Letters From The Levant:

The Republic of Letters and the Levant ,2005-12-01 The eleven articles in this book seek to document the interest in the Levant that prevailed in the Republic of Letters from the Renaissance to the late eighteenth century The emphasis is on those collectors of manuscripts and antiquaries who either travelled in the Middle East the Vecchietti brothers John Greaves and Patrick Russell or who remaining in Europe acted through agents and correspondents scholars such as Peiresc John Selden and Robert Boyle But themes such as the discussion prompted by European translations of the Quran and by scholarly enterprises in the East such as the Mutaferrika printing press in Istanbul also come to the fore in a volume which contributes to the history of oriental studies in early modern Europe Contributors include Maurits H van den Boogert Alastair Hamilton Charles G D Littleton Peter N Miller Hannah Neudecker Francis Richard Jan Schmidt Zur Shalev and G J Toomer      Letters from the Levant John Galt,1813      Letters From The Levant; Containing Views Of The State Of Society, Manners, Opinions, And Commerce, In Greece, And Several Of The Principal Islands Of The Archipelago. Van Den Boogert,Bart Westerweel,2005 This collection of articles analyses the interests and experiences in the Levant of a number of leading western scholars of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries with an emphasis on the networks of learned friends throughout Europe with whom they corresponded      Letters from the Levant ,1838      Letters from the Levant John Galt,2017-07-18 Excerpt from Letters From the Levant Containing Views of the State of Society Manners Opinions and Commerce in Greece and Several of the Principal Islands of the Archipelago VIII Zante The appearance of the island 40 Custom of the peasants 41 Population and climate 41 Natural curiosities 42 The town of Tents 43 State of the clergy 43 State of the schools 44 Appearance of the people 44 Pawn bank 45 The utility of a similar institution in London 46 Public granary 46 Value Of land 47 Jews 47 Quoit players 47 Antient English burying ground 47 Wells 48 IX Zante Society 49 Albanian regiment 53 Doubts as to the correctness of our proceedings towards the Sultan 54 The provisional government 55 Political relationship of the island 56 A tax on snu to make and mend roads About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      Letters from the Levant John Galt,2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1813 edition Excerpt 196 LETTER XXV Athens March 17 I HAVE been a light to you in the Lantern of

Demosthenes so long that I think you must be anxious to receive some account of the lantern itself In Stuart s Antiquities every thing about Athens is so well represented that it is unnecessary for me to attempt to convey by words what is so effectually done already by visible representation therefore both for the antient and present state of this edifice as well as of every other relic in the town I cannot do better than refer you to Stuart The proper name of the building is The monument of Lysicrates It was erected to perpetuate the applause with which a theatrical entertainment given by him had been received by the Athenian people The subject of the entertainment probably related to the story of Bacchus as the frieze exhibits a series of figures which are supposed to represent the adventures of the God among the Tyrrhenian pirates The story is certainly not very perspicuously told but as the work was executed long before the days of Ovid it would be absurd to expect that the sculptures should tally with the description in the Metamorphoses unless indeed the Poet had only copied from the Sculptor However it is surely reasonable to believe that the adventures exhibited on the monument formed the subject of the spectacle in the theatre It seems a very strange thing that any person should ever in any age have thought of constructing so beautiful and so permanent an edifice as this merely to commemorate the success of a dramatic performance But in the days of Lysicrates the theatre was in some respects scarcely less hallowed than the temple and the exhibitions given there were in honour of the Gods particularly of

The Amarna Letters Jacob Lauinger,Tyler Yoder,2025-02-28 During Egypt s Eighteenth Dynasty ca 1550 1292 BCE the New Kingdom pharaohs campaigned repeatedly in Syria and the Levant establishing political control over much of the region As a result of these conquests the rulers of Levantine city states sent letters written in Akkadian in the cuneiform script on clay tablets to the Egyptian pharaohs So too did the kings of the other great geopolitical powers of the time Assyria Babylonia Hatti and Mittani maintain an active diplomatic correspondence with Egypt s pharaohs Beginning in the nineteenth century CE local farmers and later archaeologists working at Akhetaten modern Tell el Amarna the one time Egyptian capital discovered remnants of this correspondence mostly dating to the reigns of Amenhotep III ca 1388 1350 BCE and his son and successor Akhenaten ca 1350 1333 BCE with some dating to Tutankhamun ca 1333 1323 This is a period of increasing friction as the great powers sought to extend their borders The Amarna Letters thus illuminate a pivotal point in Egypt s foreign relations during the Late Bronze Age Even though they provide us with a narrow window of only about thirty years time 1358 1325 BCE they are an important witness to the general nature of Egypt s diplomatic relations during the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Dynasties This new digitally borne edition of the Amarna Letters offers the first complete collection of the letters with responsible transliterations that have been checked against available photographs and hand copies clear and consistent translations and an up to date and extensive bibliography As such it is and will remain an essential resource

