Kessler,2018-06-15 Lawrence Kessler uses the Jiangyin mission station in the Shanghai region of China to explore Chinese American cultural interaction in the first half of the twentieth century He concludes that the Protestant missionary movement was welcomed by the Chinese not because of the religious message it spread but because of the secular benefits it provided Like other missions the Jiangyin Station which was sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Wilmington North Carolina combined evangelism with social welfare programs and enjoyed a respected position within the local community By 1930 the station supported a hospital and several schools and engaged in anti opium campaigns and local peacekeeping efforts In many ways however Christianity was a disruptive force in Chinese society and Kessler examines Chinese ambivalence toward the mission movement the relationship between missions and imperialism and Westerners response to Chinese nationalism
