Bibliographic Guide to Education, 1989 Connecting Abstract Algebra to Secondary Mathematics, for Secondary Mathematics Teachers Nicholas H. Wasserman, 2018-12-12 Secondary mathematics teachers are frequently required to take a large number of mathematics courses including advanced mathematics courses such as abstract algebra as part of their initial teacher preparation program and or their continuing professional development The content areas of advanced and secondary mathematics are closely connected Yet despite this connection many secondary teachers insist that such advanced mathematics is unrelated to their future professional work in the classroom This edited volume elaborates on some of the connections between abstract algebra and secondary mathematics including why and in what ways they may be important for secondary teachers Notably the volume disseminates research findings about how secondary teachers engage with and make sense of abstract algebra ideas both in general and in relation to their own teaching as well as offers itself as a place to share practical ideas and resources for secondary mathematics teacher preparation and professional development Contributors to the book are scholars who have both experience in the mathematical preparation of secondary teachers especially in relation to abstract algebra as well as those who have engaged in related educational research The volume addresses some of the persistent issues in secondary mathematics teacher education in connection to advanced mathematics courses as well as situates and conceptualizes different ways in which abstract algebra might be influential for teachers of algebra Connecting Abstract Algebra to Secondary Mathematics for Secondary Mathematics Teachers is a productive resource for mathematics teacher educators who teach capstone courses or content focused methods courses as well as for abstract algebra instructors interested in making connections to secondary mathematics Second Handbook of Research on Mathematics Teaching and Learning Frank K. Lester, 2007-02-01 The audience remains much the same as for the 1992 Handbook namely mathematics education researchers and other scholars conducting work in mathematics education This group includes college and university faculty graduate students investigators in research and development centers and staff members at federal state and local agencies that conduct and use research within the discipline of mathematics The intent of the authors of this volume is to provide useful perspectives as well as pertinent information for conducting investigations that are informed by previous work The Handbook should also be a useful textbook for graduate research seminars In addition to the audience mentioned above the present Handbook contains chapters that should be relevant to four other groups teacher educators curriculum developers state and national policy makers and test developers and others involved with assessment Taken as a whole the chapters reflects the mathematics education research community's willingness to accept the challenge of helping the public understand what mathematics education research is all about and what the relevance of their research findings might be for those outside their immediate community Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, ...
