

Third Unit - Transitions

A. Democratization

1. Period of transition from a non-democratic regime to a democratic regime
 - a) Period of retrenchment: democratic → nondemocratic
2. When do we stop considering a country as democratizing vs. considering them a democracy?
 - a) The moment of democratization is the process that gets us to the first competitive election + some liberalization (freedoms)
3. Democratic consolidation is not included in this definition
 - a) Democratic consolidation: the point of which the likelihood of democracy collapsing is low; no one is actively trying to overthrow it

B. Actors in democratization

1. Old regime: hard liners and soft liners, member of the current ruling elite
 - a) i.e. under communism: members of the communist party
 - b) Hard Liners: want to preserve the current nondemocratic regime at any cost
 - (1) Make sure the current regime persists, even if the means include violence and repression
 - (2) Incentives: personal safety, may benefit from the regime (money, status, their job, position of power in the gov.), committed belief in the ideology of the regime, conservative and fear change
 - c) Soft Liners: people willing to consider the possibility of moving to democracy/moving away from the current regime structure; participates in discussion with the opposition
 - (1) Incentives:
 - (a) position themselves for what's next (if they believe transition is inevitable)
 - (b) don't want to be persecuted
 - (c) stopped believing in the ideology/previous justification for the regime
 - (d) unwilling to use repression (dynamic as their position on this can change over time)
 - (e) Don't like the hardliners (don't agree with the policy decisions of those in power), the hardliners may be blocking them from advancement, or the current leaders are corrupt (have to act now or the government will eventually collapse)

d) Opposition:

(1) Radicals/pure democrats:

- a) People who want a free and fair democracy immediately; not willing to compromise, want to punish members of the current regime, don't want to cut deals where members of the regime get amnesty

(2) Moderates

- a) Goal is to get rid of the old regime and replace it with democracy; more willing to

Windows servers are performing optimally is a tall order. The larger the enterprise, the greater the chance for irritating time-consuming configuration problems. Sometimes you can determine the root cause of the problem yourself, but that's only if you're lucky. With Microsoft Operations Manager (MOM), the diagnosis is done for you. MOM monitors server operations and automatically notifies you of problems by sending an immediate alert to your console, email address, or pager. To help you better understand how MOM works, O'Reilly presents Essential Microsoft Operations Manager. The goal of this comprehensive tutorial is to give first-time MOM administrators a solid foundation for planning, implementing, and administering MOM 2005. Author Chris Fox, a renowned MOM expert, offers the type of practical, real-world advice that you need to improve the performance of your IT infrastructure. After taking you through the entire process of setting up MOM on the network, the book moves on to more advanced administration issues. It carefully instructs you how to program and automate MOM and the agents that reside on the servers themselves. You'll also learn how to manage the scripts that determine which server agents are relevant to report. By capturing system data intelligently, analyzing it, and then notifying you with a suggested course of action, MOM makes extinguishing fires a breeze. And now, thanks to Essential Microsoft Operations Manager, learning how to use MOM is a breeze too. Computer Systems Fundamentals Edward G. Martin, Jerome S.
