Escape To Hong Kong:

The Great Escape to Hong Kong Bing'an Chen, 2019-11-28      Escape from Hong Kong Tim Luard, 2011-12-01 On 25 December 1941 the day of Hong Kong's surrender to the Japanese Admiral Chan Chak the Chinese government's chief agent in Hong Kong and more than 60 Chinese and British intelligence naval and marine personnel made a dramatic escape from the invading army They travelled on five small motor torpedo boats all that remained of the Royal Navy in Hong Kong across Mirs Bay landing at a beach near Nanao Then guided by guerrillas and villagers they walked for four days through enemy lines to Huizhou before flying to Chongqing or travelling by land to Burma The breakout laid the foundations of an escape trail jointly used by the British Army Aid Group and the East River Column for the rest of the war Chan Chak the celebrated one legged admiral became Mayor of Canton after the war and was knighted by the British for his services to the Allied cause His comrade in the escape David MacDougall became head of the civil administration of Hong Kong in 1945 This gripping narrative account of the escape draws on a wealth of primary sources in both English and Chinese and sheds new light on the role played by the Chinese in the defence of Hong Kong on the diplomacy behind the escape and on the guerillas who carried the Admiral in a sedan chair as they led his party over the rivers and mountains of enemy occupied China Escape from Hong Kong will appeal not just to military historians and those with a special interest in Hong Kong and China but also to anyone who appreciates a good old fashioned adventure story      Escape from Hong Kong to Free China, January and February, 1942 J. A. Duff, 194?

