Hospital Social Service ,1928 The Story Series in Health: A journey to health land ,1924 Hospital Social Service Quarterly ,1928 A Journey to Health Land James Mace Andress,Annie Turner Andress,1924 Journey Through the I-Worlds Nehama Milson,2013-06-12 The sick Young man told the Prince that even if he dared to break the decree she couldn't fly anyway He was disabled And then his friend did the unthinkable He soared upward above the heads of the crowd that had surrounded the house including the guard and flew to seek the soul of his friend When he tried to come back the guard flung weapons at him He turned around over the house cried out his goodbye to the Young man and flew back to the island where his family lived But his work had been done His parting words had marked themselves indelibly on the young one's memory You're sick because you do not fly They are more than a couple these two more than a family They are a starry brother and sister They are the very one divided into two halves Separation was not logical It dissected the soul into halves music into halves poems into halves feelings into halves She swings with her arms his feet start dancing he touches the strings her throat bursts with a song She hurts he cries out he's happy she composes a prayer of the delight The Good Enchantress was having a rest after a hard quest As usual she had been saving someone from the trouble and as usual she was successful Now she was back home and relaxed lying on the sofa with a book of fairy tales She was thinking of putting her book on the couch side table and falling asleep right there when there was a quiet knock This was how the magical computer announced the arrival of an urgent email The Enchantress reluctantly got up from the sofa looked at the screen and was terribly surprised Right out from the computer screen weird creatures were stepping onto the desk They were all of different sizes from a small mouse's size to a huge monster that occupied half of the bedroom Newark School Bulletin ,1922 North Carolina Education ,1939 Suid-Afrikaanse Holverslae. Bealissings Van: Die Hooggeregshof Van Suid-Afrika, Die Suidwes-Afrika Afdeling, Die Hoërhof Van Rhodesië ,2011 The Local Government of the United Kingdom John Joseph Clarke,1925 Social Poison Howard Padwa,2012-03-15 This comparative history examines the divergent paths taken by Britain and France in managing opiate abuse during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Though the governments of both nations viewed rising levels of opiate use as a problem Britain and France took opposite courses of action in addressing the issue The British sanctioned maintenance treatment for addiction while the French authorities did not hesitate to take legal action against addicts and the doctors who prescribed drugs to them Drawing on primary documents Howard Padwa examines the factors that led to these disparate approaches He finds that national policies were influenced by shifts in the composition of drug using populations of the two countries and a marked divergence in British and French conceptions of citizenship Beyond shared concerns about public health and morality Britain and France had different understandings of the threat that opiate abuse posed to their respective communities Padwa traces the evolution of thinking on the matter in both countries explaining why Britain took a less adversarial approach to domestic opiate abuse despite the productivity sapping powers of this social poison and why the relatively libertine French chose to attack opiate abuse In the process Padwa reveals the confluence of changes in medical knowledge culture politics and drug user demographics throughout the period a convergence of forces that at once highlighted the issue and transformed it from one of individual health into a societal concern An insightful look at the development of drug discourses in the nineteenth century and drug policy in the twentieth century Social Poison will appeal to scholars and students in public health and the history of medicine Outlines of Local Government of the United Kingdom John Joseph Clarke,1922
