Hearts And Times The Literature Of Memory:

The Heart of Time Sabina Knight, 2020-03-23 By examining how narrative strategies reinforce or contest deterministic paradigms this work describes modern Chinese fiction's unique contribution to ethical and literary debates over the possibility for meaningful moral action How does Chinese fiction express the desire for freedom as well as fears of attendant responsibilities and abuses How does it depict struggles for and against freedom How do the texts allow for or deny the possibility of freedom and agency By analyzing discourses of agency and fatalism and the ethical import of narrative structures the author explores how representations of determinism and moral responsibility changed over the twentieth century She links these changes to representations of time and to enduring commitments to human heartedness and social justice Although Chinese fiction may contain some of the most disconsolate pages in the twentieth century's long literature of disenchantment it also bespeaks Knight argues a passion for freedom and moral responsibility Responding to ongoing conflicts between the claims of modernity and the resources of past traditions these stories and novels are often dominated by challenges to human agency Yet read with sensitivity to traditional Chinese conceptions of moral experience their testimony to both the promises of freedom and the failure of such promises opens new perspectives on moral agency

Memories of a Lacerated Heart (1971) Major Iftikhar-Ud-Din Ahmad (Retired), 2017-03-30 Memories of a Lacerated Heart gives us a painful insight into one of the most brutal and historically under reported wars and its effects not just on the country but on the mind of a patriotic and unassuming army officer In 1947 the Indian subcontinent was split into two countries India and Pakistan East and West Pakistan were geographically separated by the larger nation of India and the country was ruled by martial law for the first 25 years after gaining independence The governing of the two wings of the country hundreds of miles apart was a logistical challenge and the cultural economic geographical and language differences became divisive East Pakistan had the larger population albeit in a smaller area but West Pakistan held the political and economic power East Pakistan secured the majority of seats in the 1970 elections but despite winning the majority vote it was deprived of the right to govern This led to a bloody civil war that later escalated into a conflict between Pakistan and India This is the memoir of one Pakistani Army officer who witnessed the events first hand and suffered as a consequence of being a patriotic young company commander who passionately wanted to prevent the break up of his country It is a formal collection of his diary entries documenting his experiences during the civil war the subsequent conflict with India and as a prisoner of war While still a war memoir it is also the raw and heartfelt account of a man separated by duty from his loved ones and ordered along with his young soldiers to fight a pointless war ruthlessly orchestrated by generals and politicians

Gawthrop's journal of literature, science, and arts, Literary Memory, Consciousness, and the Group Oulipo Peter Consenstein, 2021-11-08 The question of memory intrigues us more and more as industrialized societies move further and further away from the written word In the past the role of memory was integral to literary history precise mnemonics served as the support systems for erudition and Mnemosyne was mother of the Muses The group Oulipo born in reaction to the Surrealists proposes invents and applies novel literary constraints Using memory and best of all conscious memory as a theoretical starting point the implications of writing under constraint are analyzed First writing under constraint is viewed as a new mnemonics second the spiritual component of such a practice is shown to redefine a notion of inspiration third constraints and their relationship with games and society is highlighted finally the manner in which they build a literary consciousness is studied through the lenspiece of contemporary neurobiological research For the first time the work of the group Oulipo and the member s emphasis on the function of literature is placed in historical cultural and philosophical context

Durée as Einstein in the Heart traces the trajectory of modernist interaction with Bergson and Einstein through the works of Virginia Woolf 1882 1941 and Mary Butts 1890 1937 It presents an overview of critical approaches that focus on time in Woolf's novels and that foreground Bergson in their analyses of Woolf It then examines how Woolf's formal experimentation and theorisation of time in Jacob's Room 1922 and Mrs Dalloway 1925 relates to Bergson's temporal theories This is followed by a discussion on the role Bergson's thinking played in the early formulation of Butts's ideas of time and an analysis of how Bergson's ideas emerge in the short story Angele au Couvent 1923 concluding by highlighting points of contrast in the engagements of Woolf and Butts The book then documents the growth of Butts's interest in Einstein's ideas and shows how she amalgamates these with Bergson's thinking in her journals and in the most intense of her fictional engagement with Einstein's ideas the novel Death of Felicity Taverner 1932 It discusses Butts's responses to the popular science genre and examines the important role played by J W N Sullivan and Arthur Eddington in the development of her understanding and interpretation of physics It concludes with a discussion of Butts's antisemitic characterisation of Kralin as purveyor of corrupted science in contrast with the Taverners who are conscious of durée and delight in the abstractions of scientific truth Chamber's Journal of Popular
