The Selected Letters of Alice Meynell Damian Atkinson, 2014-07-03 The Catholic convert and women of letters Alice Meynell 1847 1922 ranks as a sophisticated essayist and poet of the late Victorian period and the early twentieth century She had the advantage of an educated father and a musical mother who spent much of their early time with the family visiting Europe especially Italy Alice's father was a friend of Dickens and her mother was admired by Dickens Alice and her sister Elizabeth later the famed artist Lady Butler were educated privately and more so by their travels This background gave Alice a great interest in art music poetry and literature Her conversion to Catholicism in 1868 was the rock of her existence and coloured her entire life Alice and her convert husband Wilfrid were very involved in the journalistic world as she was a contributor to the Scots National Observer Dublin Review Tablet Athenaeum Speaker Spectator and the Magazine of Art Alice was also an important unsigned contributor to the Pall Mall Gazette Wares of Autolycus column for many years Together Wilfrid and Alice edited and wrote for their own illustrated monthly Merry England from 1883 95 Contributors included Alice's close friend Katharine Tynan Coventry Patmore Andrew Lang and Francis Thompson whose The Hound of Heaven was first published by them They also managed the Weekly Register from 1881 98 The two journals kept Alice very busy as did her large family Alice's letters show her literary work both poetry and essays and her relationship with John Lane who published many of her books an arrangement not always easy She discusses her work with poets such as John Freeman and John Drinkwater and her admiration for Coventry Patmore with the writer Frederick Page She was obviously considered important for aspiring and established poets who sought her approbation She visited America in late 1901 for a short lecture tour which was fairly successful but also gave her some lifelong friends She supported women's suffrage and marched although she was against its militancy Alice was ambivalent about the First World War and her final years were spent writing and editing anthologies

The Epistolary Renaissance Maria Löschnigg, Rebekka Schuh, 2018-09-10 Since the late twentieth century letters in literature have seen a remarkable renaissance The prominence of letters in recent fiction is due in part to the rediscovery by contemporary writers of letters as an effective tool for rendering aspects of historicity liminality marginalization and the expression of subjectivity vis-à-vis another it is also due however to the artistically challenging inclusion of the new electronic media of communication into fiction While studies of epistolary fiction have so far concentrated on the eighteenth century and on thematic concerns this volume charts the epistolary renaissance in recent literature entering new territory by also focusing on the aesthetic implications of the epistolary mode In particular the essays in this volume illuminate the potential of the epistolary including digital forms for rendering contemporary sensitivities The volume thus offers a comprehensive assessment of letter narratives in contemporary literature Through its focus on the aesthetic and structural aspects of new epistolary fiction the inclusion of various narrative forms and the consideration of both conventional letters and their new digital kindred The Epistolary Renaissance offers novel insight into a multi-faceted re-negotiated genre

The Death and Letters of Alice James Alice James, 1981 Ruth Yeazell's essay is a mesmerizing account of Alice James's career in individualism

Stories in Letters - Letters in Stories Rebekka Schuh, 2021-10-04 This book deals with letters in Anglophone Canadian short stories of the late twentieth and the early twenty-first century in the context of liminality It argues that in the course of the epistolary renaissance the letter which has often been deemed to be obsolete in literature has not only enjoyed an upsurge in novels but also migrated to the short story thus constituting the genre of the epistolary short story

Letters to Alice King Grossman, 2016-11-21 Set in the literary enclaves of Manhattan with a parallel story line developed in Moscow and the famous author Boris Pasternak's dacha at Peredelkino this novel explores music love and creative expression against the backdrop of Russian literary history during the Stalinist purges and modern-day oppression in the U.S. and abroad
