Ezekiel I:

Ezekiel's War T. W. Manes, 2012-06-19 Something had gone wrong The bomb release mechanism should have already been activating the bomb doors but he hadn't heard anything that would have signaled that This isn't right Ezekiel thought All of his training all of his military instilled discipline told him he had to take manual control of the plane and return to destroy the missile If he didn't there was a possibility that his home base would be targeted Ezekiel sat there for only an instant longer but that instant seemed to last an eternity He could send a message back to command headquarters but there wasn't time He needed to make a decision He needed to make it now War breaks out in the Middle East and spreads across the globe It is humanity's darkest hour and when hundreds thousands of people begin inexplicably disappearing Lt Col Ezekiel Cohen can't help but wonder if this is the beginning of the end of the world Will his last mission save his people or will it be the final nail into the crumbling coffin of civilization Ezekiel's Sin Joseph Henry Pearce, 1898 Ezekiel's Vision Accounts as Interrelated Narratives Janina Maria Hiebel, 2015-06-16 Ezekiel is one of the best structured books in the Old Testament It is commonly recognized that the strongly interrelated vision accounts Ez 1 1 3 15 8 11 37 1 14 40 48 contribute greatly to this impression of unity However there is a marked lacuna in publications focusing on the vision accounts in Ezekiel as an interconnected text corpus The present study combines redaction critical analysis with literary methods that are typically used in a synchronic approach Drawing on the paradigm of Fortschreibung it is the first to present a united redaction history that takes into account the growing interconnections and dependencies between the vision accounts Building on these results the second part follows the development of selected themes such as the relationships between characters the roles of intermediate figures and anthropological and theological implications throughout the stages of redaction The study thus represents an important step towards an understanding of the complex redaction history of the book of Ezekiel and indeed of its theology The combination of diachronic and synchronic methods makes it relevant for scholars of both directions and is itself a methodological statement Ezekiel's Eyes John Pease, 2022-04-12 EZEKIEL'S EYES IS SET ON THE EVE OF THE TRIBULATION A SPIRITUAL JOURNEY INTO the supernatural A young man Ezekiel whose faith in God is unwavering and ever steady finds himself in the middle of the age old fight of good versus evil Ezekiel was born with the ability to see evil in all of its forms But not only that he was gifted the ability to kill it as well On the flip side he can also harm an angel which puts him in a unique position and he now finds himself sought out by both sides The demons want him because if they were to possess him they could use him to harm angels before the appointed time which is something none of them can do at present The angels want him because he represents a threat which they cannot allow to be exploited to shift the balance of power that has been preordained An angel Joshua recognized all the good and potential within Ezekiel and chose to mentor and train him to stay hidden from Evil's sight while helping him to develop his gifts Joshua prepared Ezekiel for the impending battle he would soon have to face with the dark one Nestor a powerful demon who devours a person's physical body and their immortal soul. He seeks gifted ones like Ezekiel and adds their power to his own. Souls like Ezekiel's are very rare and referred to as keys. There are twelve of them in total that remain, and Nestor is intent on finding all of them. He would try to possess who he could and then use them to draw the other keys to him, killing any that resist taking their power and souls until there were no more. Joshua believes that Ezekiel not only has the power to resist Nestor but to destroy him as well as the time of Tribulation draws near. Apocalyptic and Merkavah Mysticism

H. Sir Bashford, 2021-11-05 In Augustus Carp Esq by Himself Being the Autobiography of a Really Good Man H. H. Sir Bashford presents a masterful satire that deftly critiques the conventions of Victorian morality and self-righteousness. Employing an epistolary style infused with dry wit, Bashford constructs the character of Augustus Carp, a quintessentially pedantic and self-absorbed individual who is emblematic of the era's pretentiousness. The narrative unfolds as Carp recounts his life in a tone that oscillates between earnestness and absurdity, exposing the ironies of human nature while challenging the notion of what it truly means to be good. This exploration of morality within a rigid societal framework is enriched by Bashford's keen observations and sharp humor, making it a notable work in the genre of literary parody. H. H. Sir Bashford, a figure rooted in the literary and social landscapes of early 20th-century England, draws upon his own experiences and insights into the complexities of morality and societal expectation. His background, steeped in British culture, informs his pointed commentary on the hypocrisy often masked by claims of virtue. A keen observer of human behavior, Bashford utilizes Carp's hilariously misguided self-perception to reflect on the societal pressures that shape individual identities and moral standings. Augustus Carp Esq serves as a resonant exploration of ethical evolution and societal critique, making it essential reading for those interested in the intersections of humor, morality, and human folly. This work not only entertains with its clever satire but also invites readers to reflect on their moral compasses and the often ludicrous standards society imposes.
