Liber Secretorum Fidelium Crucis

Elizabeth Ross

Liber Secretorum Fidelium Crucis:

Marino Sanudo Torsello, The Book of the Secrets of the Faithful of the Cross Peter Lock, 2016-05-06 This is the first full translation of Marino Sanudo Torsello's Secreta fidelium Crucis to be made into English. The work itself is a piece of crusading propaganda following the fall of Acre in 1291, written between 1300 and 1321, but it includes much of historical relevance along with interesting observations on the early history of Jerusalem and the Crusader Kingdom. The translation is based upon the text edited by Jacques Bongars in 1611. There is an introduction that contextualises the book, its author, his sources, and his audience. The notes provide essential information to clarify internal textual references and allusions, as well as the role of Biblical references in Sanudo's grand design. The index is designed to make this detailed text usable and accessible. In this his major work, Sanudo advocated the conquest of Egypt as the means to regain Jerusalem for the Latins and worked through his points with considerable detail alongside references to 13th century Mediterranean history, especially involving Louis IX of France and Charles of Anjou, king of Naples. Books I and II give considerable detailed discussion of the concept, plan, and costs of his proposed crusade. Book III provides an outline history of the crusades, and the crusader states. It is derived from a wide reading of other sources, especially of William of Tyre, and for events after 1184, on the Eracles, the letters of James of Vitry, and Sanudo's own experiences in the east. Throughout the work, it contains a staggering amount of cartographical, ethnographical, geographical, and nautical information, as well as numerous unique insights into historical events and personalities of the late 13th century, not only in Outremer but in Western Europe. Logistics of Warfare in the Age of the Crusades John H. Pryor, 2016-12-05 How were the Crusades made possible? There have been studies of ancient, medieval, and early modern warfare, as well as work on the finances and planning of Crusades, but this volume is the first specifically to address the logistics of Crusading. Building on previous work, it brings together experts from the fields of medieval, Western, Byzantine, and Middle Eastern studies to examine how the marches and voyages were actually made. Questions of manpower, types and means of transportation by land and sea, supplies, financial resources, roads, and natural land routes, sea lanes, and natural sailing routes, all these topics and more are covered here. Of particular importance is the attention given to the horses and other animals on which transport of supplies and the movement of armies depended.

The Armenian Imaginary in the West, 1100-1900 Carolyn P. Collette, 2024-11-19 Examines how Armenia has been represented and imagined in texts from two periods in its history: the Middle Ages and the nineteenth century. Today, most people who think of Armenia associate it with the genocide of 1915, the struggle Armenians waged after the First World War to reclaim their ancient lands in Anatolia, a struggle complicated by centuries of subordination to the Ottomans, by persistent Russian efforts to exert influence and claim territory, and by Western indecision manifested in plentiful words but few deeds. This book, however, tells a different story, one of geopolitical importance, strength, struggle, and diminishment, narrated in texts largely created by and for Europeans and Americans. It asks how the West imagined, described, and presented Armenia over time in historical and fictional accounts during two periods of close Armenian Western contact The first period spans the twelfth to fourteenth centuries it examines a variety of texts including the travel narratives of Marco Polo and John Mandeville William of Tyre's Deeds Done Beyond the Sea and romances such as King of Tars Bevis of Hampton and Le Roman de M Lusine The second period is rooted in events during the nineteenth century American missionary movement It engages with a variety of popular and widely disseminated texts books pamphlets newspapers written and published in the United States from 1830 to the mid 1890s detailing the encounters between the missionaries and the Armenians frequently in the voices of women Liber secretorum fidelium, crucis super terrae sanctae Marinus Sanutus,1611 The Qur'an in Rome Federico Stella,Roberto Tottoli,2024-03-04 Despite its relevance to the subsequent development of Western Islamic studies the intellectual contribution of early modern Catholicism is still an under researched area The aim of this volume is to fill this gap offering a series of essays dealing with the study of the Qur'an and Arabic language in early modern Catholic Europe Focusing on the circulation of manuscripts translations and printed books the essays highlight how Catholic Orientalism contributed to the birth and spread of Western Islamic studies although sometimes it was still directed towards religious polemics Among the protagonists of this period of Islamic studies the volume will focus on Catholic priests missionaries religious orders Jesuits Franciscans Carmelites Eastern Christians converts and other prominent figures in the Catholic culture of the time Special attention will be given to the work of Ludovico Marracci author of a fundamental edition of the Arabic text and Latin translation of the Qur'an with an introduction notes refutations and religious and linguistic insights The volume is of interest to an audience of specialists and non specialists interested both in Islamic and Qur'anic studies and in the history of modern Catholicism missions and Orientalism The World Map, 1300-1492 Evelyn Edson,2007-05-30 In the two centuries before Columbus mapmaking was transformed The World Map 1300 1492 investigates this important transitional period of mapmaking Beginning with a 1436 atlas of ten maps produced by Venetian Andrea Bianco Evelyn Edson uses maps of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries to examine how the discoveries of missionaries and merchants affected the content and configuration of world maps She finds that both the makers and users of maps struggled with changes brought about by technological innovation the compass quadrant and astrolabe rediscovery of classical mapmaking approaches and increased travel To reconcile the tensions between the conservative and progressive worldviews mapmakers used a careful blend of the old and the new to depict a world that was changing and growing before their eyes This engaging and informative study reveals how the ingenuity creativity and adaptability of these craftsmen helped pave the way for an age of discovery The Image of the Black in Western Art David Bindman, Henry Louis Gates (Jr.), Karen C. C. Dalton,2010 A pioneering work in the field of art history The Image of the Black in Western Art is a comprehensive series of ten books which offers a lavishly illustrated history of the representations of people of African descent from antiquity to the present Each book includes a series of essays by some of the most distinguished names in art history Ranging from images of Pharaohs created by unknown hands almost 3 500 years ago to the works of the great masters of European and American art such as Bosch D rer Mantegna Rembrandt Rubens Watteau Hogarth Copley and Goya to stunning new media creations by contemporary black artists these books are generously illustrated with beautiful moving and often little known images of black people Black figures queens and slaves saints and soldiers priests and prisoners dancers and athletes children and gods are central to the visual imagination of Western civilization Written in accessible language the extensive and insightful commentaries on the illustrations by distinguished art historians make this series invaluable for the general reader and the specialist alike R sum de l diteur Geography and Religious Knowledge in the Medieval World Christoph Mauntel,2021-06-08 In the medieval world geographical knowledge was influenced by religious ideas and beliefs Whereas this point is well analysed for the Latin Christian world the religious character of the Arabic Islamic geographic tradition has not yet been scrutinised in detail This volume addresses this desideratum and combines case studies from both traditions of geographic thinking The contributions comprise in depth analyses of individual geographical works as for example those of al Idrisi or Lambert of Saint Omer different forms of presenting geographical knowledge such as TO diagrams or globes as well as performative aspects of studying and meditating geographical knowledge Focussing on texts as well as on maps the contributions open up a comparative perspective on how religious knowledge influenced the way the world and its geography were perceived and described int the medieval world Medieval and Renaissance Famagusta Michael J. K. Walsh,Nicholas Coureas,Peter W. Edbury,2012 There was a time seven centuries ago when Famagusta s wealth and renown could be compared to that of Venice or Constantinople The Cathedral of St Nicholas in the main square of Famagusta serving as the coronation place for the Crusader Kings of Jerusalem after the fall of Acre in 1291 symbolised both the sophistication and permanence of the French society that built it The essays here represent a major contribution to the study of Medieval and Renaissance Famagusta and its surviving art and architecture and also propose a series of strategies for preserving the city s heritage in the future They will be of particular interest to students and scholars of Gothic Byzantine and Renaissance art and architecture and to those of the Crusades and the Latin East as well as the Military Orders

