EXISTING IN COSTUME Chan-Hyo Bae, Kim Hong-hee, Bill Kounwenhoven, 2018-11-15. The book covers five photography series which Chan Hyo Bae has worked on so far: Self Portrait, Fairy Tales, Punishment, Witch Hunting, and the new series, Jumping into the Oil Paintings. Each series has been divided into individual categories, but the book's editing shows that all series are above the same photographic context. As the artist had been fiercely living as a stranger in the U.K. but was unable to be absorbed and experience alienation and anger as an Asian living in Western culture, his artistic challenge to the meta-discourse of Western culture became the key word of this series of work. Meanwhile, Jumping into the Oil Paintings is an extension of Existing in Costume but also a very different attempt. In terms of the formality of the work, Existing in Costume is a process that visualizes the artist's feelings of prejudice and alienation through elaborating exquisite plan and production, while Jumping into the Oil Paintings do not simply damage but deconstruct the subject's essence by gilding on the printed photography or by copying the paintings' images and transfer it to animal skins. His new series could be seen as a way more aggressive challenge to the system of Western thought and through this we might carefully gauge the direction of his future works. This photography book which contains 52 works from five series includes articles of Kim Hong-hee, the art critic and the previous director of Seoul Museum of Art, and also Bill Kuenhoven's article who has executive capacity in international photography scene since he had been worked as an editor of several major photography magazines for the past 20 years, including Hotshoe International. Thus those articles will support an in-depth understanding of the artist's works, has a meaning as a publication aiming at overseas photography experts and readers.

Face Forward Seth Scantlen, Columbia University. LeRoy Neiman Gallery, 2008.

Face Politics Jenny Edkins, 2015-04-10. The face is central to contemporary politics. In Deleuze and Guattari's work on faciality, we find an assertion that the face is a particular politics and dismantling the face is also a politics. This book explores the politics of such diverse issues as images and faces in photographs and portraits, expressive faces, psychology and neuroscience, face recognition, face blindness, facial injury, disfigurement, and face transplants through questions such as: What it might mean to dismantle the face and what politics this might entail in practical terms? What sort of a politics is it? Is it already taking place Is it a politics that is to be desired a better politics a progressive politics The book opens up a vast field of further research that needs to be taken forward to begin to address the politics of the face more fully and to elaborate the alternative forms of personhood and politics that dismantling the face opens to view The book will be agenda setting for scholars located in the field of international politics in particular but cognate areas as well who want to pursue the implications of face politics for the crucial questions of subjectivity sovereignty and personhood     Parihaka Te Miringa Hohaia, Gregory O'Brien, Lara Strongman, 2006-04 Parihaka The Art of Passive Resistance commemorates and explores one of the major historical events in the history of Aotearoa New Zealand the invasion of Parihaka Taranaki by Pakeha soldiers in 1881 It considers the events leading up to the invasion and the immense strength and spirit of the Parihaka community which continues today Over one hundred and twenty years of art poetry and waiata were brought together for the exhibition held at City Gallery Wellington during the summer of 2000 and 2001 This book includes existing artworks depicting the story of Parihaka and its leaders Te Whiti o Rongomai and Tohu Kakahi plus new pieces commissioned from leading Maori and Pakeha artists as well as historical and contemporary photographs Texts include major new essays on the history art and contemporary significance of Parihaka plus new poems by leading Maori and Pakeha writers     Res Editor of Res and Associate of Middle American Ethnology Francesco Pellizzi, Francesco Pellizzi, 2007-07-11 Res is a journal of anthropology and comparative aesthetics dedicated to the study of the object in particular cult and belief objects and objects of art The journal presents contributions by philosophers art historians archaeologists critics linguists architects artists among others

