Modern Chinese Parts of Speech Guo Rui,2019-03-04 What is the essence of a part of speech Why is it difficult to classify parts of speech What are the bases and criteria for classifying them How should they be classified In doing so how should a conversational word be dealt with How should nominalization be treated These are just some of the questions answered in this book The classification of parts of speech in Chinese is a tough job due to the language s lack of morphological differences Based on the analysis of nearly 40 000 Chinese characters this book proposes that essentially a part of speech is not of distributional type and that its intrinsic basis is an expressional function and the semantic type Essentially large categories such as substantive words predicate words and modification words are classes of words classified according to their expressional functions Basic categories such as nouns verbs and adjectives are classes that combine semantic types with syntactical functions In classifying parts of speech the book pays attention not to identifying a single distributive characteristic that is internally universal and externally exclusive but to clustering the grammatical functions that have the same classification value through the reflection representation relationship among distribution expressional function and semantic type distribution reflects expressional function and semantic type which are in turn represented as distribution thereby identifying the classification criteria It uses distributional compatibility and the correlation principle to analyze which distributional differences represent differences in parts of speech and which do not In this way grammatical functions that have equal classification values are collected into one equivalent function cluster each of which represents one part of speech The book uses four strategies to classify parts of speech namely the homogeneity strategy the homomorphical strategy the priority homomorphical strategy and the consolidation strategy It will be a valuable reference for Chinese linguistic researchers and students as well as Chinese learners

New Method Chinese Jenwei Kuo,Judy Chen,Lihua Zhang,2014-06-19 The Lingual TM Learning Content Creation System is an innovative system that compares students native language X e g English and the target language Y e g Mandarin The Lingual TM

Learning Content Creation System finds the similarity and difference Delta between the two languages in the areas such as vowel consonant intonation syllable grammar structure number system usage etc and presents the results in a systematic manner as illustrated in the book The more similar X is to Y the less effort is required of the students to absorb the difference As a result Lingual TM Learning Content Creation System places students in a familiar and comprehensible environment making the acquisition of a new language much easier faster and inspiring more confidence Learning English and Chinese as Foreign Languages Wen-Chuan Lin,2019-09-19 Learning English and Chinese is becoming increasingly important to the prospects of young people This book compares English as a Foreign Language teaching in Taiwan with Chinese as a Foreign Language education in England in order to highlight how classroom activities are embedded within multiple settings including ethnic or other social group cultures family and community resources and school visions or goals The book illustrates how in Taiwan different ethnic groups recognise access and value English language learning to varying extents Its findings illuminate why some ethnic groups are highly motivated to learn English and are able to gain privileged economic positions in the job market In England access to Chinese is marked by social class and the book argues that this could augment an educational apartheid that already exists in language teaching in secondary schools thereby exacerbating existing inequality Routledge Handbook of Chinese Gender & Sexuality Jamie J. Zhao,Hongwei Bao,2024-04-09 This Handbook offers a rich survey of topics concerning historical modern and contemporary Chinese genders and sexualities Exploring gender and sexuality as key dimensions of China s modernisation and globalisation this Handbook effectively situates Chinese gender and sexuality in transnational and transcultural contexts It also spotlights nonnormative practices and emancipatory potentials within mainstream heterosexual dominated and patriarchally structured settings It serves as a definitive study research and resource guide for emerging gender and sexuality issues in the Chinese speaking world This Handbook covers interdisciplinary methodologies perspectives and topics including History Literature Art Fashion Migration Translation Sex and desire Film and television Digital media Star and fan cultures Fantasies and lives of women and LGBTQ groups Social movements Transnational feminist and queer politics Paying acute attention to nonnormative genders and sexualities and emphasising the intersectionality of gender sexuality nationality ethnicity and class this Handbook offers an essential field defining text to Chinese gender and sexuality studies The Chinese Geography of Ordinary Security Tianyang Liu,Zhenjie Yuan,2025-02-24 This book explores the geographies of in security for ordinary Chinese It advocates for a critical examination of the geography of Chinese school violence arguing that schools are not simply containers for state policy but active channels through which spatial securitization and everyday violence converge By analyzing the pervasive fear in schools the analysis unravels the spatial dimensions of violence its landscape continuum and social support networks The narrative then shifts to public hospital spaces in China arguing that local forms of hospital violence known as Yi Nao transforms these institutions into battlegrounds for moral and political resources Contesting parties include patients Yi Nao gangs medical professionals government agencies and hospital administration The final section demystifies security as applied to graves often distanced from our daily existence by adapting the cultural and spatial tenets of Feng Shui It sheds light on the pursuit of Feng Shui defined security during burial site selection and related conflicts in rural China This study offers a compelling and vivid study of the ways that Chinese engage with their built environment and will interest scholars of Asia of geography and of politics

American Modernist Poetry and the Chinese Encounter Z. Yuejun,S. Christie,2012-10-31 American Modernist Poetry and the Chinese Encounter offers a framework for understanding the variety of imagined encounters by eight different American poets with their imagined Chinese subject The method is historical and materialist insofar as the contributors to the volume read the claims of specific poems alongside the actual and tumultuous changes China faced between 1911 and 1979 Even where specific poems are found to be erroneous the contributors to the volume suggest that each of the poets attempted to engage their Chinese subject with a degree of commitment that presaged imaginatively China s subsequent dominance The poems stand as unique artifacts via proxy and in the English language for the rise of China in the American imagination The audience of the volume is international including the growing number of scholars and graduate students in Chinese universities working on American literature and comparative cultural studies as well as already established commentators and students in the west
