Kathryns Courage:

In Defense of Conciliar Christology Timothy Pawl, 2016-03-10 This work presents a historically informed systematic exposition of the Christology of the first seven Ecumenical Councils of undivided Christendom from the First Council of Nicaea in 325 AD to the Second Council of Nicaea in 787 AD Assuming the truth of Conciliar Christology for the sake of argument Timothy Pawl considers whether there are good philosophical arguments that show a contradiction or incoherence in that doctrine He presents the definitions of important terms in the debate and a helpful metaphysics for understanding the incarnation In Defense of Conciliar Christology discusses three types of philosophical objections to Conciliar Christology Firstly it highlights the fundamental philosophical problem facing Christology how can one thing be both God and man when anything deserving to be called God must have certain attributes and yet it seems that nothing that can aptly be called man can have those same attributes It then considers the argument that if the Second Person of the Holy Trinity were immutable or atemporal as Conciliar Christology requires then that Person could not become anything and thus could not become man Finally Pawl addresses the objection that if there is a single Christ then there is a single nature or will in Christ However if that conditional is true then Conciliar Christology is false since it affirms the antecedent of the conditional to be true but denies the truth of the consequent Pawl defends Conciliar Christology against these charges arguing that all three philosophical objections fail to show Conciliar Christology inconsistent or incoherent By God's Authority

Gray,Claire M. Gray,2000 Kathryn: a Testimony Kay Taylor,2018-01-23 Looking at the well packed boxes my eyes focused on a box of binders containing many unfinished writings of Kathryn Like a moth drawn to the light my heart yearned to feel every word As I attempted to put the pieces together I realized it was already complete Treasures of truth like nuggets of gold flowed from its pages Each nugget intended to fill my heart with healing comfort and joy which started to mend my heart with each word that she left Kathryn told me You will be OK you will be OK I thought if I shared Kathryn I would not lose her Losing any loved one is devastating to say the least There is something so absolutely unnatural about losing your child We have in our heads that our parents will go first then we will and last our children So I picked up a pen to share a very remarkable person Through my grief often with blinding tears and thoughts of giving up and going to bed I pulled the covers over my head I would read a nugget that Kathryn left Soon I realized that the little nuggets of gold kept drawing me more and more One nugget at a time and there will be an explosion in your spirit The beauty that surrounds you its comfort healing and joy its God I soon realized that by sharing her nuggets her heart would be shared too You will meet a very special young lady As she walked through the storm of storms with courage joy and an unshakeable faith she lived life to the fullest every day Daily Kathryn would write Each binder titled chapters dedications verses set to a perfection I would get so frustrated at all the books Every day I would say Just write one and get it finished As I concluded all my writing here I realized that her books werent finished because all her writings were a road map to the book that was to be written You see she was the book Courageous Women of the Vietnam War Kathryn J.
