Letters From The Dust Bowl:

Letters from the Dust Bowl Caroline Agnes Henderson, 2001 She moved to Oklahoma's panhandle to homestead and teach in 1907 and her writing mirrored her love of the land and of the literature that sustained her as she struggled for survival during the Great Depression of the 1930s Even today Henderson's articles notably Letters from the Dust Bowl are frequently cited for her vivid descriptions of the dust storms that ravaged the Plains

Letters from the Dust Bowl Caroline Agnes Henderson, 1936 The Dust Bowl, Updated Edition Ronald Reis, 2021-04-01 Housewives hung wet sheets and blankets over windows struggling to seal every crack with gummed paper strips A man avoided shaking hands lest the static electricity gathered from a dust storm knock his greeter flat Children's tears turned to mud Horses chewed feed filled with dust particles that sandpapered their gums raw Dead cattle when pried open were filled with pounds of gut clogging dirt The simplest thing in life taking a breath became life threatening The Dust Bowl conditions during the Dirty Thirties were no blind stroke of nature but had their origins in human error and in the misuse of the land The Dust Bowl Updated Edition recounts the factors that led to the Dust Bowl conditions how those affected coped and what can be learned from the tragedy considered by many to be America's worst prolonged environmental disaster

The Dust Bowl Through the Lens Martin W. Sandler, 2009-10-13 The Dust Bowl was a time of hardship and disaster The worst ecological disaster in our nation's history turned more than 100 million acres of fertile land almost completely to dust Hundreds of thousands of people were forced to seek new homes and opportunities thousands of miles away while millions more chose to stay and battle nature to save their land These terrible repercussions from the Dust Bowl contributed to the Great Depression which impacted the entire country FDR's New Deal army of photographers took to the roads during this national crisis to document the human struggle of the proud people of the plains Their pictures spoke a thousand words and a new form of storytelling photojournalism was born These talented cameramen and women used photographs to inform the rest of the nation and bring about much needed change With the help of iconic images from Dorothea Lange Walker Evans Arthur Rothstein and many more Martin W Sandler tells the story of this man made natural disaster and these troubling economic times ultimately showing how a nation can endure its darkest days through extraordinary courage and human spirit

The American Century Tyrel Eskelson, 2016-06-01 If the 19th Century belonged to Britain the 20th Century was the age of American power and world dominance The American Century charts the rise to global power of the USA and its journey from a regional hegemon to superpower status It examines the development of an imperial power through the course of two world wars the long nuclear standoff with the Soviet Union and the economic shocks and crises of the 20th Century The American Century also examines life for the American people and the experience of living in a racially segregated and often volatile society where notions of liberty and the American dream were interpreted negotiated and sometimes rejected by many throughout a tumultuous century

Women's Letters Lisa Grunwald, Stephen J. Adler, 2009-01-21 Historical events of the last three centuries come alive through these women's singular correspondences often their only form of public expression In 1775 Rachel Revere tries to send financial aid to her husband Paul in a note that is confiscated by the British First Lady Dolley Madison tells her sister about rescuing George Washington's portrait during the War of 1812 one week after JFK's assassination Jacqueline Kennedy pens a heartfelt letter to Nikita Khrushchev and on September 12 2001 a schoolgirl writes a note of thanks to a New York City firefighter asking him 'Were you afraid?' The letters gathered here also offer fresh insight into the personal milestones in women's lives Here is a mid nineteenth century missionary describing a mastectomy performed without anesthesia Marilyn Monroe asking her doctor to spare her ovaries in a handwritten note she taped to her stomach before appendix surgery an eighteen year old telling her mother about her decision to have an abortion the year after Roe v Wade and a woman writing to her parents and in laws about adopting a Chinese baby With more than 400 letters and over 100 stunning photographs Women's Letters is a work of astonishing breadth and scope and a remarkable testament to the women who lived and made history From the Hardcover edition

