Katherine Anne Porters Artistic Development Primitivism Tradition And Totalitarianism:

Katherine Anne Porter Janis P. Stout, 1995 Katherine Anne Porter's life closely paralleled that of her century not only in its span 1890-1980 but in its interests and contradictions. A communist sympathizer who became a quasi-fascist, a cosmopolitan who embraced southern agrarianism, a femme fatale whose writings nonetheless evince feminist feeling, Porter embodied often at their extremes the major currents of her time and ours. In this new biography Janis P. Stout argues that these inconsistencies can be viewed as part and parcel of modernism itself. Drawing on Porter's rich and voluminous correspondence as well as published works, Stout here sets out to craft an intellectual biography of a woman who, by her own admission, was not really an intellectual. Stout reveals the extent of Porter's involvement in events of public significance and her interactions with prominent figures from President Alvaro Obregón of Mexico in 1920 to Hermann Goering in Berlin in 1931, to Robert Penn Warren, Eudora Welty, Allen Tate and others in the 1930s and 1940s, to members of the Lyndon Johnson White House in the 1960s. Against the backdrop of world war and cold war, Porter's conflicting views on politics, race, religion, and feminism reflected Porter's ambivalence toward her own Texas roots. Selected Letters of Katherine Anne Porter Katherine Anne Porter, 2012-08-11 Katherine Anne Porter 1890-1980 produced a relatively small body of fiction, but she wrote thousands and thousands of letters. The present selection of 135 unexpurgated letters written to seventy-four different persons begins with a 1916 letter written from a tuberculosis sanatorium in Texas and ends with a 1979 letter dictated to an unnamed nursing home attendant in Maryland. Different from any previous selection, this body of letters does not omit Porter's frank criticism of fellow writers and spans her entire life. Within that circumscription is the chronicle of Porter, a twentieth-century woman searching for love while she struggles to become the writer she is sure she can be. Porter's letters vividly showcase the twentieth century as the writer observes it from her historical vantage points: tuberculosis sanatoria and the influenza pandemic of 1918; the leftist community in Greenwich Village in the 1920s; the Mexican cultural revolution of the 1920s and early 1930s; the expatriate community in Paris in the 1930s; the rise of Nazism in Europe between the World Wars; the Second World War and its concomitant suppression of civil liberties; Hollywood and the university circuit as a haven for financially strapped writers in the 1940s and 1950s; the Cold War and its competition for supremacy in space; the Women's Rights and the Civil Rights movements; and the evolution and demise of literary modernism. Katherine Anne Porter's Ship of Fools Thomas Austenfeld, 2015-04-15 Containing pieces by distinguished scholars including Darlene Harbour Unrue and Robert Brinkmeyer, this book is the first full investigation of the links between Porter's only novel and European intellectual history. Beginning with Sebastian Brant, author of the late medieval Narrenschiff whom she acknowledges in her Preface to Ship of Fools, Porter's image of Europe emerges as more complex, more knowledgeable, and more politically nuanced than previous critics of her novel have acknowledged. Ship of Fools is in conversation with Europe's humanistic tradition as well as with the political moments of 1931 and 1962, i.e., the years that elapsed from the novel's conception to its completion. The novel and the 1965 film based upon it intervene into the history of film the assessment of Weimar Germany and Porter's clear-eyed judgment of her own times through the lens of her art

