The Battle of Marathon Earle Rice,2011-09-15 Late in the summer of 490 BCE a Persian invasion force landed on Grecian shores at the Bay of Marathon At the command of King Darius I the invaders aimed to punish the Athenians for their role against the Persian king s forces in the Ionian Revolt a few years earlier The outnumbered Athenians called on nearby Sparta for help but their sister city state delayed sending troops because of an ongoing religious festival Faced with a decision whether to fight a defensive holding battle while awaiting help from Sparta or to attack the invaders right away the Athenians elected to attack With the help of some 1 000 warriors from neighboring Plataea about 10 000 Athenians charged a Persian army of at least twice their numbers on the Field of Marathon By day s end the Athenians and their allies had thrust open the doorway to Greece s Golden Age

American Swineherd, Published Monthly in the Interests of Swine Raising ,1921 Neither The Biggest Or Best Graham Thomas,2023-12-31 Mostly when we read stories about advertising in the media or in books they concentrate on the big names of the business whether advertisers and their brands agencies or people Yet while they sit at the undoubted glamorous end of the spectrum picking up creative awards and with tales of off screen outr antics to spill they represent only the tip of the iceberg in terms of numbers Under the waterline most of the smaller ad agencies were independent a few were the regional subsidiaries of the biggest agencies Saatchi Dorlands JWT McCanns Royds and Streets all had offices in

Manchester for example a few were also second string agencies in London set up by the main agency for a variety of reasons specialist agencies that worked in recruitment finance corporate and business to business advertising for example or to handle conflicting accounts or clients that were too small for the main agency to handle profitably But as Campaign once wrote there is a stigma attached to these agencies They were still are seen as second class and on the fringes of the business Rarely did they act as feeder agencies for talent unlike journalism where many leading journalists started their careers on local newspapers before ending up on Fleet Street Even the Chairman of JWT Manchester admitted in the early 80s that Northern advertising people have a bit of a complex about their London counterparts All regional agencies are in danger of being a bit provincial in their outlook This volume looks at those agencies mainly through a diary written in the late 1970s This gives a vivid truthful warts and or portrayal of what life was like in the tail end of the advertising business

Surrender Invites Death John A. English, 2011-02-09 What it was like to fight Hitler s ideological troops in Normandy starting on D Day June 6 1944 Leading High Performance Murray Eldridge, 2014-01-02 How to develop high performance in any organization using the principles that drive success in sports coaching In many respects business organisations reflect team sports They both require people to operate in complex and highly competitive environments Both environments require people not only to be the best they can be individually but to cooperate closely over time to secure long term winning performance In sport coaches are intimately involved in developing athletes squads and teams and bring an impressive array of technology and wide ranging expertise to bear on all aspects of high performance development There is much that business especially leaders can learn from coaches and sport Leading High Performance takes those elements of sports coaching that are relevant to business and shows how the principles of coaching sports science training and even psychology offer tremendous opportunities for achieving high performance in all organisations It looks at ways in which high performance is achieved in sport and describes using examples how this approach develops individuals encouraging them towards high performance It then analyses the most relevant ideas and techniques converting them into easily applicable business models and tools Murray Eldridge is a businessman with 40 years experience of international industry where he has run a variety of international companies in the shipping oil gas water and telecoms industries He also lectures on Leadership and Strategy and related subjects Murray is a member of several professional bodies a Chartered Director of the Institute of Directors and holds an MBA He is a qualified practising rowing coach and a keen sailor On War and Writing Samuel Hynes, 2018-02-27 In our imaginations war is the name we give to the extremes of violence in our lives the dark dividing opposite of the connecting myth which we call love War enacts the great antagonisms of history the agonies of nations but it also offers metaphors for those other antagonisms the private battles of our private lives our conflicts with one another and with the world and with ourselves Samuel Hynes knows war personally he served as a Marine Corps pilot in the Pacific Theater during World War II receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross He has spent his life balancing two careers pilot and professor of literature Hynes has written a number of major works of literary criticism as well as a war memoir Flights of Passage and several books about the World Wars His writing is sharp lucid and has provided some of the most expert detailed and empathetic accounts of a disappearing generation of fighters and writers On War and Writing offers for the first time a selection of Hynes's essays and introductions that explore the traditions of war writing from the twentieth century to the present Hynes takes as a given that war itself the battlefield uproar of actual combat is unimaginable for those who weren't there yet we have never been able to turn away from it We want to know what war is really like for a soldier on the Somme a submariner in the Pacific a bomber pilot over Germany a tank commander in the Libyan desert To learn we turn again and again to the memories of those who were there and to the imaginations of those who weren't but are poets or filmmakers or painters who give us a sense of these experiences that we can't possibly know The essays in this book range from the personal Hynes's experience working with documentary master Ken Burns his recollections of his own days as a combat pilot to the critical explorations of the works of writers and artists such as Thomas Hardy E E Cummings and Cecil Day Lewis What we ultimately see in On War and Writing is not military history not the plans of generals but the feelings of war as young men expressed them in journals and poems and old men remembered them in later years men like Samuel Hynes
