Face Relations:

Informality Barbara Misztal, 2002-09-11 For most of the twentieth century modernity has been characterised by the formalisation of social relations as face to face interactions are replaced by impersonal bureaucracy and finance As we enter the new millennium however it becomes increasingly clear that it is only by stepping outside these formal structures that trust and co operation can be created and social change achieved In a brilliant theoretical tour de force illustrated with sustained case studies of changing societies in the former eastern Europe and of changing forms of interaction within so called virtual communities Barbara Misztal argues that only the society that achieves an appropriate balance between the informality and formality of interaction will find itself in a position to move forward to further democratisation and an improved quality of life

Dukeman, 2019-02-22 Social Trinitarians have not been shy about positing community as the chief ontological category for Trinitarian discourse As beneficial as this is social Trinitarians have typically been less helpful in advocating the sort of human community for the Trinitarian analogy that most people would probably find desirable To use the example of a marriage one has often been forced to choose between a fully egalitarian view where the spouses supposedly have no differences from each other and a hierarchical view where a husband exercises a unilateral and oppressive power over his wife This book advocates a third alternative for the sort of community present in the Trinity Just as genuine teamwork is generally desirable in various human communities the divine persons have a mutual hierarchy relationship with each other Here each divine person has a unique hierarchy over the others and yet each uses this hierarchy to serve the others in a dignified way Recognizing this mutual hierarchy of the divine persons fosters a view of the Trinity that is maximally social in keeping with the name social Trinitarianism In proceeding thus the book attempts to in a unique way show the harmony between systematic theology exegesis and practice Contemporary Sociological Thinkers and Theories Sandro Segre,2016-05-13 This book offers a comprehensive overview of the major theoretical perspectives in contemporary sociology covering schools of thought or intellectual movements within the discipline as well as the work of individual scholars The author provides not only a rigorous exposition of each theory but also an examination of the scholarly reception of the approach in question considering both critical responses and defences in order to reach a balanced evaluation Chapters cover the following theorists and perspectives Alexander Bourdieu Ethnomethodology Exchange Theory Foucault Giddens Goffman Habermas Luhmann Merton Network and Social Capital Theory Parsons Rational Choice Theory Schutz and Phenomenalism Structuralism Symbolic Interactionism An accessible and informative treatment of the central approaches in sociology over the course of the last century this volume marks a significant contribution to sociological theory and constitutes an essential addition to library collections in the areas of the history of sociology and contemporary social theory Organizational Design for Knowledge Management Mona Ben Chouikha,2016-02-11 Information and communication technologies have increased their share of services in contemporary economic exchanges We are witnessing a transformation of modern economies characterized by a predominant role of information and knowledge in the production of wealth In order to make this intangible resource bear fruit organizations are looking for ways methods procedures processes and technical solutions to efficiently manage knowledge Within a framework of research into synergies and resource interdependence organizations also rely on strategic alliances joint venture mergers or other legal forms of association that have an impact on knowledge management This book explores the range of knowledge management techniques Naming Food After Places Dr Apostolos G Papadopoulos,Dr Maria Fonte,2012-11-28 Bringing together a range of case studies from Ireland Scotland Sweden Germany Norway Poland Italy Portugal Spain and Greece this book compares and contrasts different models of food re localization The richness and complexity of the international case studies provide a broad understanding of the characteristics of the re localization movement while the analysis of knowledge forms and dynamics provides an innovative new theoretical approach Each of the national teams work on the basis of an agreed common framework resulting in a strongly coherent and comprehensive continental overview This shows how the actors involved are pursuing their objectives in different regional and national contexts re embedding socially and ecologically the relation between food production consumption and places

The Break-up of Communism in East Germany and Eastern Europe Feiwel Kupferberg, 2016-07-27 This book presents a novel understanding of the break up of communist hegemony in East Germany and Eastern Europe Based on comparative case studies it argues that identity politics is a particular invention of communist rule producing a political citizen Focusing upon identity politics helps us better to understand the longterm stability of communist hegemony its sudden collapse the difficulties of transforming communist societies to liberal democracies and the unexpected revival of ethnic nationalist and cultural conflicts in post communist Eastern Europe

Economic Ethics and Chinese Culture Xuanmeng Yu, 1997 Animate Planet Kath Weston, 2017-01-06 In Animate Planet Kath Weston shows how new intimacies between humans animals and their surroundings are emerging as people attempt to understand how the high tech ecologically damaged world they have made is remaking them one synthetic chemical radioactive isotope and megastorm at a time Visceral sensations she finds are vital to this process which yields a new animism in which humans and the environment become thoroughly entangled In case studies on food water energy and climate from the United States India and Japan Weston approaches the new animism as both a symptom of our times and an analytic with the potential to open paths to new and forgotten ways of living

Imago Trinitatis Mark S. Medley, 2002-03-07 Imago Trinitatis contributes to the contemporary task of seeking to retrieve the central Christian symbol of the triune God It interfaces the trinitarian theology of Catherine LaCugna and new anthropological models based on women s interpreted experience of relationality offered by feminist theologians especially the vision of the post patriarchal self of Catherine Keller in order to delineate a theological conception of the human person as communion By reinterpreting imago Dei as imago Trinitatis Mark Medley offers a proposal towards claiming that a trinitarian feminist theological anthropology understands human personhood as being formed and transformed in one s personal existence to God s personal existence as persons of communion
