Taiwan was able to solidly build and sustain a film industry only after locally produced Mandarin films secured markets in Hong Kong and Southeast Asia during the 1960s and 1970s Though only a small island with a limited population in its heyday Taiwan was among the top 10 film producing countries areas in the world turning out hundreds of martial arts kung fu films and romantic melodramas annually that were screened in theaters across Southeast Asia and other areas internationally However except for one acclaimed film by director King Hu Taiwan cinema was nearly invisible on the art cinema map until the 1980s when the films of Hou Hsiao hsien Edward Yang and other Taiwan New Cinema directors gained recognition at international film festivals first in Europe and later throughout the world Since then many other Taiwan directors have also become an important part of cinema history such as Ang Lee and Tsai Ming liang The Historical Dictionary of Taiwan Cinema covers the history of cinema in Taiwan during both the Japanese colonial period 1895 1945 and the Chinese Nationalist period 1945 present This is accomplished through a chronology highlighting the main events during the long period and an

Coupe,2008-08-27 A Grammar of Mongsen Ao the result of the author s fieldwork over a ten year period presents the first comprehensive grammatical description of a language spoken in Nagaland north east India The languages of this region remain under documented for a number of historical reasons During the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the widespread cultural practice of head hunting discouraged outsiders from entering the Naga Hills Shortly after Indian independence in 1947 an armed rebellion by Naga separatists and a government policy of restricting access to the troubled area ensured that Nagaland remained a difficult place to conduct research In this context A Grammar of Mongsen Ao offers valuable new insights into the structure of a Tibeto Burman language spoken in a linguistically little known region of the world The grammatical analysis documents all the functional domains of the language and includes four glossed and translated texts the latter being of interest to anthropologists studying folklore Mongsen Ao is a highly agglutinating mostly suffixing language with predominantly dependent marking characteristics Its grammar demonstrates a number of typologically interesting features that are described in detail in the book Among these is an unusual case marking system in which grammatical marking is motivated by semantic and pragmatic factors and a rich verbal morphology that produces elaborate sequences of agglutinative suffixes Grammaticalisation processes are also discussed where relevant thereby extending the appeal of the book to linguists with interests in grammaticalisation theory This book will be of value to any linguist seeking to clarify genetic relationships within the Tibeto Burman family and it will serve more broadly as a reference grammar for typologists interested in the typological features of a Tibeto Burman language of north east India
