Louis MacNeice and the Irish Poetry of His Time Tom Walker, 2015 Louis MacNeice and the Irish Poetry of his Time draws on new archival research to suggest ways in which MacNeice s poetry is closely linked to contemporaneous developments in Irish literature and culture

The Cambridge Companion to British Poetry, 1945-2010 Edward Larrissy, 2016 This Companion brings together sixteen essays that explore the full diversity of British poetry since the Second World War Focusing on famous and neglected names alike from Dylan Thomas to John Agard leading scholars provide readers with insight into the ongoing importance and profundity of post war poetry

The Etymological Poetry of W. H. Auden, J. H. Prynne, and Paul Muldoon Mia Gaudern, 2020-07-10 This book defines analyses and theorises a late modern etymological poetry that is alive to the past lives of its words and probes the possible significance of them both explicitly and implicitly Close readings of poetry and criticism by Auden Prynne and Muldoon investigate the implications of their etymological perspectives for the way their language establishes relationships between people and between people and the world These twin functions of communication and representation are shown to be central to the critical reception of etymological poetry which is a category of difficult poetry However resonant poetic etymologising may be critics warn that it shows the poet s natural interest in language degenerating into an unhealthy obsession with the dictionary It is unavoidably pedantic in the post Saussurean era to entertain the idea that a word's history might have any relevance to its current use. As such, etymological poetry elicits the closest of close readings, thus encouraging readers to reflect not only on its own pedantry, obscurity, and virtuosity but also on how these qualities function in criticism. As well as presenting a new way of reading three very different late modern poet-critics, this book addresses an understudied aspect of the relationship between poetry and criticism. Its findings are situated in the context of literary debates about difficulty and diction and in larger cultural conversations about the workings of language as a historical event.

Louis MacNeice and the Poetry of the 1930s Richard Danson Brown, 2009. This study investigates Louis MacNeice in two major central strands: exploring MacNeice's ambiguous positioning as an Irish poet and the self-consciousness in his writing.

Poets of Modern Ireland Neil Corcoran, 1999. In Poets of Modern Ireland Text Context Intertext, Neil Corcoran discusses the work of Seamus Heaney, Derek Mahon, Michael Longley, Austin Clarke, Padraic Fallon, Louis MacNeice, and Ciaran Carson, constructing a critical account of the poets' work and putting it in the context of the contemporary debate surrounding their work. The contexts and intertexts Corcoran establishes for the study include the contentious debate between nationalist and revisionist criticism; the relationship between Irish and American poetry; the writing of place and its political significance; the focus on sexuality and eroticism; the persistence of religious impulse or theological content; the Irish language and the preoccupation with forms of translation and the foregrounding of textuality, which has affinities with and may be usefully interpreted in relation to some postmodern literary and cultural theory. Poets of Modern Ireland is a major contribution to the critical reception of modern poetry and focuses upon the major issues of debate in poetry criticism in Great Britain, Ireland, and the United States.

In the Chair John Brown, 2002. All of the poets interviewed in this collection are from Northern Ireland; all were born after 1920 and each has published at least one volume of poetry. Arranged chronologically by each poet's date of birth, this collection deals with an impressive body of work. The poets include Seamus Heaney, Paul Muldoon, Michael Longley, John Montague, Derek Mahon, Ciaran Carson, as well as less known voices including Gerald Dawe, Roy McFadden, and Conor O'Callaghan. The interviews explore the poet's work and development, the social/historical context, and the impact of assimilated influences. If they explore a poetry often rooted in the North, they also suggest the individuality and diversity of this poetry of work whose imaginative range is not circumscribed by either literal borders or critically convenient categories. The other poets included are James Simmons, Tom Paulin, Frank Ormsby, Medbh McGuckian, Robert Greacen, Cathal P. Searcaigh, Colette Bryce, Moyra Donaldson, Jean Bleakney, Martin Mooney, Padraic Fiacc, and Cherry Smyth.

A History of Modern Poetry David Perkins, 1987. This study of British and American poetry from the mid 1920s to the recent past clarifies the complex interrelations of individuals, groups, and movements and the contexts in which the poets worked.

The Columbia Granger's Index to Poetry, 1994.

The Poetry of Paul Muldoon Jefferson Holdridge, 2008-08-01. The Poetry of Paul Muldoon introduces the student and general reader to the critical discussion surrounding Muldoon's oeuvre as well as to his major themes It examines the poet's meditations on culture and nature human and animal speculations on the act of perception figures fragmented by the Troubles and philosophical considerations of colonisation It then discusses what rank among the most beautiful and intricate elegies of our time For Muldoon art's complicity in suffering is a political self-indicting question which his best poems endeavour to answer If sometimes this Pulitzer Prize winner insists that art has a positive role to play at other times he fears that it merely feeds off the carnage This critical book shows how for Muldoon art should not merely repeat the devastation of the world although he is afraid that it does and engages in bitter moral despair that places his work among the very best any contemporary poet has written The Poetry of Paul Muldoon unearths difficult questions of form with a metaphysical significance that is suitable to our times Paul Muldoon and the Language of Poetry Ruben

Moi,2020-01-13 Paul Muldoon and the Language of Poetry is the first book in years that attends to the entire oeuvre of the Irish American poet critic lyricist dramatist and Princeton professor from his debut with New Weather in 1973 up to his very recent publications Ruben Moi's book explores in correspondence with language philosophy and critical debate how Muldoon's ingenious language and inventive form give shape and significance to his poetry and how his linguistic panache and technical verve keep language forever surprising new and alive Twentieth Century Poetry Peter Robinson,2005-01-06

Peter Robinson's third book of literary criticism presents a sequence of chapters exploring ways that selves and situations interact and become imaginatively identified with each other in poems Readings of works by Ezra Pound Basil Bunting Louis MacNeice W S Graham Elizabeth Bishop Allen Curnow Charles Tomlinson Mairi MacInnes Tom Raworth and Roy Fisher share an interest in how poems can be both attached to and detached from the culture society and conditions in which they were written These studies draw out and underline both the ubiquity and elusiveness of the self in the situation of the text The poems studied here are also discussed as focal points for relations between readerly and writerly selves and their situations in and over time 'Tikkun Olam' —To Mend the World Jason Goroncy,2013-12-04 Tikkun Olam To Mend the World is premised on the conviction that artists and theologians have things to learn from one another things about the complex interrelationality of life and about a coherence of things given and sustained by God The ten essays compiled in this volume seek to attend to the lives burdens and hopes that characterize human life in a world broken but unforgotten in travail but moving towards the freedom promised by a faithful Creator They reflect on whether the world wounded as it is by war by hatred by exploitation by neglect by reason and by human imagination itself can be healed Can there be repair And can art and theology tell the truth of the world's woundedness and still speak of its hope Modernism from the Margins

Chris Wigginton,2020-10-01 Modernism from the Margins is an accessible and challenging account of the 1930s writing of two of the most popular authors of the time Locating the work of Louis MacNeice and Dylan Thomas historically the book questions standard accounts of the period as Auden dominated and offers an inclusive and theoretical account of the engagement of both writers with the varieties of Modernism It is the first reading at length of either MacNeice's or Thomas's work in the light of literary theory and one of only a handful of texts to look at the writing of the 1930s in these terms This book is an important contribution to contemporary discussions of both of these writers and of the general issues of modernism postmodernism literary identity and cultural identity it raises Moral Authority in Seamus Heaney and Geoffrey Hill Bridget Vincent, 2022 Studies the work of Seamus Heaney and Geoffrey Hill to present new perspectives on the way literature communicates moral knowledge
