Epistemic Fluency and Professional Education Lina Markauskaite, Peter Goodyear, 2016-09-21 This book by combining sociocultural material cognitive and embodied perspectives on human knowing offers a new and powerful conceptualisation of epistemic fluency a capacity that underpins knowledgeable professional action and innovation Using results from empirical studies of professional education programs the book sheds light on practical ways in which the development of epistemic fluency can be recognised and supported in higher education and in the transition to work The book provides a broader and deeper conception of epistemic fluency than previously available in the literature Epistemic fluency involves a set of capabilities that allow people to recognize and participate in different ways of knowing Such people are adept at combining different kinds of specialised and context dependent knowledge and at reconfiguring their work environment to see problems and solutions anew In practical terms the book addresses the following kinds of questions What does it take to be a productive member of a multidisciplinary team working on a complex problem What enables a person to integrate different types and fields of knowledge indeed different ways of knowing in order to make some well founded decisions and take actions in the world What personal knowledge resources are entailed in analysing a problem and describing an innovative solution such that the innovation can be shared in an organization or professional community How do people get better at these things and how can teachers in higher education help students develop these valued capacities The answers to these questions are central to a thorough understanding of what it means to become an effective knowledge worker and resourceful professional

The Subjective Eye Richard Valantasis, Deborah J. Haynes, James D. Smith, Janet F. Carlson, 2006-05-15 One of the great joys of the academic life is to pay homage in a Festschrift to a scholar who has influenced both colleagues and students over years of interaction and friendship both professional and personal This volume honors a scholar and theologian of historical theology a theorist and a practitioner of religion and the arts and a keen analyst of cultural trends both ancient and modern Margaret R Miles s prodigious production as a scholar has legendary qualities Her dozen plus books alone explore history patristics ancient philosophy art and art history spiritual formation and religious practice critical theory film ethics and values personal growth gender and women s studies as well as her true academic loves Augustine and Plotinus The breadth and depth of her own work and her influence upon others demands an expansive volume which the editors of this Festschrift unfortunately had to restrict to four categories Historical Theology Religion and Culture Religion and Gender and Religion and the Visual Arts in order to capture the heart of our appreciation for her from the Introduction

Understanding Art Education through the Lens of Threshold Concepts Matthew Ravenstahl, 2021-12-13 This is an important book on the value of art education and the nature of having the affective dimension at the core of the visual art learning environment. The case studies are powerful and varied, providing an unapologetic view of the transformative impact such learning environments can have upon students and the epistemic value of engagement in the visual arts. Moreover, the case studies speak to an emotional level of the reader. The author provides a digestible theoretical support for understanding the journey these students have undergone, which can empower educators to rethink their existing pedagogy.
