Women and Gender in Central and Eastern Europe, Russia, and Eurasia Mary Zirin, Irina Livezeanu, Christine D. Worobec, June Pachuta Farris, 2015-03-26 This is the first comprehensive multidisciplinary and multilingual bibliography on Women and Gender in East Central Europe and the Balkans Vol 1 and The Lands of the Former Soviet Union Vol 2 over the past millennium The coverage encompasses the relevant territories of the Russian Hapsburg and Ottoman empires Germany and Greece and the Jewish and Roma diasporas Topics range from legal status and marital customs to economic participation and gender roles plus unparalleled documentation of women writers and artists and autobiographical works of all kinds The volumes include approximately 30 000 bibliographic entries on works published through the end of 2000 as well as web sites and unpublished dissertations Many of the individual entries are annotated with brief descriptions of major works and the tables of contents for collections and anthologies The entries are cross referenced and each volume includes indexes Keel ja kirjandus, 2000 Kalevipoeg Studies Cornelius Hasselblatt, 2016-01-02 The poem Kalevipoeg over 19 000 lines in length was composed by Friedrich Reinhold Kreutzwald 1803 1882 on the basis on folklore material It was published in an Estonian German bilingual edition in six instalments between 1857 and 1861 it went on to become the Estonian national epic This first English language monograph on the Kalevipoeg sheds light on various aspects of the emergence creation and reception of the text The first chapter sketches the objectives of the book and gives a short summary of the contents of the twenty tales of the epic while the second chapter treats the significance of the epic against the cultural background of nineteenth century Estonia The third chapter scrutinizes the emergence of the text in more detail and in its second part takes a closer look at the many intertextual connections and the traces the epic material has left in Estonian literature up to the present time The fourth chapter is a detailed case study of one debated passage of the fifteenth tale The fifth and the six chapters deal with the German reception of the epic which partly took place earlier than the reception in Estonia In the fifth chapter the first reviews and an early treatise by the German scholar Wilhelm Schott 1863 are discussed The sixth chapter presents the new genre of rewritings of the epic texts which cannot be labelled as translations but are rather new creations on the basis of Kreutzwald's text In the seventh chapter several versions of these retellings and adaptations are compared in order to show the stability of some core material conveyed by various authors A concluding chapter stresses the significance of foreign reception in the canonization process of the Kalevipoeg At the end a comprehensive bibliography and an index are added

Lutheran Churches in Early Modern Europe Andrew Spicer, 2016-12-05 Until recently the impact of the Lutheran Reformation has been largely regarded in political and socio economic terms yet for most people it was not the abstract theological debates that had the greatest impact upon their lives but what they saw in their parish churches every Sunday This collection of essays provides a coherent and interdisciplinary investigation of the impact that the Lutheran Reformation had on the appearance architecture and arrangement of early modern churches Drawing upon recent research being undertaken by leading art historians and historians on Lutheran places of worship the volume emphasises often surprising levels of continuity reflecting the survival of Catholic fixtures fittings and altarpieces and exploring how these could be remodelled in order to conform with the tenets of Lutheran belief The volume not only addresses Lutheran art but also the way in which the architecture of their churches reflected the importance of preaching and the administration of the sacraments Furthermore the collection is committed to extending these discussions beyond a purely German context and to look at churches not only within the Holy Roman Empire but also in Scandinavia the Baltic States as well as towns dominated by Saxon communities in areas such as in Hungary and Transylvania By focusing on ecclesiastical material culture the collection helps to place the art and architecture of Lutheran places of worship into the historical political and theological context of early modern Europe Folklore, 2001 Unforced Flourishing Thomas Salumets, 2014-06-01 Are we ill suited for this world Among Europe's major contemporary poets Estonia's Jaan Kaplinski offers a rare vision of human advancement and fulfillment the less we intervene the more we flourish But how then can we remain involved in what evolves of its own accord How can we move away from a life forged by human design towards a quietly attentive yet spontaneous responsiveness In Unforced Flourishing Thomas Salumets seeks access to Kaplinski's life and work and finds a path to the signature of his thinking He uncovers a man who craves human closeness that few if any can provide a writer drawn towards wordless communication in a world of words signs and symbols who yearns for the sacred in secular times and who detects more richness in nature than in the human imagination Salumets describes Kaplinski as an intellectual attracted to a contrarian sense of self art and culture who searches for his homeland's mystical connections at a time when Estonia firmly aligns with values and modes of thought vastly different from his own What emerges is a mentality firmly rooted in the belief that the greatest risk to human fulfillment results from human beings themselves The first major study in English of one of Eastern Europe's most important literary figures Unforced Flourishing details Kaplinski's embrace of that which is undifferentiated intuitive non calculative and natural in the modern world Current Slavic, Baltic and East European Periodical and Newspaper Titles Available in the Slavic & Baltic Division, the Periodicals Division, and the Branch Libraries of the New York Public Library, 2004 Soviet Postcolonial Studies Epp Annus, 2017-09-05 Postcolonial studies is a well established academic field rich in theory but it is based mostly on postcolonial experiences in former West European colonial empires This book takes a different approach considering postcolonial theory in relation to the former Soviet bloc It both applies existing postcolonial theory to this different setting and also uses the experiences of former Soviet bloc countries to refine and advance theory Drawing on a wide range of sources and presenting insights and material of relevance to scholars in a wide range of subjects the book explores topics such as Soviet colonality as co constituted with Soviet modernity the affective structure of identity creation in national and imperial subjects and the way in which cultural imaginaries and everyday materialities were formative of Soviet everyday experience Current Periodical and Newspaper