Faces in the Clouds Stewart Elliott Guthrie, 1995-04-06 Religion is universal human culture No phenomenon is more widely shared or more intensely studied yet there is no agreement on what religion is Now in Faces in the Clouds anthropologist Stewart Guthrie provides a provocative definition of religion in a bold and persuasive new theory Guthrie says religion can best be understood as systematic anthropomorphism that is the attribution of human characteristics to nonhuman things and events Many writers see anthropomorphism as common or even universal in religion but few think it is central To Guthrie however it is fundamental Religion he writes consists of seeing the world as humanlike As Guthrie shows people find a wide range of humanlike beings plausible Gods spirits abominable snowmen HAL the computer Chiquita Banana We find messages in random events such as earthquakes weather and traffic accidents We say a fire rages a storm wreaks vengeance and waters lie still Guthrie says that our tendency to find human characteristics in the nonhuman world stems from a deep seated perceptual strategy in the face of pervasive if mostly unconscious uncertainty about what we see we bet on the most meaningful interpretation we can If we are in the woods and see a dark shape that might be a bear or a boulder for example it is good policy to think it is a bear If we are mistaken we lose little and if we are right we gain much So Guthrie writes in scanning the world we always look for what most concerns us living things and especially human ones Even animals watch for human attributes as when birds avoid scarecrows In short we all follow the principle better safe than sorry Marshalling a wealth of evidence from anthropology cognitive science philosophy theology advertising literature art and animal behavior Guthrie offers a fascinating array of examples to show how this perceptual strategy pervades secular life and how it characterizes religious experience Challenging the very foundations of religion Faces in the Clouds forces us to take a new look at this fundamental element of human life Breaking the Mould Rob Barnard,Natasha Daintry,Clare Twomey,2007 The international ceramics scene is enjoying the highest profile it has had for many years Breaking the Mould looks at ceramic artists working within this versatile medium Drawing on the rich history of pottery these artists are pushing the techniques objectives and perceptions of the medium into new exciting territory The book profiles the work of over 70 ceramicists including Suzanne King Simon Fell Grayson Perry Barnaby Barford Carina Ciscato and Amy Houghton Their work ranges from interpretations of utilitarian pots to abstract sculpture and a revisioning of kitch porcelain ornaments all of which are brought to life in beautiful colour reproductions Essays by prolific makers and academics look at the history and inspirations behind the medium today Following in the footsteps of New Directions in Jewellery Fashioning Fabrics and The Cutting Edge of Wallpaper Breaking the Mould is a definitive overview of a craft scene that is simultaneously building upon and breaking with its roots and in doing so creating a brave new future for itself Black Artists in Their Own Words

Lisa E. Farrington,2025 The first book to center Black artists voices on Black aesthetics revealing a century of evolving relationships to race identity and art What is Black art No one has thought harder about that question than Black artists yet their perspectives have been largely ignored Instead their stories have been told by intellectuals like W E B Du Bois and Alain Locke who defined a school of Black art in the early twentieth century For the first time Black Artists in Their Own Words offers an insightful corrective Esteemed art historian Lisa Farrington gathers writing spanning a century across the United States the Caribbean and the African continent including from renowned artists Henry Tanner Nancy Elizabeth Prophet Romare Bearden Wifredo Lam Renee Cox and many more that reveals both evolutions and equivocations Many artists especially during the civil rights era have embraced Black aesthetics as a source of empowerment Others prefer to be artists first and Black second while some have rejected racial identification entirely Here Black artists reclaim their work from reductive critical narratives sharing the motivations underlying their struggles to create in a white dominated art world

Art for Social Change and Cultural Awakening Wei Hsiu Tung,2013-09-05 Artistic residency has become widely adopted in Western countries while only recently having become popular and well supported within Taiwan This book explores the challenges that this form of art practice faced in contemporary Taiwan from the revocation of Martial Law in 1987 to the 2000s arguably one of the most exciting periods in the sociocultural history of the island Case studies show what is at stake politically historically and socially in artists endeavours to give shape to a sense of Taiwanese identity Despite the prevalence of artists engaged in social issues in today s world and the undeniable contributions of artistic residency to contemporary art practice little literature or scholarly research has been conducted on the practical conceptual and ideological aspects of artist residency Very often it is perceived in very narrow terms overlooking explicit or hidden issues of localism nationalism and globalization If artistic residence did indeed emerge from the radical movements of the 1960s and 70s in the Western world and especially Britain then this book argues that the contemporary sociocultural context of Taiwan calls for redefined culturally specific models of residency The precarious geo political situation of Taiwan has made issues of cultural identity tackled by artists and successive governments alike very sensitive A new genre of artistic residence in Taiwan would mean that artists involved from whatever cultural background operate as engaging interpreters their roles would not be confined to mirroring culture and society These artists in residence would contribute to cultural awakening by offering ways of negotiating creatively with otherness and this for the sake of a better social life and shared identity
