Physics for the Liberal Arts Student David S. Saxon, William B. Fretter, 1973 Liberal Arts Physics Art Hobson, Earl C. Swallow, Marie C. Baehr, 1994-12 Lab Manual for Liberal Arts Physics contains 32 experiments some traditional some conceptual and others computer based This text is designed for the non science liberal arts student for a one semester course Includes a mix of exercises and student activities brief demos brief discussions discovery experiments and a number of projects term home and library Liberal Arts Physics LM, 2E - PHYS 1031 John Dayton, 2018 An Integrated Physics-chemistry Course in a Liberal Arts College Harold LeRoy McIntosh, 1969 Purpose of the Study In most liberal arts colleges the majority of students enrolled are primarily interested in a liberal education To meet the requirements of its students several colleges have introduced a relatively new program in the sciences this program is the integrated science course This study attempts to evaluate an integrated physics chemistry course in a liberal arts college Procedure Four liberal arts colleges ranging in size from 700 to 1000 students were chosen to furnish the population groups for this study The control group 94 students consisted of students enrolled in a course in general chemistry in three liberal arts colleges The experimental group 83 students consisted of students enrolled in an integrated course in physics and chemistry in Tarkio College Following one academic year of instruction the population groups were administered two tests The tests used were Watson Glaser Critical Thinking Appraisal CTA Form Ym and 2 American Chemical Society ACS Cooperative Examination in General Chemistry Form 1965 The ACS test was divided into sub tests in order to get a more accurate measure of the achievement in chemistry The area of chemistry was chosen as the course content to be measured largely owing to the availability of an adequate test to measure chemistry achievements data Findings The following conclusions were drawn from the analysis of the 1 The control group chemistry students was superior in its knowledge of chemistry as compared with the experimental group integrated physics chemistry students This superiority was exhibited by higher scores on the ACS test and the sub tests of the ACS test 2 The control group was superior to the experimental group in the area of critical thinking as exhibited by the CTA test 3 The integrated physics chemistry course of two semester duration did not adequately prepare the students for the test used in the area of chemistry The basis for this finding was the comparison of the integrated group to the chemistry group 4 To adequately evaluate the integrated physics chemistry program the program should be of two years duration and student achievement should be compared with that of students who have completed one year each of college chemistry and physics Recommendations As a result of this study the following recommendations were made 1 The integrated course should be studied on the basis of two three and four terms in length 2 A study should be made that would compare the integrated course with both physics and chemistry courses 3 A study should be made of the student in a physics chemistry course subsequent to his completion of the integrated program to determine whether the integrated course adequately prepares the student for advanced work 4 A study should be made of different techniques of teaching the

Dixon,2003-09-19 Our Almost Impossible Universe R. Mirman,2006 WHY GOD COULD NOT CREATE THE UNIVERSE WITH A DIFFERENT DIMENSION EVEN IF IT WANTED TO or perhaps anything else Perhaps the universe must be the way it is It seems that what is omnipotent is mathematics elementary arithmetic just counting Yet even mathematics is not powerful enough to create a universe there are just too many conditions conflicting Existence is impossible Beyond that for there to be structure is quite inconceivable But the universe does exist there are galaxies stars even the possibility of life That life is possible merely allows it to exist but only with the greatest good fortune does it actually occur Intelligence is vastly less likely ability and technology far more improbable That we are what we are seem so strange inconceivable that we are left merely with wonder and as we seem unable to realize the need for the deepest care responsibility and gratitude We have been given by the unbelievable benevolence of chance no life but life with the most wondrous part of the universe the ability to think to know to create to wonder and thus the demand that we use our most awesome gifts to protect them to protect and preserve the world in which they exist and the life likely so rare if not unique in the universe which has received these astounding favors of chance that has been given by nature its most exalted constituents What we are requires that we enhance what we are what we are part of to see understand and be grateful An exploration of the precise conditions required for the existence of humans in the universe the author does an admirable job delineating the laws of physics without becoming too bogged down in complicated jargon and he maintains a sense of wonder about the unique and random nature of the universe He repeatedly celebrates our highly improbable achievements as a species marveling at our ability to use the language of abstract mathematics to unravel the mysteries of existence the prevailing tone of the narrative is clear and confident marked by a meticulous attention to detail An often fascinating journey through the history of the universe and mankind Kirkus Discoveries Physics and Technology for the Liberal Arts Robert Dixon,1998-01-01 Good End of Chapter Problems ,2010 End of chapter problems in physics Introductory Physics for Liberal Arts Students Robert Karplus,1966 Physical Science for Liberal Arts Students Hugo Nathanael Swenson,Justus Edmund Woods,1971-01-01
