far too tight The Language of Persuasion in Advertising. A Corpus-based Critical Discourse Analysis Seda Evirgen,2021-05-04 Master s Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1 0 Justus Liebig University Giessen language English abstract The thesis at hand puts a special emphasis on the use of persuasive language in online native advertisements from The New York Times After careful examination the corpus will be compiled of three native advertisements from the field of technology by the sponsors Intel Dropbox and Slack The limitation to these native advertisements and persuasive linguistic devices and techniques was necessary with regard to the scope of this thesis As no linguistic analysis of native advertisements could be found there also was no reference to follow Therefore the thesis at hand lays the foundation for further research in this area The aim is to conduct a corpus based Critical Discourse Analysis in order to investigate and answer two main questions 1 Do online native advertisements make use of the same persuasion methods as previously researched for other advertising types 2 What are the most prominent persuasive linguistic devices and techniques in the online native advertisements from The New York Times In addition to the CDA the corpus based approach is expected to provide quantitative evidence of the existence of discourse and to identify repetitive linguistic patterns of persuasive language use in native advertising The thesis will be structured as follows First the theoretical framework provides general information about the functions and characteristics of advertising while further focusing on native advertisement and the language of advertising It continues with explaining the concept of persuasive language on the basis of ethos logos and pathos and introduces some powerful persuasive techniques in advertisement Further linguistic devices of persuasive language on the phonetic lexical morphological and syntactic level will be defined Additionally the concept of Critical Discourse Analysis will be explained in detail as the thesis at hand follows the CDA framework of Fairclough The data collection method and data analysis procedure will be outlined in Chapter 3 This is followed by an analysis of three online native advertisements from the publisher The New York Times After the analysis the results will be presented and evaluated in order to assess the hypothesis Finally the conclusion provides a summary of the findings and suggests further research opportunities The language of advertising Pia Maria Eberle,2003 Sold on Language Julie Sedivy,Greg Carlson,2011-05-03 As citizens of capitalist free market societies we tend to celebrate choice and competition However in the 21st century as we have gained more and more choices we have also become greater targets for persuasive messages from advertisers who want to make those choices for us In Sold on Language noted language scientists Julie Sedivy and Greg Carlson examine how rampant competition shapes the ways in which commercial and political advertisers speak to us In an environment saturated with information advertising messages attempt to compress as much persuasive power into as small a linguistic space as possible These messages the authors reveal might take the form of a brand name whose sound evokes a certain impression a turn of phrase that gently applies peer pressure or a subtle accent that zeroes in on a target audience As more and more techniques of persuasion are aimed squarely at the corner of our mind which automatically takes in information without conscious thought or deliberation does endless choice actually mean the end of true choice Sold on Language offers thought provoking insights into the choices we make as consumers and citizens and the choices that are increasingly being made for us Click here for more discussion and debate on the authors blog <http://www.psychologytoday.com/blog/sold-language> Wiley disclaims all responsibility and liability for the content of any third party websites that can be linked to from this website Users assume sole responsibility for accessing third party websites and the use of any content appearing on such websites Any views expressed in such websites are the views of the authors of the content appearing on those websites and not the views of Wiley or its affiliates nor do they in any way represent an endorsement by Wiley or its affiliates
