Elise Boulding A Life In The Cause Of Peace:

Elise Boulding Mary Lee Morrison, 2015-09-15 Elise Boulding has been among the most influential of social reformers to advocate the integration of peace studies and women's studies. Her ideas inspired a number of works addressing the role of the family in producing social change and discussing women's unique capacity for promoting peace through nurturing and networking. Boulding's additional ideas on transnational networks and their relationship to global understanding are considered seminal contributions to modern peace studies and have earned her the title of matriarch of the 20th century peace movement. This biography is divided into three parts. The first and third deal chronologically with the life of Elise Boulding beginning with her childhood experiences as a Scandinavian immigrant. The 1940 Nazi invasion of Norway significantly influenced her concepts of pacifism and Quaker spiritualism, laying the foundation for her future work as a leader in the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom and her dynamic professional partnership with and marriage to the internationally known Quaker economist and poet Kenneth Boulding. Part Two expounds upon Boulding's philosophy of education, her role as a member of the Religious Society of Friends, her espousal of the conceptual evolution of cultures of peace, and her theoretical work in women's studies and peace research. In recognition of these achievements, Boulding has been the recipient of more than 19 awards and was a 1990 nominee for the Nobel Peace Prize. Some of the women may be better known than others for they are Nobel Peace Laureates. Yet each woman is equally prophetic in the bold love that creates a better world. The women represent a variety of countries and religious traditions. Yet there is a unity in the underlying spirituality of non violence that grounds each prophetic life and the loving work for human dignity, reconciliation and peace. The women are models for living in ways that transform the world.

Peace Education from the Grassroots Ian Harris, 2013-09-01 Historians often ignore the day to day struggles of ordinary people to improve their lives. They tend to focus on the accomplishments of illustrious leaders. Peace Education from the Grassroots tells the stories of concerned citizens, teachers and grassroots peace activists who have struggled to counteract high levels of violence by teaching about the sources for violence and strategies for peace. The stories told here come from the grass roots, meaning the educators are close to the forms of violence they are addressing. This collection of essays tells how citizens at the grassroots level developed peace education initiatives in thirteen different nations: Belgium, Canada, El Salvador, Germany, India, Jamaica, Japan, Mexico, the Philippines, South Korea, Spain, Uganda and the United States. A fourteenth article describes the efforts of the International Red Cross to implement a human rights curriculum to teachers on the ground in the Balkans, Iran, Senegal and the United States. These chapters describe a variety of schools, colleges, peace movement organizations, community based organizations and international nongovernmental organizations engaged in peace education.

Intelligent Compassion: Feminist Critical Methodology in the Womens International League for Peace and Freedom Catia Cecilia Confortini, 2012-08-03 The Womens International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) has a unique role in post war peace activism. It is the longest surviving international womens peace organization and one of the oldest peace organizations in the West Founded in 1915 when a group of women from neutral and belligerent nations in World War I met at The Hague to formulate proposals for ending the war WILPF sent delegations of women to several countries to plead for peace and their final resolutions are often credited with influencing Woodrow Wilson's 14 Points Today the organization counts several thousand members in 36 countries on five continents Since 1948 it has enjoyed consultative status with the UN and it was instrumental in bringing about recent United Nations Security Council Resolutions on Women Peace and Security Beginning in 1945 WILPF began identifying the limitations of its ideological foundations in relation to the international liberal order Catia Cecilia Confortini argues that this period ushered in a turn in the organizations policies and activism one that culminated in the mid 70s and served as an important antecedent to feminist activism that continues today In Intelligent Compassion she traces the organizations changing strategies and ideas over a thirty year period focusing on three key areas of its work disarmament decolonization and the conflict in Israel Palestine By analyzing the shifting ideas and policies of the longest living international womens peace organization Intelligent Compassion finds answers to IR questions about the possibility of emancipatory agency in the theoretical methodology of women peace activists and the extent to which activists can transcend the prevailing practices rules and relations of their eras The Lost Promise Ellen Schrecker, 2021-12-17 The Lost Promise is a magisterial examination of the turmoil that rocked American universities in the 1960s with a unique focus on the complex roles played by professors as well as students The 1950s through the early 1970s are widely seen as American academia's golden age when universities well funded and viewed as essential for national security economic growth and social mobility embraced an egalitarian mission Swelling in size schools attracted new types of students and professors including radicals who challenged their institutions calcified traditions But that halcyon moment soon came to a painful and confusing end with consequences that still afflict the halls of ivy In The Lost Promise Ellen Schrecker our foremost historian of both the McCarthy era and the modern American university delivers a far reaching examination of how and why it happened Schrecker illuminates how US universities explosive growth intersected with the turmoil of the 1960s fomenting an unprecedented crisis where dissent over racial inequality and the Vietnam War erupted into direct action Torn by internal power struggles and demonized by conservative voices higher education never fully recovered resulting in decades of underfunding and today's woefully inequitable system As Schrecker's magisterial history makes blazingly clear the complex blend of troubles that disrupted the university in that pivotal period haunts the ivory tower to this day Conflict Transformation Rhea A. DuMont, Tom H. Hastings, Emiko Noma, 2013-02-28

Seeking to expand the transformative aspect of conflict resolution the contributors to this edited collection have focused on gathering scholarship from underrepresented voices and viewpoints in the field the emerging discipline Most mainstream conflict resolution seems to look either at interpersonal conflict or international conflict without much focus on the differing individuals and social structures involved These peer reviewed essays add significant findings to those gaps in the literature The editors and contributors are perhaps not coincidentally mostly women and people of color whose voices are often absent from other collections. Schneidhorst, 2011-11-17. Building a Just and Secure World highlights women's activism often peripheral and one dimensional in peace movement historiography which tends to dramatize men's antiwar and antinuclear activism in national organizations. In Chicago an urban center of anti war and civil rights activism a generation of middle aged women leaders came to their involvement in the movement through previous experience in mixed sex Leftist movements and local civil rights campaigns. Participant historians of Sixties New Left peace and feminist movements of the Sixties have argued that the Old Left was defunct and the younger generation re energized socialism in the early 1960s. These historians characterized Popular Front leftists as anticommunist cold war liberals who had abandoned youthful revolutionary aspirations for the reformist New Deal welfare state. Contrary to the arguments the Popular Front politics were defunct, Schneidhorst joins historians who argue the Popular Front generation continued to promote progressive and radical goals into the 1960s. Peacemaking: Family Activities for Justice and Peace, Vol. 2 Jacqueline Haessly, 2011-10.
