Phrases Bartlett Jere Whiting, 1977 p B J Whiting savors proverbial expressions and has devoted much of his lifetime to studying and collecting them no one knows more about British and American proverbs than he The present volume based upon writings in British North America from the earliest settlements to approximately 1820 complements his and Archer Taylor's Dictionary of American Proverbs and Proverbial Phrases 1820 1880 It differs from that work and from other standard collections however in that its sources are primarily not literary but instead workaday writings letters diaries histories travel books political pamphlets and the like The authors represent a wide cross section of the populace from scholars and statesmen to farmers shopkeepers sailors and hunters Mr Whiting has combed all the obvious sources and hundreds of out of the way publications of local journals and historical societies This body of material because it covers territory that has not been extracted and compiled in a scholarly way before can justly be said to be the most valuable of all those that Whiting has brought together according to Albert B Friedman What makes the work important is Whiting's authority a proverb or proverbial phrase is what BJW thinks is a proverb or proverbial phrase There is no objective operative definition of any value no divining rod his tact feel experience determine what's the real thing and what is spurious

Taylor, Reginald Heber, 1822 The Aesthetics of Qiyun and Genius Xiaoyan Hu, 2021-08-10 In The Aesthetics of Qiyun and Genius Spirit Consonance in Chinese Landscape Painting and Some Kantian Echoes Xiaoyan Hu provides an interpretation of the notion of qiyun or spirit consonance in Chinese painting and considers why creating a painting especially a landscape painting replete with qiyun is regarded as an art of genius where genius is an innate mental talent Through a comparison of the role of this innate mental disposition in the aesthetics of qiyun and Kant's account of artistic genius the book addresses an important feature of the Chinese aesthetic tradition one that evades the aesthetic universality assumed by a Kantian lens Drawing on the views of influential sixth to fourteenth century theorists and art historians and connoisseurs the first part explains and discusses qiyun and its conceptual development from a notion mainly applied to figure painting to one that also plays an enduring role in the aesthetics of landscape painting In the light of Kant's account of genius the second part examines a range of issues regarding the role of the mind in creating a painting replete with qiyun and the impossibility of teaching qiyun Through this comparison with Kant Hu demystifies the uniqueness of qiyun aesthetics and also illuminates some limitations in Kant s aesthetics The publication of this work was supported by the Fundamental Research Funds for the Central Universities project no 3213042202A1 Mr. Robe's Fourth Letter to Mr. Fisher James Robe,1743
