McNamara, Karan Sheldon, 2017-06-20 A compelling regional and historical study that transforms our understanding of film history Amateur Movie Making demonstrates how amateur films and home movies stand as testaments to the creative lives of ordinary people enriching our experience of art and the everyday Here we encounter the lyrical and visually expressive qualities of films produced in New England between 1915 and 1960 and held in the collections of Northeast Historic Film a moving image repository and study center that was established to collect preserve and interpret the audiovisual record of northern New England Contributors from diverse backgrounds examine the visual aesthetics of these films while placing them in their social political and historical contexts Each discussion is enhanced by technical notes and the analyses are also juxtaposed with personal reflections by artists who have close connections to particular amateur filmmakers These reflections reanimate the original private contexts of the home movies before they were recast as objects of study and artifacts of public history The Nature of Cities Michael Bennett, David W. Teague, 2021-10-12 Cities are often thought to be separate from nature but recent trends in ecocriticism demand that we consider them as part of the total environment This new collection of essays sharpens the focus on the nature of cities by exploring the facets of an urban ecocriticism by reminding city dwellers of their place in ecosystems and by emphasizing the importance of this connection in understanding urban life and culture The editors both raised in small towns but now living in major urban areas are especially concerned with the sociopolitical construction of all environments both natural and manmade Following an opening interview with Andrew Ross exploring the general parameters of urban ecocriticism they present essays that explore urban nature writing city parks urban wilderness ecofeminism and the city and urban space The volume includes contributions on topics as wide ranging as the urban poetry of English writers from Donne to Gay the manufactured wildness of a gambling casino and the marketing of cosmetics to urban women by idealizing Third World naturalness These essays seek to reconceive nature and its cultural representations in ways that contribute to understanding the contemporary cityscape They explore the theoretical issues that arise when one attempts to adopt and adapt an environmental perspective for analyzing urban life The Nature of Cities offers the ecological component often missing from cultural analyses of the city and the urban perspective often lacking in environmental approaches to contemporary culture By bridging the historical gap between environmentalism cultural studies and urban experience the book makes a statement of lasting importance to the development of the ecocritical movement Architecture,

Well-being and the Built Environment Almantas Samalavičius, 2024-12-19 This book explores the link between well being society and the built environment The author argues that urban living has deteriorated globally particularly over the past 200 years due to industrial architectural and urban designs that harm both human and natural environments However existing intellectual tools can counter and reverse this decline by challenging mainstream industrial design The book revisits a range of approaches that emerged in the last century offering insights into urban and architectural challenges These include architectural phenomenology cognitive architecture biophilic design and the reassessment of traditional architectural and urban practices By reflecting on what urban historian Lewis Mumford called the uses of the past the author suggests that revisiting alternative modernisms and other non mainstream ideas may offer a more balanced approach than relying solely on technological progress

Metropolis Philip Kasinitz, 1995 Draws on renowned social thinkers to help understand why Americans flock to urban centers The modern city is the nexus of culture politics and art Despite the manifold problems cities face more and more Americans are abandoning rural areas and relocating to urban centers By the year 2000 4 out of 5 Americans will live within one hour of a major city What has prompted this emphasis on the city Chronicling the rise of the modern city Metropolis draws from the work of such renowned social thinkers as Georg Simmel Lewis Mumford Walter Benjamin Richard Sennett and Herbert Gans to illustrate how and why we have come to be an urban society and what the future holds for the American city Each of the five sections on modernity and the urban ethos New York City community and social bonds in the city social relations and public places and the role of space race class and politics in the American city is prefaced by an introduction by the editor highlighting the issues under discussion