Bibler, 2009-02-10 Finally breaking through heterosexual clichés of flirtatious belles and cavaliers sinister black rapists and lusty Jezebels Cotton's Queer Relations exposes the queer dynamics embedded in myths of the southern plantation Focusing on works by Ernest J Gaines William Faulkner Tennessee Williams Lillian Hellman Katherine Anne Porter Margaret Walker William Styron and Arna Bontemps Michael P Bibler shows how each one uses figures of same sex intimacy to suggest a more progressive alternative to the pervasive inequalities tied historically and symbolically to the South's most iconic institution Bibler looks specifically at relationships between white men of the planter class between plantation mistresses and black maids and between black men arguing that while the texts portray the plantation as a rigid hierarchy of differences these queer relations privilege a notion of sexual sameness that joins the individuals as equals in a system where equality is rare indeed Bibler reveals how these models of queer egalitarianism attempt to reconcile the plantation's regional legacies with national debates about equality and democracy particularly during the eras of the New Deal World War II and the civil rights movement Cotton's Queer Relations charts bold new territory in southern studies and queer studies alike bringing together history and cultural theory to offer innovative readings of classic southern texts A book in the American Literatures Initiative ALI a collaborative publishing project supported by The Andrew W Mellon Foundation For more information please visit www.americanliteratures.org Critical Essays on Katherine Anne Porter Darlene Harbour Unrue, 1997 A collection of essays that examine the writings of twentieth century American author Katherine Anne Porter including reviews and critical analyses of her fiction and non fiction works The Fugitive Legacy Charlotte H. Beck, 2001-01-01 Previously the protégés of John Crowe Ransom Allen Tate Donald Davidson and Robert Penn Warren have received considerable scholarly attention only as individuals or in relation to small groups of close knit writers within single literary genres Now for the first time this far ranging group of accomplished writers is united as part of a larger phenomenon the Fugitive legacy which has extended its influence far beyond the parameters of southern literature In The Fugitive Legacy Charlotte H Beck demonstrates the strong influence of the Nashville Fugitives as teachers editors and mentors by examining the extraordinary impact on American letters of the critics poets and fiction writers whom they taught or sponsored By treating the careers of these brilliant authors as a single chapter in literary history Beck makes an invaluable contribution to the understanding of southern literature The cultural importance of the Fugitives has too often been confused with the narrow politics of Agrarianism and relegated to a reactionary piety for regionalism and dead tradition The Fugitive Legacy fills a void in southern literary theory by revealing the resounding echo of this group's voice in modern American literature Transatlantic Intellectual Networks, 1914-1964 Hans Bak, Céline Mansanti, 2019-11-13 The twelve essays in this book by scholars from the U S France Germany the Netherlands and the Czech Republic offer new transnational perspectives in transatlantic historical literary and cultural studies They explore the special role of American and European intellectuals as agents of transatlantic cultural transfer and examine the mechanisms and instruments through which artists writers and intellectuals communicated across oceans and national borders in the half century between 1914 and 1964 Their focus is on transatlantic networks and the instruments of culture through which such networks become operative as sites of cross cultural exchange circulation and interaction magazines caf s publishing houses book fairs agents translators and mediators and last but not least transatlantic personal friendships Contending that the dynamics of transatlantic cultural transfer need to be understood as reciprocal and multi directional they also exemplify the shift within transatlantic intellectual history from a traditional concern with European U S relations to a multidirectional triangular exploration of cultural political and intellectual relations between Europe the United States and Latin America Reading for the Body Jay Watson,2012-08-01

DIVJay Watson argues that southern literary studies has been overidealized and dominated by intellectual history for too long In Reading for the Body he calls for the field to be rematerialized and grounded in an awareness of the human body as the site where ideas including ideas about the U S South itself ultimately happen Employing theoretical approaches to the body developed by thinkers such as Karl Marx Colette Guillaumin Elaine Scarry and Friedrich Kittler Watson also draws on histories of bodily representation to mine a century of southern fiction for its insights into problems that have preoccupied the region and nation alike slavery Jim Crow and white supremacy the marginalization of women the impact of modernization the issue of cultural authority and leadership and the legacy of the Vietnam War He focuses on the specific bodily attributes of hand voice and blood and the deeply embodied experiences of pain illness pregnancy and war to offer new readings of a distinguished group of literary artists who turned their attention to the South Mark Twain Jean Toomer Zora Neale Hurston William Faulkner Richard Wright Katherine Anne Porter Bobbie Ann Mason and Walker Percy In producing an intensely embodied U S literature these writers Watson argues were by turns extending and interrogating a centuries old tradition in U S print culture in which the recalcitrant materiality of the body serves as a trope for the regional alterity of the South Reading for the Body makes a powerful case for the body as an important methodological resource for a new southern studies div Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991 Southern Mothers Nagueyalti Warren,Sally Wolff,1999-10-01

Southern Mothers a collection of critical essays by prominent southern literary scholars examines the significance of motherhood in southern fiction The belle the mammy religion and racism are several of the distinctive threads with which southern women writers have woven the fabric of their stories Bringing southern motherhood into focus with all its peculiarities of attitude and tradition the essays speak to both the established and the unconventional modes of motherhood that are typical in southern writing and probe the extent to which southern women writers have rejected or embraced supported or challenged the individual social and cultural understanding and institution of motherhood The World Is Our Home Jeffrey J. Folks,Nancy Summers Folks,2021-10-21 Since the early 1970s southern fiction has been increasingly attentive to social issues including the continuing struggles for racial justice and gender equality the loss of a sense of social community and the decline of a coherent regional identity The essays in The World Is Our Home focus on writers who have explicitly addressed social and cultural issues in their fiction and drama including Dorothy Allison Horton Foote Ernest J Gaines Jill McCorkle Walker Percy Lee Smith William Styron Alice Walker and many others The contributors provide valuable insights into the transformation of southern culture over the past thirty years and probe the social and cultural divisions that persist The collection makes an important case for the centrality of social critique in contemporary southern fiction
