The English Bowman in the Hundred Years War M J Trow,2025-10-30 They were often half starved marching through an alien land with few signposts and no maps They were often suffering from dysentery their legwear rolled down and they sometimes fought naked from the waist down They were paid 6d a day the same as a civilian craftsman and they swore like the troopers they were That was why the French called them the Goddamns and king and peasant alike were terrified of them With their yew wood bows and ash arrows a clothyard long they were the victors in countless clashes during the Hundred Years War and in the three great battles of Crecy Poitiers and Agincourt They robbed pillaged raped and murdered often in their king s name Yet they won battles and it is no exaggeration to say that England became a powerful nation state because of them If they were caught in action by the enemy they would have their bow fingers cut off and their throats slit We know the names of very few of them They were not worthy of ransom unlike the knights they fought for Most of them ended up in mass burial pits or some unmarked plot beside a French road The vast majority was illiterate so we have no firsthand accounts of their campaigns from the bowmen themselves For all they won battles and renown for all they helped indirectly to increase the power of the common man they are like ghosts drifting over the battlefield They were the bowmen The Archers' Magazine ,1952 American Empire Neil Smith,2004-10-29 Annotation American Empire challenges our deepest assumptions about the rise of American globalism in the twentieth century and puts geography back into the History of what is called the American Century Daimyō William Morell,1983 From Eve to Evolution Kimberly A. Hamlin,2014-05-08 From Eve to Evolution provides the first full length study of American women s responses to evolutionary theory and illuminates the role science played in the nineteenth century women's rights movement Kimberly A Hamlin reveals how a number of nineteenth century women raised on the idea that Eve's sin forever fixed women's subordinate status embraced Darwinian evolution especially sexual selection theory as explained in The Descent of Man as an alternative to the creation story in Genesis Hamlin chronicles the lives and writings of the women who combined their enthusiasm for evolutionary science with their commitment to women's rights including Antoinette Brown Blackwell Eliza Burt Gamble Helen Hamilton Gardener Charlotte Perkins Gilman and Elizabeth Cady Stanton These Darwinian feminists believed evolutionary science proved that women were not inferior to men that it was natural for mothers to work outside the home and that women should control reproduction The practical applications of this evolutionary feminism came to fruition Hamlin shows in the early thinking and writing of the American birth control pioneer Margaret Sanger Much scholarship has been dedicated to analyzing what Darwin and other male evolutionists had to say about women but very little has been written regarding what women themselves had to say about evolution From Eve to Evolution adds much needed female voices to the vast literature on Darwin in America