Letters of the Century Lisa Grunwald, Stephen J. Adler, 2008-04-08 Immediate and evocative letters witness and fasten history catching events as they happen write Lisa Grunwald and Stephen J Adler in their introduction to this remarkable book In more than 400 letters from both famous figures and ordinary citizens Letters of the Century encapsulates the people and places events and trends that shaped our nation during the last 100 years Here is Mark Twain's hilarious letter of complaint to the head of Western Union an ecstatic letter from a young Charlie Chaplin upon receiving his first movie contract Einstein's letter to Franklin Roosevelt warning about atomic warfare Mark Rudd's generation gap letter to the president of Columbia University during the student riots of the 60s and a letter from young Bill Gates imploring hobbyists not to share software so that innovators can make some money In these pages our century's most celebrated figures become everyday people and everyday people become part of history Here is a veteran's wrenching letter left at the Vietnam Wall a poignant correspondence between two women trying to become mothers a heart breaking letter from an AIDS sufferer telling his parents how he wants to be buried an indignant e mail from a PC user to his on line server Letters write Grunwald and Adler give history a voice Arranged chronologically by decade illustrated with over 100 photographs Letters of the Century creates an extraordinary chronicle of our history through the voices of the men and women who have lived its greatest moments

Letters Home Philip M. Coons, 2012-03-30 During World War II nothing connected a serviceman and his sweetheart back home like a handwritten letter It was a link to home to the life a soldier had left behind In Letters Home Philip M Coons shares the almost daily letters that his father Harold M Coons wrote to his mother Margaret Richman Coons during basic training at Fort Bragg North Carolina Camp Rucker Alabama and his subsequent deployment with the United States Army's 66th Division to the European Theater of Operations Comprised of more than 500 letters Coons traces his father's remarkable journey from green soldier to seasoned vet and shares how this war affected the world on both a global and individual scale As part of the 66th Division

Coons crossed the Atlantic on the HMS Britannic stopped for a short while in southeastern England crossed the English Channel on Christmas Eve 1944 and ended his journey in Brittany France Here the 66th guarded the German submarine base pockets at L'Orient and St Nazaire Through it all Coons documents a soldier's daily life with its sometimes grueling days and nights revealing moments of despair hope friendship and courage within the midst of war A poignant intimate look at the on the ground experiences of a member of the Greatest Generation Letters Home is a worthy addition to any World War II bookshelf

Mapping Woody Guthrie Will Kaufman, 2019-01-24 I ain't got no home I'm just a roamin' round Woody Guthrie lamented in one of his most popular songs A native of Oklahoma he was still in his teens when he moved to Pampa Texas where he experienced the dust storms that would play such a crucial role in forming his identity and shaping his work He later joined thousands of Americans who headed to California to escape the devastation of the Dust Bowl There he entered the West Coast stronghold of the Popular Front whose leftward influence on his thinking would continue after his move in 1940 to New York where the American folk music renaissance began when Guthrie encountered Pete Seeger and Lead Belly Guthrie kept moving throughout his life making friends soaking up influences and writing about his experiences Along the way he produced more than 3 000 songs as well as fiction journalism poetry and visual art that gave voice to the distressed and dispossessed In this insightful book Will Kaufman examines the artist's career through a unique perspective the role of time and place in Guthrie's artistic evolution Guthrie disdained boundaries whether of geography class race or religion As he once claimed in his inimitable style There ain't no such thing as east west north or south Nevertheless places were critical to Guthrie's life thought and creativity He referred to himself as a compass pointer man and after his sojourn in California he headed up to the Pacific Northwest on to New York and crossed the Atlantic as a merchant marine Before his death from Huntington's disease in 1967 Guthrie had one more important trip to take to the Florida swamplands of Beluthahatchee in the heart of the South There he produced some of his most trenchant criticisms of Jim Crow racism a portion of his work that scholars have tended to overlook To map Guthrie's movements across space and time the author draws not only on the artist's considerable recorded and published output but on a wealth of unpublished sources including letters essays song lyrics and notebooks housed in the Woody Guthrie Archives in Tulsa Oklahoma This trove of primary documents deepens Kaufman's intriguing portrait of a unique American artist
