Letters From The Pacific:

WWII Letters from the Pacific Linda McCormick, 2018-03-28 What a family heirloom a simple box of letters can be In this case an aunt and uncle had saved letters from their nephew and ended up giving them to his daughter when he died Those letters were written during his service in WWII We can only wonder if he opened up more to an aunt than he would have to his own mother Letters from the Pacific LT Eleanor Melbourne, Army Nurse Corps, 2018-11-02 We have been terrifically busy these past few days I wish I could tell you all about it but I can't my job and what I'm doing here is the most important thing don't forget it If my letters are full of social activities it's only because I can't talk about the other things and I do wish I could I still have some bad moments over these G.I.s I take care of I doubt if I'll ever get hardened to the army I'd like it better if I could tell it all to you two who are so close to me I try to see if the army way that is that men are expendable if they fall by the wayside it's just one of those things It all started over two guys I got in today Boy I really thought they were goners But tonight he was rational and talked to me Well I'm glad he's going to make it I could go on and say what I'm thinking that is he's going to make it to only fight and perhaps be killed It's a tough war Mom and Dad and I'm sure learning a life time of experiences Letters from the Pacific Walter J. P. Curley, 1959 Every Other Day George Blanchard Lucas, 1995 Between May 1943 and April 1945 George Lucas an ensign on board a service tug in the Pacific wrote more than three hundred letters home to his beloved wife Betty Tucked safely away and discovered only after her death those letters the best of which are presented here provide a fascinating record of World War II behind the lines and an intimate look at a young naval officer's professional and emotional development A keen observer of his surroundings Lucas describes life at sea his shipmates and exotic island cultures as well as the horrors of war made particularly apparent to him during a clean up assignment after the three day pitched battle for Tarawa Always informative often lyrical these letters stand as a tribute to all those who lived through the war regardless of their rank or service Letters from the Pacific Slope Harvey Rice, 1870 Letters from the Pacific Front Philip J. Magnan, 2002-10-08 Letters from the Pacific Front is the story of the extraordinary adventures of an ordinary marine and his brothers who wore their country's uniform during World War II Bob Magnan walked point as a rifleman on Guadalcanal survived air attacks on New Guinea served as sniper on New Britain and directed artillery fire on Okinawa With thousands of others he prepared for the ultimate invasion of the Japanese homeland that was averted only by unconditional surrender Along the way Bob's sense of duty grew ever stronger but his youthful idealism was tempered with healthy skepticism He basked in the hero's welcome given by Australia to the 1st Marine Division and he suffered the near fatal effects of tropical diseases He mourned the loss of a brother killed in action See the war through his eyes and as he interpreted it through journals and in dozens of letters he mailed home Letters from the Pacific Kermit G. Stewart, 1966 Letters from the Pacific William Henry Chickering, 1946 Letters from the Pacific Kathy Flynn De Gaxiola, 2012-06 Story of Jane and Chuck Flynn as told through their correspondence during World War II

Letters From the Pacific Slope, Or First Impressions (Classic Reprint) Harvey Rice, 2016-08-18 Excerpt from Letters From the Pacific Slope or First Impressions From the Southern Shore of Lake Erie to Council Bluffs the general aspect of the country is somewhat monotonous Being for the most part a rich alluvial plain Of vast extent enliven ed by cultivated fields and small farm houses and begemmed here and there with infant vil lages and pretentious young cities The railroad bridge which spans the Mississippi and connects Rock Island with Davenport is a splendid strue ture about two miles long About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Letters from the Pacific William Henry Chickering, 2011-10 Includes A Supplement Unfinished Letters That Were Not Received From The War Department Until After The Completion Of This Book Good Night Officially

