Kennedy, 2015-10-06 The bestselling author of the Killer Instincts novels knows how to write scorching sexual tension Now she really sets it on fire in a new series about men and women living on the edge of violence sex and life and death After a devastating war decimated most of the world Hudson Lane has only known the oppressive life under her own father's tyranny She finally escapes branding herself an outlaw and hunted by the Enforcers Her best chance at survival is Connor Mackenzie an aggressively sensual fugitive who opens her eyes to the wicked possibilities of a world without rules As the leader of a band of outlaw fighters Connor can't resist the beautiful stranger who asks for his protection Despite his reservations he agrees to introduce her to a whole new way of life But when Connor discovers Hudson's connection to the enemies of liberty he wonders how far he can trust the woman who has abandoned all inhibitions to challenge every forbidden desire USA Today     A History of the French Novel, Vol. 2 George Saintsbury, 2020-08-12 Reproduction of the original A History of the French Novel Vol 2 by George Saintsbury     Nathalie Sarraute and the Feminist Reader Sarah Barbour, 1993 Situated at an intersection of feminist critical practice in the United States and feminist cultural theory in France Nathalie Sarraute and the Feminist Reader is an investigation of the way in which this French New Novelist's first eight works in their increasing dramatization of the issue of reading problematize certain feminist literary analyses especially in relation to l'écriture féminine After an exploration of the difficulty Sarraute's writing poses for the critical enterprise through a lengthy reading of Sarraute's criticism in the U S and France Sarah Barbour shows how Sarraute's works eventually prohibit any fixed reading and open up instead a space in which we as readers are moved toward a more personal understanding of our use of narrative and of socio sexual constructs in the continual day to day constitution and reconstitution of subjectivity Nathalie Sarraute conceives of the evolution of the novel as a movement through history and thus situates her work within a tradition of psychological realism at the same time that she proposes radical innovations of the tradition Her novels do not discard or revise past works but rather internalize them in an effort to expand the notion of what is possible for psychological realism This study takes as its model Sarraute's example of simultaneity which invites an understanding of time both as a diachronic movement through phases from the psychological realism of Dostoyevski to that of Kafka to her own and as a synchronic encounter that elicits simultaneous relationships to different phases Within the movement of feminist literary criticism scholars have often discerned what are also referred to as phases that is criticism in the United States has moved from its initial concern with images of women in fiction by male writers to a desire to establish a feminine tradition of women's writing Nathalie Sarraute and the Feminist Reader is not an attempt to claim that Sarraute's work represents écriture féminine Reading Sarraute's novels in their evolution Sarah Barbour has found that they forced her own reading and understanding of this term to evolve She therefore proposes that the novels open up a space that is beyond the frozen shells of gender which continue to bind women and men personally and critically The power of Sarraute's work lies in the solitary experience of our encounter with her presentation and perception of reality In this encounter we are forced to experience the fluid nature of subjectivity that is to internalize and explore differences within personal and sexual identity that by extension affect the identity of larger political movements     Elle ,2006     Elle's Logic Michael Lieber ,2020-09-17 Elle's Logic is a short story poem by the English writer Michael Lieber The story appears in Lieber s 2021 novel The Boy And The Goldlock It tells the tale of a little girl Elle who has died in her sleep from the smoke during a house fire While her body lays in bed she is depicted as a ghost in the centre of the room and confronted by a grim apparition Death itself who informed her of her passing and not to be afraid before holding out a bony opened hand beckoning her to a dark abyss Elle then proceeds to use her many talents in an effort to entertain death I e stall for time while her lifeless self is being rescued and revived in the garden outside the house This poem has a happy ending This kindle edition is accompanied by four full colour illustrations by the Iranian artist Vajihe Golmazari and text analysis by English professor Simon S Turney

Contending that a search for realism distorts the writing of Cr billon Marivaux Laclos and Stendahl Peter Brooks considers their novels with reference to the manner in which the characters explore their worth and pursue their own systems of relationships The novels discussed are used as examples of the fictional exploitation of the drama inherent in man s social existence and the encounters of personal styles within the framework and code provided by a coterie which is an object of conscious cultivation for its own sake The author gives detailed readings of the four authors works and moves backward to consider the seventeenth century moralistes and the drawing rooms in which literary forms applied to social man were eloquently elaborated Originally published in 1969 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

This book argues that the most interesting depictions of blindness in French fiction are those which call into question and ultimately undermine the prevailing myths and stereotypes of blindness which dominate Western thought Rather than seeing blindness as an affliction a tragedy or even a fate worse than death the authors examined in this study celebrate blindness for its own sake For them it is a powerful artistic and creative force which offers new and surprising ways of describing and relating to reality Canonical and lesser known novels from a range of genres including the roman noir science fiction auto fiction and realism are analyzed in detail to show how the presence of blind characters invites the reader to abandon his or her traditional reliance on the sense of sight and engage with the world in sensual and hitherto unexpected ways This book challenges everything we thought we knew about blindness and invites us to revel in the pleasures and perils of reading blind The Novels of Philippe Sollers Malcolm Charles

Pollard,2023-11-27 It is easy simply to attribute the high profile of Sollers the numerous autobiographical details in his novels and also the espousal of so many different views and causes to egocentrism and opportunism Alternatively one could say that they are all significant elements in an ongoing enquiry into the role of fiction in a society where attitudes are often thought to be determined more by images than by the written word Given Sollers s questioning of society s conventional images as in Debord s notion of the spectacle his awareness of his own role in the media and his interest in developing a discourse on the visual arts how do such concerns come together to create new forms of fiction and a coherent aesthetics These seemingly disparate questions are all in fact related to Sollers s desire to challenge the accepted parameters of representation by creating an alternative scene in the novel a subject which forms the basis of this book Madame Daniel