Picturing Experience in the Early Printed Book Elizabeth Ross,2015-06-10 Bernhard von Breydenbach s Peregrinatio in terram sanctam Journey to the Holy Land first published in 1486 is one of the seminal books of early printing and is especially renowned for the originality of its woodcuts In Picturing Experience in the Early Printed Book Elizabeth Ross considers the Peregrinatio from a variety of perspectives to explain its value for the cultural history of the period Breydenbach a high ranking cleric in Mainz recruited the painter Erhard Reuwich of Utrecht for a religious and artistic adventure in a political hot spot a pilgrimage to research the peoples places plants and animals of the Levant The book they published after their return ambitiously engaged with the potential of the new print medium to give an account of their experience The Peregrinatio also aspired to rouse readers to a new crusade against Islam by depicting a contest in the Mediterranean between the Christian bastion of the city of Venice and the region's Muslim empires. This crusading rhetoric fit neatly with the state of the printing industry in Mainz which largely subsisted as a tool for bishops' consolidation of authority including selling the pope's plans to combat the Ottoman Empire. Taking an artist on such an enterprise was unprecedented. Reuwich set a new benchmark for technical achievement with his woodcuts notably a panorama of Venice that folds out to 162 meters in length and a foldout map that stretches from Damascus to Sudan around the first topographically accurate view of Jerusalem. The conception and execution of the Peregrinatio show how and why early printed books constructed new means of visual representation from existing ones and how the form of a printed book emerged out of the interaction of eyewitness experience and medieval scholarship, real travel and spiritual pilgrimage, curiosity and fixed belief, texts and images.

Jerusalem Explored (Vol. 1&2) Ermete Pierotti, 2023-12-16. In Jerusalem Explored Vol. 1 & 2, Ermete Pierotti embarks on a meticulous journey through the historical and cultural tapestry of Jerusalem, employing a unique blend of detailed descriptions and analytical commentary. The work stands as a pivotal contribution to 19th-century archaeological literature, reflecting Pierotti's observational prowess and deep reverence for the city's layered past. His narrative weaves together rich historical accounts, architectural analysis, and the vibrant experiences of the people who inhabit this fabled city, thus situating the work within the broader context of contemporary explorations and the burgeoning interest in archaeological studies during this period. Ermete Pierotti, an Italian architect and scholar, possessed a profound passion for the ancient world, likely influenced by his extensive travels and studies across the Mediterranean. His insights draw from a confluence of personal experience and rigorous academic training, illuminating the complex socio-political landscape of Jerusalem during a time of significant transformation. His scholarly expertise and dedication to unveiling the city's past undoubtedly shaped his approach as he endeavored to marry the physicality of the city with its rich narratives. This book is a compelling read for historians, archaeologists, and anyone captivated by the intricate history of Jerusalem. Pierotti's comprehensive examinations unite the threads of religious significance, historical authenticity, and cultural richness, making it an essential addition to the library of anyone seeking to understand both the past and the enduring legacy of this iconic city.

Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia A.C.S. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola, 2016-03-09. Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia. It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis, The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization, which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective. Since then, research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian-Muslim relations, but no overview has appeared. Moreover, very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem, meaning evidence in Arabic, Persian, and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources, and too little attention has been given to material culture. The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval

Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism The Nile Delta Katherine Blouin,2024-02-22 Tells fascinating stories from across the c 7000 year history of the Nile Delta from the Predynastic period to the twentieth century

Westernness Christopher Gogwilt,Holt Meyer,Sergey Sistiaga,2022-10-03 The word West is omnipresent and often unquestioned The goal of this volume is to elaborate a critical reflection on this concept and make these implicit processes explicit The articles focus on spatio temporal practices regarding the production and representation of westernness Taking critical perspectives which view the West from the inside and the outside they address issues of highest political and social relevance

Finance and the Crusades Daniel Edwards,2021-11-09 This book investigates the financial aspects of crusading in the thirteenth and early fourteenth centuries Taking the kingdom of England as a case study it explores a variety of themes such as how much crusades cost how they were financed how funds were transferred to the East and how crusaders fared financially after their return Its fundamental argument in contrast with current historiography is that it was the private fundraising of individuals not the public fundraising of the Crown and the Church that constituted the life blood of the crusade movement in the period under consideration Indeed it is likely that the crusades were only able to remain central to the religious and political life of England and indeed western Christendom because participants and those in their connection continued to be willing to sacrifice their own financial wellbeing for the interests of the Holy Land Bernard Quaritch Bernard Quaritch (Firm),1868 Portraying the Land Rehav Rubin,2018-05-22 The book presents and discusses a large corpus of Jewish maps of the Holy Land that were drawn by Jewish scholars from the 11th to the 20th century and thus fills a significant lacuna both in the history of cartography and in Jewish studies The maps depict the biblical borders of the Holy Land the allotments of the tribes and the forty years of wanderings in the desert Most of these maps are in Hebrew although there are several in Yiddish Ladino and in European languages The book focuses on four aspects it presents an up to date corpus of known maps of various types and genres it suggests a classification of these maps according to their source shape and content it presents and analyses the main topics that were depicted in the maps and it puts the maps in their historical and cultural contexts both within the Jewish world and the sphere of European cartography of their time The book is an innovative contribution to the fields of history of cartography and Jewish studies It is written for both professional readers and the general public The Hebrew edition 2014 won the Izhak Ben Zvi Prize Merchant Crusaders in the Aegean, 1291-1352 Mike Carr, 2015 An examination of the changing nature of crusade and its participants in the late medieval Mediterranean Union in Separation Autori Vari, 2016-01-14T00:00:00+01:00 Union in Separation presents a series of case studies on diasporic groups in the late medieval and early modern Mediterranean and Black Sea regions It explores how Armenian Byzantine Greek Florentine Genoese Hospitaller Jewish Mamluk and Venetian communities characterized by diasporic identities and inserted into local contexts navigated religious and socio ethnic boundaries as well as other categories of difference The volume draws on a wide range of historical and social scientific methods and offers new perspectives on the arbitration of difference in the wider eastern Mediterranean from Tana to Cairo and Marseille to Isfahan prior to the emergence of nation states It provides not only an analytical toolbox for historical diaspora studies but also reveals how under the looming threat of crusade and within the daily routines of trade diasporic groups and their hosts negotiated modes of coexistence that oscillated between cooperation and conflict integration and rejection union and separation Mapping Jordan Through Two Millennia John R. Bartlett, 2017-07-05 This book shows how travellers and scholars since Roman times have put together their maps of the land east of the River Jordan It traces the contribution of Roman armies and early Christian pilgrims and medieval European travellers Crusading armies learned scholars like Jacob Ziegler sixteenth century mapmakers like Mercator and Ortelius eighteenth century travellers and savants and nineteenth century biblical scholars and explorers like Robinson and Smith culminating in the late nineteenth century surveyors working for the Palestine Exploration Fund This original and valuable book shows with full illustrations how maps of the Transjordan region developed through the centuries and with its detailed tables and bibliography will aid future scholars in further research The author took part in archaeological excavations and surveys in Jordan was Associate Professor of Biblical Studies and Fellow at Trinity College Dublin has published research papers and books on ancient Jordan John Bartlett was the editor of the Palestine Exploration Quarterly and until recently was the Chairman of the Palestine Exploration Fund
