Lewis Perry Of Exeter A Gentle Memoir:

Lewis Perry of Exeter William Gurdon Saltonstall, 1980

A Miracle and a Privilege Francis D. Moore, 1995-05-03

Francis Moore entered Harvard Medical School in September of 1935 seven years before penicillin became available. During his remarkable career in surgery research and education, Moore has witnessed and contributed to some of the most important biomedical advances of the century and his students now practice surgery worldwide. In this autobiography, he brings humor and warmth to the story of a lifetime at the forefront of medicine. In this fascinating book, Moore describes his work in radioactive isotope research, burn therapy, breast cancer treatment, transplant science, and understanding the process of convalescence. Moore's colleagues have included such medical pioneers as George Thorn, David Hume, Thomas Starzl, John Gibbon, Steven Rosenberg, Harold Urey, and Nobel Prize winner Joseph Murray, and he recounts the setbacks and victories of their work. For example, he writes of the adventure he had with Charles Hufnagel in which 25 dogs implanted with Hufnagel's experimental heart valves made their escape into the Connecticut countryside and had to be recovered by dog control officers wielding stethoscopes. Yet Moore recalls with equal clarity the young mother who gave him a silver dollar for delivering her baby, the husband who begged that his ailing wife be allowed to die with dignity, and the desperately sick patients who made themselves available for experimental surgery and treatment. In one of his early operations, he relieved the pain, anguish, and threat to a wonderful small boy by removing the boy's diseased appendix. He describes this capability as a miracle and a privilege. The book includes a gripping account of the aftermath of the Cocoanut Grove nightclub fire in Boston in 1942 when Moore learned the horrific details of death by fire. He recounts both his experience with MASH units and battalion aid stations in Korea and the sudden request from the U.S. State Department that resulted in his treating King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia. Moore's life story reflects his serious commitment to human well-being as well as his appreciation for the wonder of human life. Physicians, medical students, and all readers alike will find this book informative and inspirational. Francis Daniels Moore, M.D., is Moseley Professor of Surgery Emeritus, Harvard Medical School, and Surgeon in Chief Emeritus, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston.

In Her Lifetime Committee to Study Female Morbidity and Mortality in

Sub-Saharan Africa, Institute of Medicine, 1996-03-20. The relative lack of information on determinants of disease, disability, and death at major stages of a woman's lifespan and the excess morbidity and premature mortality that this engenders has important adverse social and economic ramifications not only for Sub-Saharan Africa but also for other regions of the world as well. Women bear much of the weight of world production in both traditional and modern industries. In Sub-Saharan Africa, for example, women contribute approximately 60 to 80 percent of agricultural labor. Worldwide, it is estimated that women are the sole supporters in 18 to 30 percent of all families, and that their financial contribution in the remainder of families is substantial and often crucial. This book provides a solid documentary base that can be used to develop an agenda to guide research and health policy formulation on female health both for Sub-Saharan Africa and for other regions of the developing world This book could also help facilitate ongoing collaboration between African researchers on women s health and their U S colleagues Chapters cover such topics as demographics nutritional status obstetric morbidity and mortality mental health problems and sexually transmitted diseases including HIV American Boarding School Fiction, 1928-1981 Alexander H. Pitofsky, 2014-07-18 When boarding school fiction became popular in the 19th century it tended to be warm and nostalgic filled with sporting events practical jokes and schemes to get even with campus bullies All of that changed in the era discussed in this book Holden Caulfield the narrator of J D Salinger s The Catcher in the Rye drops out of one prep school and is expelled from two others The conflicts between students in John Knowles s Devon School novels become so heated that two young men die And in the controversial novel Good Times Bad Times James Kirkwood portrays the headmaster of a private academy as closeted deeply neurotic and infatuated with an 18 year old who has recently enrolled at his school In spite of their unsettling images of anguish and cruelty these and other American boarding school novels have attracted large audiences and influenced countless school narratives in fiction drama television and film Many books have been written about British school stories This is the first study that explores the history of boarding school fiction in the United States
