Made in Hong Kong Peter E. Hamilton, 2021-01-05 Between 1949 and 1997 Hong Kong transformed from a struggling British colonial outpost into a global financial capital Made in Hong Kong delivers a new narrative of this metamorphosis revealing Hong Kong both as a critical engine in the expansion and remaking of postwar global capitalism and as the linchpin of Sino U S trade since the 1970s Peter E Hamilton explores the role of an overlooked transnational Chinese elite who fled to Hong Kong amid war and revolution Despite losing material possessions these industrialists bankers academics and other professionals retained crucial connections to the United States They used these relationships to enmesh themselves and Hong Kong with the U S through commercial ties and higher education By the 1960s Hong Kong had become a manufacturing powerhouse supplying American consumers and by the 1970s it was the world s largest sender of foreign students to American colleges and universities Hong Kong s reorientation toward U S international leadership enabled its transplanted Chinese elites to benefit from expanding American influence in Asia and positioned them to act as shepherds to China s reengagement with global capitalism After China s reforms accelerated under Deng Xiaoping Hong Kong became a crucial node for China s export driven development connecting Chinese labor with the U S market Analyzing untapped archival sources from around the world this book demonstrates why we cannot understand postwar globalization China s economic rise or today s Sino U S trade relationship without centering Hong Kong

Governance for Harmony in Asia and Beyond Julia Tao,Anthony B. L. Cheung,Martin Painter,Chenyang Li,2009-12-18 Harmony has become a major challenge for modern governance in the twenty first century because of the multi religious multi racial and multi ethnic character of our increasingly globalized societies Governments all over the world are facing growing pressure to integrate the many diverse elements and subcultures which make up modern pluralistic societies This book examines the idea of harmony and its place in politics and governance both in theory and practice in Asia the West and elsewhere It explores and analyses the meanings mechanisms dimensions and methodologies of harmony as a normative political ideal in both Western and Asian philosophical traditions The book argues that in Western political thought which sees politics as primarily concerned with resolving social conflicts and protecting individual rights the concept of harmony has often been neglected In contrast since earliest times harmony or he has been a profound theme in Confucian thought and current leaders of many East Asian governments and the Chinese government have explicitly declared that the realisation of a harmonious society is their aim The book also assesses how harmony is pursued jeopardized or deformed in the real world of politics based upon empirical analysis of a variety of different cultural social and political contexts including China Hong Kong Singapore Malaysia Singapore Vietnam Denmark Latin America and the Scandinavian countries It shows how harmony as an organizing concept can help to promote new thinking in governance and overcome problems of modern day governance like distrust adversarial conflicts hyper individualism coercive state intervention and free market alienation It also discusses the potential problems posed by the pursuit of harmony in particular in the grave threat of totalitarianism and considers how these risks could best be mitigated China--Britain ,2004 Hong Kong's Reunion with China: The Global Dimensions Gerard A. Postiglione,James Tuck-Hong Tang,2016-07-01 The issues surrounding Hong Kong's global position and international links grow increasingly complex by the day as the process of Hong Kong's transformation from a British colony to a Chinese Special Administration Region unfolds. This volume addresses a number of questions relating to this process: How international is Hong Kong? What are its global and international dimensions? How important are these dimensions to its continued success? How will these dimensions change, especially beyond the sphere of economics? Is Hong Kong's internationalization defined in terms of its willingness to embrace international values and its capacity to maintain its international presence at risk? These questions are presented as they pertain to the changing situation relations between mainland China, Taiwan and Hong Kong, the positions of Australia, Canada and the United States on Hong Kong, internalization of international legal values, Americanization vs Asianization, linkages to the world through Guangdong strategies to emigrate overseas, cultural internationalization, media internationalization and universities within the global economy.

Hong Kong, China Gordon Mathews, Eric Ma, Tai-Lok Lui, 2007-08-07. The idea of national identity is an ambiguous one for Hong Kong. Returned to the national embrace of China on 1 July 1997 after 150 years as a British colony, the concept of national identity and what it means to belong to a nation is a matter of great tension and contestation in Hong Kong. Written by three academic specialists on Hong Kong, cultural identity, social history and mass media, this book explores the processes through which the people of Hong Kong are learning to belong to a nation by examining their relationship with the Chinese nation and state in the recent past, present and future. It considers the complex meanings of and debates over national identity in Hong Kong over the past fifty years and especially during the last decade following Hong Kong's return to China. It also places these arguments within a larger global perspective to ask what Hong Kong can teach us about national identity and its potential transformations. Multidisciplinary in its approach, Hong Kong and China explores national identity in terms of theory, mass media, survey data, ethnography and history and will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese history, cultural studies and nationalism.

