This template is provided to help you communicate about Stop on Red Week. As always, your personal perspective and stories provide additional depth. We encourage you to add to this language to customize it for your use. Then, select which publication to pitch based on recent coverage and local interest. It is more effective to pitch to an outlet with an audience that is directly affected by the issue and the information you have available.

NOTE: Please publish this letter to the editor/op-ed during National Stop on Red Week August 2-8, 2020.

---

Sample Pitch:

Hello (Name):

In lieu of National Stop on Red Week, which is devoted to raising awareness about the importance of safe driving, I have written an editorial (attached) that I would like you to consider for publication.

Red-light running is a leading cause of urban crashes. In 2018, 846 people were killed and an estimated 139,000 were injured in crashes involving red-light running.

In this piece, I have highlighted key stats that showcase the dangers of red-light running and the importance of safe driving.

Please let me know if you are interested, or if you need any additional information.

I look forward to hearing from you.

(Your Name)

IF HAVE STATS:

City's road safety program has been very successful at reducing the number of red-light running violations and crashes. We've seen a XX% reduction of red-light running violations at (photo-enforced intersections/list specific intersection name) and a reduction of XX% in red-light running related crashes at (photo-enforced intersections/list specific intersection name).

ALL:

National Stop on Red Week serves as an important reminder of the dangers in intersections and the importance of stopping on red. Preventing these crashes is in each driver's control. Together, we can protect our community, families and children by ALWAYS STOPPING on RED.

Regards,

Elected Official/Police Chief (multiple names encouraged)

Dear Editor:

Intersection safety is a serious topic of concern in our communities. The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) found that motorists in urban areas are more likely to be injured in crashes involving red-light running than in any other type of crash.

The U.S. Department of Transportation reports that one in three Americans know someone who has been injured or killed in a red-light running crash.

Between 2004- 2018, an estimated 11,877 people were killed in crashes related to red-light running according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). In 2018, 846 people were killed and an estimated 139,000 were injured in crashes involving red-light running. IIHS found that about half of red-light running crash deaths involve pedestrians, cyclists and occupants in vehicles struck by the red-light runners.

Perhaps the most tragic part is that these crashes, injuries and deaths are 100 percent preventable if people would simply follow the law and stop on red. We must do everything we can to make intersections safer.

National Stop on Red Week is August 2-8. CITY/AGENCY is committed to reducing the number of red-light runners in our community.
