Dear Sir,

My name is Ashok Sharma. I have just finished with my exams for 12th standard from Bal Bharti School, CBSE Board. I am writing this letter to express my keen interest for the apprenticeship program for Marketing Executives which was advertised in TOI on April 25th, 2019.

I would like to share that I have worked with Mc. Donald's. My job required me to take orders from customers, process these orders and manage the cash. I was also awarded the badge of "Employee of the Week" because of my impressive performance. This gave me an exposure to the industry and also an experience to deal with different kinds of customers and situations.

I am very sure that if given a chance, I can be an asset to your organization. I am hard working, committed and positive in approach. I am also a good team player and fast learner. I am extremely focused and passionate to shape up my career with my hard work and dedication.

Please find attached my resume which has complete details on my qualification and work experience. You can reach me at +91-9898989898 or ashok@gmail.com. I look forward to meet you in person and discuss the opportunity with you.

Looking forward to hear from you.

Thanking in anticipation.

Sincerely,

Ashok Sharma

In the early nineteenth century when the Hudson's Bay Company sent men to its furthest posts along the coast of North America's Pacific Northwest the letters of those who cared for those men followed them in the Company's supply ships. Sometimes these letters missed their objects: the men had returned to Britain or deserted their ships or died. The Company returned the correspondence to its London office and over the years amassed a file of undelivered letters. Many of these remained sealed for 150 years and until they were opened by archivist Judith Hudson Beattie when the Company archives were moved to Canada. These letters tell the fascinating stories of ordinary people whose lives are rarely recounted in traditional histories. Beattie and Helen M. Buss skilfully introduce us to both the lives of the letter writers and their would-be recipients. Their commentaries frame for contemporary readers the words of early nineteenth-century working and middle-class British folk as well as letters to voyageurs from Quebec. The stories of their lives: fathers struggling to support a family; widowed mothers yearning to see their sons; bereft sweethearts left behind; and wives raising their children alone reach out over two centuries to offer rare insight into the varied worlds of men and women in the early nineteenth century, many of whom became settlers in