Escape to Hong Kong Audrey Constant, 1994 Three young people escape from Vietnam and arrive illegally in Hong Kong after a dangerous journey Their difficulties are far from over but after being in desperate situations one of the three comes into contact with a Christian and although sceptical at first is converted      Twin Cities John Garrard, Ekaterina Mikhailova, 2018-10-03 This dynamic international collection provides a comprehensive overview of twin cities on administrative and international borders across the world Drawing on contemporary and historical examples it documents constant and changing features of twinned communities over time The chapters explore a variety of urban formations including independent cities located side by side cities that have merged over decades or even centuries and those projected to merge cities partitioned by treaties and cities duplicated in pursuit of better security intensified trade or both between neighbouring countries From Europe to Africa North America to the Middle East South America to Asia this book focuses on relationships between cities citizens and municipal international borders A cartographical contents and editorial commentary guide readers through diverse contributions The authors ask how far cities are changing or remaining constant in the context of conurbanisation Europeanisation and globalization The book provides a glimpse into the variety of roles twin cities can play globally from laboratories of integration and para diplomatic actors to economic and cultural brokers This is a valuable engaging resource for researchers in the fields of geography urban studies border studies international relations and global development It will be of great use to individuals involved in twin city initiatives and general readers      Colonial naval culture and British imperialism, 1922-67 Daniel Spence, 2015-11-01 Naval forces from fifteen colonial territories fought for the British Empire during the Second World War providing an important new lens for understanding imperial power and colonial relations on the eve of decolonisation With sources from Britain the Caribbean Africa and Asia this book examines the political social and cultural impact of these forces how they fortified British prestige against rival imperialisms and colonial nationalisms the importance of men on the spot collaboration naval theatre and propaganda in mobilising colonial navalism the role of naval training within the civilising mission and colonial development and how racial theory influenced naval recruitment strategy and management affecting imperial sentiment ethnic relations colonial identities customs and order This book will appeal to imperial maritime and regional historians by broadening our understanding of navies as social and cultural institutions where power was expressed through the ideas and relations they cultivated as well as their guns      Escape V. C. Vickers, 1985      Escape from Hong Kong Roy Chanslor, 1942      Hong Kong Internment, 1942-1945 Geoffrey Charles Emerson, 2008-03-01 Hong Kong Internment 1942 1945 Life in the Japanese Civilian Camp at Stanley tells the story of the more than three thousand non Chinese civilians British American Dutch and others who were trapped in the British colony and interned behind barbed wire in Stanley Internment Camp from 1942 to 1945 From 1970 to 1972 while researching for his MA thesis the author interviewed twenty three former Stanley internees During these meetings the internees talked about their lives in the Stanley Camp during the Japanese occupation Long regarded as an invaluable reference and frequently consulted as a primary source on Stanley since its completion in 1973 the study is now republished with a new introduction and fresh discussions that recognize later work and information released since the original thesis was written Additional illustrations including a new map and photographs as well as an up to date bibliography have also been included in the book      Escape to Freedom Aaron Levenstein, 1983-05-27 Looks at the causes of mass dislocations of people the hardships they face and the role of the IRC in alleviating those hardships Covers the period of the Hitler years postwar conflicts and hurricanes on every continent      Slow Boats Home Gavin Young, 2015-07-23 In this the sequel to Slow Boats to China also reissued in Faber Finds Gavin Young tells with equal panache of his return voyage from the China Seas to England via the South Seas Cape Horn and West Africa I am decidedly envious of Gavin Young and his Slow Boats Home successor to his highly entertaining Slow Boats to China a fascinating memorable book Eric Newby Guardian Like Slow Boats to China this is likely to become a classic of travel Francis King Spectator      Escape from Violence Aristide R. Zolberg, Astri Suhrke, Sergio Aguayo, 1989 A crisis in the making      The Hong Kong Protests and Political Theology Kwok Pui-lan, Francis Ching-Wah Yip, 2021-02-08 This edited volume showcases theological reflections on the Hong Kong protests by scholars and activists from different national and cultural background It discusses the meaning of crucifixion atonement the suffering Messiah justice the demonic and the roles of the Church in a time of global unrest and social ferment and protest      Modern China Graham Hutchings, 2001 This guide to people places ideas and events crucial to an understanding of a rising world power focuses on society and politics and their impact on China and the world Hutchings provides over 200 short essays arranged alphabetically covering figures and events from Sun Yat sen to Jiang Zemin and the Boxer Rebellion to Tiananmen Square      Ordinances of Hong Kong for the Year ... Hong Kong,1904      Never Surrender Mark Felton,2013-06-30 While there have been many fine books covering the appalling experiences and great courage of the many thousands of POWscaptured by the victorious Japanese during late 1941 and early 1942 escape accounts are much rarer This is due in large part to the fact that only a comparatively small number of brave souls attempted to escape to freedom rather than suffer brutality starvation and very possibly death as POWs However as Never Surrender vividly describes there were a significant number who took this desperate course Escapersfaced challenges far more daunting than those in German hands They were Westerners in an alien hostile environment the terrain and climate were extreme disease was rife their physical condition was weak there was every chance of starvation andbetrayal and if captured they faced at best the harshest punishment and at worst execution The author draws on escapeattempts from Hong Kong Thailand the Philippines Borneo and China by officers and men of the British Commonwealth andUS armed forces As this superbly researched and uplifting book reveals few escapers found freedom but all are inspiring examples of outstandingand indeed desperate courage The stories told within these pages demonstrate the best and worst of human spirit      Education in Hong Kong, 1941 to 2001 Anthony Sweeting,2004-07-01 It provides comprehensive coverage of developments in formal and informal education in Hong Kong from the end of 1941 to the beginning of the new millennium As was true of its predecessor each Part of this book is subdivided into three sections Commentary Chronicle and Evidence Such an organization facilitates flexible reading Readers primarily interested in analysis interpretation and the identification of themes are likely to focus initially on the Commentary sections and to move as they feel stimulated to the relevant entries in the Chronicle and or items of Evidence Readers who seek either more encyclopedic understanding or detailed answers to specific questions may well wish to focus primarily or at least initially on the Chronicle sections and then to search for substantiation in the Evidence section or for amplification in the author s Commentary At times some readers may wish to browse through the Evidence sections reaching possibly serendipitous discoveries Academic and general readers are likely to be particularly interested in Part I of the book which deals with education in Hong Kong during the Japanese occupation a topic that has received only very rare and generalization bound treatment in other publications The author offers insights into all levels of education His conceptual scope incorporates many types of education including the mainstream academic education technical education teacher education special education physical education civic education education that focuses on morals that which focuses on culture and the various sorts of non formal and informal education      An Imperial World at War Ashley Jackson,Yasmin Khan,Gajendra Singh,2016-07-01 At the start of the Second World War Britain was at the height of its imperial power and it is no surprise that it drew upon the global resources of the Empire once war had been declared Whilst this international aspect of Britain's war effort has been well studied in relation to the military contribution of individual dominions and colonies relatively little has been written about the Empire as a whole As such An Imperial World at War makes an important contribution to the historiography relating to the British Empire and its wartime experience It argues that the war needs to be viewed in imperial terms that the role of forces drawn from the Empire is poorly understood and that the war's impact on colonial societies is barely grasped at all in conventional accounts Through a series of case studies the volume demonstrates the fundamental role played by the Empire in Britain's war effort and highlights some of the consequences for both Britain and its imperial territories Themes include the recruitment and utilization of military formations drawn from imperial territories the experience of British forces stationed overseas the use of strategic bases located in the colonies British policy in the Middle East and the challenge posed by growing American power the occupation of enemy colonies and the enemy occupation of British colonies colonial civil defence measures financial support for the war effort supplied by the Empire and the commemoration of the war The Afterword anticipates a new decentred history of the war that properly acknowledges the role and importance of people and places throughout the colonial and semi colonial world This volume emanates from a conference organized as part of the Home Fronts of the Empire Commonwealth project The project was generously funded by the Arts and Humanities Research Council and led by Yasmin Khan and Ashley Jackson with Gajendra Singh as Postdoctoral Research Assistant

Cosmopatriots, 2015-06-29 This volume analyzes mediated articulations of cosmopolitanism in East and South East Asian popular cultures and arts Cosmopatriots navigate between a loyalty to the home country and a sense of longing for and belonging to the world Rather than searching for the truly globalized cosmopolitans the authors of this collection look for the postcolonial rooted cosmopolitans who insist on thinking and feeling simultaneously beyond and within the nation The cultural sites they discuss include Hong Kong Indonesia China Singapore the United States South Korea and Australia They show how media from both sides of the arbitrary divide between high art and popular culture including film literature the fine arts radio music television and mobile phones function as vehicles for the creation and expression of or reflection upon intersections between patriotism and cosmopolitanism

Asian Refugees in America Eleanor Herz Swent, 2011-09-29 When Eleanor Swent began teaching English as a Second Language in 1967 at a school for adults in Oakland California she soon learned that many of the Asian immigrants in her classes had remarkable tales to tell of struggles in their homelands and their efforts to make new lives in America This oral history based on interviews Swent conducted with her students over thirty years documents the Asian immigrant experience as never before Here are the stories of desperate individuals who swam to escape from China to Macao and Hong Kong of Chinese daughters considered worthless by their families of political refugees from Vietnam of ethnic Chinese who fled by boat from Vietnam of refugees from the genocide in Cambodia As these remarkable new Americans learn different words and customs they also enlarge our national vision enriching our culture while assuring us that human dignity can rise above terrible circumstances
