Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang, 2017-02-19 With twenty two letters addressed to various already deceased authors Andrew Lang discusses literary subjects with his usual humour and acidity The impulse for the writing of the letters came almost as a joke from the editor of the St James's Gazette and sixteen of the letters collected in the volume appeared first in that journal According to the author some of the Letters are written rather to suit the Correspondent than to express the writer's own taste or opinions in all of them though the reader will find the charming wit of their author

July 1912 was a Scots poet novelist literary critic and contributor to the field of anthropology He is best known as a collector of folk and fairy tales The Andrew Lang lectures at the University of St Andrews are named after him Lang was born in Selkirk He was the eldest of the eight children born to John Lang the town clerk of Selkirk and his wife Jane Plenderleath Sellar who was the daughter of Patrick Sellar factor to the first duke of Sutherland On 17 April 1875 he married Leonora Blanche Alleyne youngest daughter of C T Alleyne of Clifton and Barbados She was or should have been variously credited as author collaborator or translator of Lang's Color Rainbow Fairy Books which he edited He was educated at Selkirk Grammar School Loretto and at the Edinburgh Academy St Andrews University and at Balliol College Oxford where he took a first class in the final classical schools in 1868 becoming a fellow and subsequently honorary fellow of Merton College He soon made a reputation as one of the most able and versatile writers of the day as a journalist poet critic and historian In 1906 he was elected FBA He died of angina pectoris at the Tor na Coille Hotel in Banchory Banchory survived by his wife He was buried in the cathedral precincts at St Andrews

Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang, 2003-07 Webpage containing letters to dead authors by Andrew Lang New & Old Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang, 1907 Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang, 2021-02-05 It must be owned that this attitude is sometimes made a little difficult by the vigour of your special devotees They have ceased indeed thank Heaven to imitate you and even in descriptive articles the touch of Mr Giguadib's of him whom we almost took for the true Dickens has disappeared The young lions of the Press no longer mimic your less admirable mannerisms do not strain so much after fantastic comparisons do not in your manner and Mr Carlyle's give people nick names derived from their teeth or their complexion and generally we are spared second hand copies of all that in your style was least to be commended But though improved by lapse of time in this respect your devotees still put on little conscious airs of virtue robust manliness and so forth which would have irritated you very much and there survive some press men who seem to have read you a little especially your later works and never to have read anything else Now familiarity with the pages of Our Mutual Friend and Dombey and Son does not precisely constitute a liberal education and the assumption that it does is apt quite unreasonably to prejudice people against the greatest comic genius of modern time

Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang, 2019-11-29 In Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang masterfully blends literary criticism with a playful epistolary style crafting a series of imaginative correspondences with some of the greatest figures in literature This collection deftly navigates the landscape of literary history offering insightful reflections on the works and lives of notable authors such as Homer Shakespeare and Goethe Lang's charm and wit infuse each letter allowing him to engage in a conversation that transcends time effectively bridging the gap between the past and his contemporary Victorian audience while also enriching the literary discourse of his era Andrew Lang was not only a prolific author but also a respected scholar and a key figure in the development of the early literary criticism genre His deep appreciation for mythology folklore and classic literature led him to explore the artistic nuances of these canonical authors Lang's background as a philologist and his close friendships with other literary luminaries of the late 19th century undoubtedly shaped his perspective enriching his commentary with both scholarly depth and personal insight Letters to Dead Authors is a must read for anyone seeking to understand the interplay between literature and historical context Readers will find in Lang's correspondence a blend of academic rigor and playful imagination making it an engaging exploration of literary legacies This work not only invites readers to communicate with the past but also challenges them to reflect on the enduring influence of these dead authors in shaping contemporary thought and literature Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang, 2019-10-24 This is a pre 1923 historical reproduction that was curated for quality Quality assurance was conducted on each of these books in an attempt to remove books with imperfections introduced by the digitization process Though we have made best efforts the books may have occasional errors that do not impede the reading experience We believe this work is culturally important and have elected to bring the book back into print as part of our continuing commitment to the preservation of printed works worldwide Andrew Lang FBA was a Scottish poet novelist literary critic and contributor to the field of anthropology He is best known as a collector of folk and fairy tales The Andrew Lang lectures at the University of St Andrews are named after him New and Old Letters to Dead Authors, by Andrew Lang... Andrew Lang, 1907 Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang, 2020-03-28 SIR There are many things that stand in the way of the critic when he has a mind to praise the living He may dread the charge of writing rather to vex a rival than to exalt the subject of his applause He shuns the appearance of seeking the favour of the famous and would not willingly be regarded as one of the many parasites who now advertise each movement and action of contemporary genius Such and such men of letters are passing their summer holidays in the Val d'Aosta or the Mountains of the Moon or the Suliman Range as it may happen So reports our literary Court Circular and all our Princesses read the tidings with enthusiasm Lastly if the critic be quite new to the world of letters he may superfluously fear to vex a poet or a novelist by the abundance of his eulogy No such doubts perplex us when with all our hearts we would commend the departed for they have passed almost beyond the reach even of envy and to those pale cheeks of theirs no commendation can bring the red Letters to Dead Authors ... Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang, 2017-10-02 Trieste Publishing has a massive catalogue of classic book titles Our aim is to provide readers with the highest quality reproductions of fiction and non fiction literature that has stood the test of time The many thousands of books in our collection have been sourced from libraries and private collections around the world The titles that Trieste Publishing has chosen to be part of the collection have been scanned to simulate the original Our readers see the books the same way that their first readers did decades or a hundred or more years ago Books from that period are often spoiled by imperfections that did not exist in the original Imperfections could be in the form of blurred text photographs or missing pages It is highly unlikely that this would occur with one of our books Our extensive quality control ensures that the readers of Trieste Publishing's books will be delighted with their purchase Our staff has thoroughly reviewed every page of all the books in the collection repairing or if necessary rejecting titles that are not of the highest quality This process ensures that the reader of one of Trieste Publishing s titles receives a volume that faithfully reproduces the original and to the maximum degree possible gives them the experience of owning the original work We pride ourselves on not only creating a pathway to an extensive reservoir of books of the finest quality but also providing value to every one of our readers Generally Trieste books are purchased singly on demand however they may also be purchased in bulk Readers interested in bulk purchases are invited to contact us directly to enquire about our tailored bulk rates