Yeoman James Orvill Raines, 2019-03-11 My interest in USS Howorth originated during my thirty three months of duty in the Pacific Fleet destroyer Hamner named after Howorth s gunnery officer killed at Okinawa Lieutenant Henry R Pete Hamner His legacy included the Reader s Digest subscriptions his mother presented each year to the wardroom and crew Later as executive officer in the hydrofoil Plainview exasperated by the endless stream of logs and records demanded by higher authorities I peevishly tested the navy s record system and wrote away for information on Lieutenant Hamner and Howorth I was surprised by the magnitude of the material documenting Howorth s Pacific War ranging from hourly barometric readings and seawater injection temperatures to ammunition effectiveness reports

Letters from the Pacific William Henry Chickering, Carl Hertzog, 1946 The Bionic Book Herbie J Pilato, 2007-08-01 no stone unturned to get behind the scenes of these landmark series Spywise com highly recommended Back Issue Magazine The Bionic Book earns its definitive title hands down Video Watchdog Before Hiro on Heroes there was S Every Thought of You Paul L. Edwards, 2011 After Berryann found her father s World War II letters she realized they showed her father s love for his wife and their love created her So to complete the circle of love she compiled all the letters as a lasting tribute that will appeal to women and men of all ages lovers baby boomers history buffs and military families

Letters Across The Pacific April Martin Beltz, 2020-11-25 Love endures across time and distance for a young college student and a cadet at the onset of WWII They fall in love and marry before he is shipped off to the South Pacific For the next few years they corresponded mainly through letters Good Night Officially William McBride, 1996-05-16 27 March 1945 Hello baby darling We re at sea again The jumping rolling tossing sea again My belly isn t the only thing with the jitters this time They affect my whole body Okinawa Just looking at it on the map breaks us out in a cold sweat Okinawa spells Kamikaze Corps to us Somebody s gotta get it and we may be lucky or unlucky You see the Navy loses a lot of men but you don't particularly hear about it These are the words of Orvill Raines a newspaperman in civilian life who now found himself in the uniform of a Yeoman Second Class on the destroyer Howorth and smack in the middle of the Pacific war From his assignment to the ship in April 1944 until his death one year later in a kamikaze attack off Okinawa Orvill Raines wrote a remarkable series of letters to his young bride Ray Ellen His perceptive uncensored correspondence shows us with a directness that no conventional history could hope to match the horrific experiences shared by thousands of American seamen who fought the good war against the Japanese half a century ago Special arrangements with the officer responsible for censoring his letters enabled Raines to candidly chronicle the war as he and his shipmates knew it His keen and literate observations provide a rare glimpse of the everyday world of the enlisted sailor a world permeated by boredom and routine camaraderie and high jinks but regularly punctuated by the frantic action and intense terror of combat And the Howorth's crew saw plenty of combat The reconquest of the Philippines where Raines's strongest memory is of the continual parade of floating bodies in Leyte Gulf the twenty four days spent firing on the entrenched Japanese on the stark volcanic hell of Iwo Jima and the bloody invasion of Okinawa are just some of the dramatic engagements that Raines witnessed and recorded There is a deeply personal side to these letters as well They tell of Orvill's adoration and longing for Ray Ellen faced with a lengthy and uncertain separation they promised to bid each other an official good night every evening and of his aspirations for a better life after the war Knowing the author's fate renders these hopes and dreams even more poignant Orvill's last letter to be opened only in the event of his death is the most touching of all as he bids his beloved Ray Ellen a final goodbye officially The letters are carefully edited and superbly set in their historical context by William M McBride Good Night Officially is a tribute to the genuine heroism of the millions of ordinary men who served their country in World War II and a fitting remembrance of the squandered potential and tragic sacrifice made by hundreds of thousands of Americans in a war of unparalleled ferocity Letters from the Pacific Russell Cartwright Stroup, 2000 Edited annotated and introduced by Richard Cartwright Austin Stroup's letters provide the most probing insight into a combat chaplain's role currently available BOOK JACKET Good Night Officially Orvill Raines, 1996 Letters from North America and the Pacific 1898 Sir Charles Philips Trevelyan, 1969