Government and People in Hong Kong, 1841-1962 G. B. Endacott, 1964. A Glossary of Political Terms of the People's Republic of China Gucheng Li, 1995. A glossary of political terms of the People's Republic of China is a collection of 560 important and frequently used Chinese political terms and phrases that appeared between 1949 and 1990. Each entry begins with an explanation of the term and its origin, a description of how and under what circumstances the term was used and a discussion of the changes of meaning over the years as well as the political and social significance of the words.

In Camps Jana K. Lipman, 2020-06-02. Robert Ferrell Book Prize Honorable Mention 2021 Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations Book Award for Outstanding Achievement in History Honorable Mention 2022 Association for Asian American Studies. After the US war in Vietnam, close to 800,000 Vietnamese left the country by boat, survived and sought refuge throughout Southeast Asia and the Pacific. This is the story of what happened in the camps. In Camps raises key questions that remain all too relevant today: Who is a refugee? Who determines this status? And how does it change over time? From Guam to Malaysia and the Philippines to Hong Kong, In Camps is the first major work on

Vietnamese refugee policy to pay close attention to host territories and to explore Vietnamese activism in the camps and the diaspora This book explains how Vietnamese were transformed from de facto refugees to individual asylum seekers to repatriates Ambitiously covering people on the ground local governments teachers and corrections officers as well as powerful players such as the UN High Commissioner for Refugees and the US government Jana Lipman shows that the local politics of first asylum sites often drove international refugee policy Unsettling most accounts of Southeast Asian migration to the US In Camps instead emphasizes the contingencies inherent in refugee policy and experiences The Hybrid Tsinoy Juliet Lee Uytanlet,2016-06-28 The Hybrid Tsinoy is a study of hybridity and homogeneity as sociocultural constructs in the development of current ethnic identities of Chinese Filipinos This study employs a descriptive ethnographic research method to discover how they see or define themselves in terms of ethnicity Chinese Filipino or both and how their perspectives affect other aspects of their lives language marriage and family The research proposes that there are different kinds of Chinese Filipinos as evidenced in the six classifications in chapter 4 Further most of them have constructed a hybrid culture exclusively and uniquely their own On the one hand they are still attached to their cultural roots on the other hand they cannot evade the fact that they are influenced by their host country and the present global and migratory age we live in Second third and fourth generation Chinese Filipinos demonstrate their hybridity in language and mindset This dissertation also lays out some challenges in relation to doing mission among them Mass Housing Miles Glendinning,2021-03-25 Shortlisted for the Alice Davis Hitchcock Medallion 2021 The Society of Architectural Historians of Great Britain It will become the standard work on the subject Literary Review This major work provides the first comprehensive history of one of modernism's most defining and controversial architectural legacies the 20th century drive to provide homes for the people Vast programmes of mass housing high rise low rise state funded and built in the modernist style became a truly global phenomenon leaving a legacy which has suffered waves of disillusionment in the West but which is now seeing a dramatic 21st century renaissance in the booming crowded cities of East Asia Providing a global approach to the history of Modernist mass housing production this authoritative study combines architectural history with the broader social political cultural aspects of mass housing particularly the mass politics of power and state building throughout the 20th century Exploring the relationship between built form ideology and political intervention it shows how mass housing not only reflected the transnational ideals of the Modernist project but also became a central legitimizing pillar of nation states worldwide In a compelling narrative which likens the spread of mass housing to a Hundred Years War of successive campaigns and retreats it traces the history around the globe from Europe via the USA Soviet Union and a network of international outposts to its ultimate optimistic resurgence in China and the East where it asks Are we facing a new dawn for mass housing or another great housing failure in the making Social Entrepreneurship in the Greater China Region Yanto Chandra,Linda Wong,2016-03-31 This book offers the first exploration into the development of social enterprises in the Greater China region

consisting of Hong Kong Macau Taiwan and Mainland China By drawing on the research and experience of over a dozen scholars and practitioners from across the area it offers a picture of how a strong State can play an important role as a catalyst in developing the social entrepreneurship sector particularly by legitimizing it It delves into the role and impact of institutions and policy on the development of social enterprises and explains how micro and macro factors might interact in influencing social entrepreneurship Structured in two parts policy and cases it reveals the historical development of the Social enterprises sector in the Chinese context and then illustrates this using cases studies Providing an alternative view of social entrepreneurship by highlighting the importance of context in this new sector the book questions whether or not social entrepreneurship is preferable to more conventional models of development Sparking new interest and offering fresh insight into social entrepreneurship in the Greater China region this book will be useful to students and scholars of Chinese Studies Business Studies and Sociology

Social Cohesion in Greater China Ka-Ho Mok,Yeun-wen Ku,2010 This book critically examines the issues and challenges of social development faced by societies in Mainland China Taiwan and Hong Kong with particular reference to the major strategies these societies adopt to promote social cohesion and civil harmony in the context of globalization It focuses on people who have been socially marginalized by the Asian financial crisis in 1997 and examines the measures Greater China has adopted to balance economic growth with social development The book will be of interest to readers who wish to know more about societies in Mainland China and the effects of globalization