Letters to Dead Authors; New Ed Andrew Lang,1892 Letters to Dead Authors Andrew Lang,2018-02-16 Except Thus fiction in your hands was not simply a profession like another but a constant reflection of the whole surface of life a repeated echo of its laughter and its complaint Others have written and not written badly with the stolid professional regularity of the clerk at his desk you like the Scholar Gipsy might have said that it needs heaven sent moments for this skill There are it will not surprise you some honourable women and a few men who call you a cynic We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience

Letters to Dead Authors (1886) Andrew Lang,2018-10-22 Letters to Dead Authors contains twenty two letters written by Andrew Lang 1844 1912 to bards poets and novelists from Homer to Rabelais to Austen An incredibly prolific writer from the Scottish Borders Lang s name can be found on 249 books and thousands of newspaper articles As a literary critic he inspired love fear respect and laughter He was sometimes acerbic sometimes reverential and usually witty There is more glowing praise in Letters to Dead Authors than scathing criticism In fact he expresses a very very high opinion of most of his correspondents While this can verge on cloying it can also be rather beautiful For example to Percy Bysshe Shelley he writes Watching the yellow bees in the ivy bloom and the reflected pine forest in the water pools watching the sunset as it faded and the dawn as it fired and weaving all fair and fleeting things into a tissue where light and music were at one that was the task of Shelley To ask you for anything human you said was like asking for a leg of mutton at a gin shop Andrew Lang FBA 31 March 1844 20 July 1912 was a Scottish poet novelist literary critic and contributor to the field of anthropology He is best known as a collector of folk and fairy tales The Andrew Lang lectures at the University of St Andrews are named after him BiographyLang was born in Selkirk He was the eldest of the eight children born to John Lang the town clerk of Selkirk and his wife Jane Plenderleath Sellar who was the daughter of Patrick Sellar factor to the first duke of Sutherland On 17 April 1875 he married Leonora Blanche Alleyne youngest daughter of C T Alleyne of Clifton and Barbados She was or should have been variously credited as author collaborator or translator of Lang s Color Rainbow Fairy Books which he edited He was educated at Selkirk Grammar School Loretto and at the Edinburgh Academy St Andrews University and at Balliol College Oxford where he took a first class in the final classical schools in 1868 becoming a fellow and subsequently honorary fellow of Merton College He soon made a reputation as one of the most able and versatile writers of the day as a journalist poet critic and historian In 1906 he was elected FBA He died of angina pectoris at the Tor na Coille Hotel in Banchory Banchory survived by his wife He was buried in the cathedral precincts at St Andrews where a monument can be visited in the south east corner of the 19th century section