The Republic of Arabic Letters Alexander Bevilacqua,2018-02-23 Alexander Bevilacqua shows that the Enlightenment effort to learn about Islam and its religious and intellectual traditions issued not from a secular agenda but from the scholarly commitments of a pioneering group of Catholic and Protestant Christians who cast aside inherited views and bequeathed a new understanding of Islam to the modern West      Letters from the Levant During the Embassy to Constantinople, 1716-18 Lady Mary Wortley Montagu, 1971      Letters from the Levant During the Embassy to Constantinople 1716-18 Mary Wortley Montagu, 1971      Arthur Pullinger: An Early Traveler in Syria and Asia Minor Christian Naour, Ronald S. Stroud, Thomas Drew Bear, 1985 This is a print on demand edition of an important hard to find report      Levant Trade in the Middle Ages Eliyahu Ashtor, 2014-07-14 The book is based on Arabic sources documents in archives of centers of Levantine trade and material from the files of the firm of Francesco Datini From the fall of Acre to the journey of Vasco de Gama the author provides an invaluable description of late medieval Mediterranean trade Originally published in 1984 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905      Letters from the Levant During the Embassy to Constantinople 1716-18. Reprinted Mary Wortley Montagu, 1971      The Whispers of Cities John-Paul A. Ghobrial, 2013-12-12 In recent years global historians have painted an impressionistic picture of what they call the connected world of the seventeenth century Inspired perhaps by the globalised world in which they write scholars have emphasised how the circulation of people objects and ideas linked the distant reaches of the early modern world Yet for all the advocates of such a connected history we are only beginning to make sense of what global connectedness meant in practice in the lives of ordinary people To this end The Whispers of Cities explores interactions between early modern Europe and the Ottoman Empire through the kaleidoscope of communication It does so by focusing on how information flows linked Istanbul London and Paris in the late seventeenth century Because individuals were at the heart of communication the book offers a micro historical reading of the experiences of Sir William Trumbull English ambassador to Istanbul from 1687 to 1692 It follows Trumbull as he was transformed from a civil lawyer and state official in London to a European notable at the heart of Ottoman social networks in Istanbul In this way The Whispers of Cities reveals how information flows between Istanbul London and Paris were rooted in the personal encounters that took place between Ottomans and Europeans in everyday communication At the intersection of global history and the history of communication therefore the author argues that worlds of information tied Europeans to their Ottoman counterparts long before the age of modernisation as news stories and even fictions transcended linguistic and confessional boundaries and connected people across Europe and the Mediterranean world What emerges here is a picture of globalization that is as much about networks flows and circulation as it is about the imperfections asymmetries and unevenness of connectedness in the early modern world      Catalogue of Stirling's and Glasgow Library Glasgow (Scotland). views of the state of society ... and commerce, in Greece, etc John Galt,1813      The Oxford Handbook of British Romantic Prose Robert Morrison,2024 The Oxford Handbook of British Romantic Prose is a full length essay collection devoted entirely to British Romantic nonfiction prose Organized into eight parts each containing between five and nine chapters arranged alphabetically the Handbook weaves together familiar and unfamiliar texts events and authors and invites readers to draw comparisons reimagine connections and disconnections and confront frequently stark contradictions within British Romantic nonfiction prose but also in its relationship to British Romanticism more generally and to the literary practices and cultural contexts of other periods and countries The Handbook builds on previous scholarship in the field considers emerging trends and evolving methodologies and suggests future areas of study Throughout the emphasis is on lucid expression rather than gnomic declaration and on chapters that offer not a dutiful survey but evaluative assessments that keep an eye on the bigger picture yet also dwell meaningfully on specific paradoxes and the most telling examples Taken as a whole the volume demonstrates the energy originality and diversity at the crux of British Romantic nonfiction prose It vigorously challenges the traditional construction of the British Romantic movement as focused too exclusively on the accomplishments of its poets and it reveals the many ways in which scholars of the period are steadily broadening out and opening up delineations of British Romanticism in order to encompass and thoroughly evaluate the achievements of its nonfiction prose writers      A Second Supplement to the Catalogue of Books in the Signet Library. 1882-1887 Signet Library (Great Britain),1891
