ESP teaching practices as well as ESP teacher education as they arise in today's constantly changing and developing world. ESP Teaching and Teacher Education: current theories and practices supported by the Language Centre of the Cyprus University of Technology puts together a selection of ten chapters concentrating on ESP teacher education and ESP teaching methodology including the integration of new technologies in both fields. The volume may be of interest to ESP teacher trainers or language teacher trainers in general, ESP practitioners, ESP researchers, policymakers, material developers, students as well as any other ESP specialist who may be interested in being updated about the latest developments in the ESP field.

A Guide to Writing in English as a Second Or Foreign Language Dan J. Tannacito, 1995. This bibliography offers English as a Second Language (ESL) and English as a Foreign Language (EFL) specialists and non-specialists a listing of almost 3,500 works in the field of writing in ESL/EFL at all educational levels from 1937 through 1993. It includes works focusing on how non-native speakers write in English, how they learn to write in English, how ESL and native English speaker NES compositions compare, how English is taught in contexts where it is used as a second or foreign language, and instructional materials developed to support writing in a second foreign language. Citations include bibliographies, monographs, textbooks, periodicals, dissertations, and some unannotated master's theses, conference papers, and Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) documents. An introductory section and a list of native languages addressed in the works precede the annotated entries. Author and subject indexes are also included. The Laconia Survey: Archaeological data William G. Cavanagh, British School at Athens, 1996. This intensive full coverage survey was conducted by the Universities of Nottingham and Amsterdam in conjunction with the British School at Athens between 1983 and 1988. It covered a territory of just over 70 sq km in central Laconia extending from the east side of the River Evrotas close to Sparta up into the foothills of the Parion range. The Survey identified over 400 sites, the great majority of them previously unknown, dating variously to the Neolithic, Bronze Age, Archaic, Classical, Hellenistic, Roman, Byzantine, and Venetian/Turkish periods. The new information makes possible a re-evaluation of the settlement history and rural economy of Sparta and Laconia. This is presented in Volume I in which the ecology and geomorphology of the region set the scene for period by period analyses of the results and implications of the Survey. Volume II assembles the primary data including a pottery series for each period and separate studies of chipped and ground stone artefacts, inscriptions, architectural fragments, other finds, and the results of geophysical survey. The site catalogue is complemented by a new gazetteer of archaeological sites in the rest of Laconia. Vol II: Archaeological Data. The Arts, Sciences, and Literature Herbert A.
