Kellis Agricultural Account Dakhleh Oasis Project Monograph:

The Kellis Agricultural Account Book Roger S. Bagnall, 1997 The report from Kellis by the Dakhleh Oasis team documents a collection of wooden tablets found alongside the Isocrates codex The tablets contain the most extensive and well preserved set of accounts for an agricultural entity to survive from the 4th century AD The accounts probably date from the 360s and document the daily life of an agricultural estate over a period of five years Information on crops measures prices and valuation tenants and religious institutions can be gleaned from the account book which is here transcribed in full with a facing page translation and line by line commentary on the text There is also discussion of the significance of the accounts and the context in which the tablets were found The Oasis Papers 2 Marcia F. Wiseman, 2017-02-20 This volume of fourteen papers covers the environment archaeology and conservation of the Dakhleh Oasis as presented at the Second International Conference of this long running project held in Toronto 1997 Four abstracts from papers not submitted to the published volume are also included as is the original conference program Proceedings of the Ninth International Dakhleh Oasis Project Conference Colin A. Hope, Gillian E. Bowen, 2020-01-19 This new volume in the Oasis Papers series marks the 40th anniversary of archaeological fieldwork in the Dakhleh Oasis in Egypt's Western Desert under the leadership of Anthony J Mills and presents a synthesis of the current state of our knowledge of the oasis and its interconnections with surrounding regions especially the Nile Valley The papers are by distinguished authorities in the field and postgraduate students who specialise in different aspects of Dakhleh and presents an almost complete survey of the archaeology of Dakhleh including much unpublished original material It will be one of the few to document a specific part of modern Egypt in such detail and thus should have a broad and lasting appeal The content of some of the papers is unlikely to be published in any other form elsewhere Dakhleh is possibly the most intensively examined wider geographic region within Egypt

Amheida II Anna Lucille Boozer, 2016-01-14 This archaeological report provides a comprehensive study of the excavations carried out at Amheida House B2 in Egypt's Dakhleh Oasis between 2005 and 2007 followed by three study seasons between 2008 and 2010 The excavations at Amheida in Egypt's western desert begun in 2001 under the aegis of Columbia University and sponsored by NYU since 2008 are investigating all aspects of social life and material culture at the administrative center of ancient Trimithis The excavations so far have focused on three areas of this very large site a centrally located upper class fourth century AD house with wall paintings an adjoining school and underlying remains of a Roman bath complex a more modest house of the third century and the temple hill with remains of the Temple of Thoth built in the first century AD and of earlier structures Architectural conservation has protected and partly restored two standing funerary monuments a mud brick pyramid and a tower tomb both of the Roman period This volume presents and discusses the architecture artifacts and ecofacts recovered from B2 in a holistic manner which has rarely before been attempted in a full report on the excavation of a Romano Egyptian house The primary aim of this volume is to combine an architectural and material based study with an explicitly contextual and theoretical analysis In so doing it develops a methodology and presents a case study of how the rich material remains of Romano Egyptian houses may be used to investigate the relationship between domestic remains and social identity

Studies in the Archaeology of the Medieval Mediterranean, 2010-09-24 The medieval Mediterranean world has inspired a rich variety of archaeological studies aimed at trying to piece together its past This volume presents seven case studies that reveal the complexities of and possible solutions for exploring various areas of the Mediterranean basin Individually they offer models of interdisciplinary study that move beyond the disciplinary boundaries of archaeology to integrate evidence from other fields ranging from history to town planning As a whole they provide the only collection of studies of their kind for the medieval Mediterranean They thus provide readers with a view of a field that is vibrant nuanced and utilizes a methodological approach that is capable of greatly increasing our knowledge of the medieval Mediterranean world Contributors are Tasha Vorderstrasse Jon van Leuven C dric Devais Michelle Hobart Giulia Annalinda Neglia Johnny De Meulemeester and Sauro Gelichi

An Oasis City Roger S. Bagnall, Nicola Aravecchia, Raffaella Cribiore, Paola Davoli, Olaf E. Kaper, Susanna McFadden, 2016-02-01 Scattered through the vast expanse of stone and sand that makes up Egypt's Western Desert are several oases These islands of green in the midst of the Sahara owe their existence to springs and wells drawing on ancient aquifers In antiquity as today they supported agricultural communities going back to Neolithic times but expanding greatly in the millennium from the Saite pharaohs to the Roman emperors New technologies of irrigation and transportation made the oases integral parts of an imperial economy Amheida ancient Trimitis was one of those oasis communities Located in the western part of the Dakhla Oasis it was an important regional center reaching a peak in the Roman period before being abandoned Over the past decade excavations at this well preserved site have revealed its urban layout and brought to light houses streets a bath a school and a church The only standing brick pyramid of the Roman period in Egypt has been restored Wall paintings temple reliefs pottery and texts all contribute to give a lively sense of its political religious economic and cultural life This book presents these aspects of the city's existence and its close ties to the Nile valley by way of long desert roads in an accessible and richly illustrated fashion

From Foragers to Farmers Ehud Weiss, 2009-08-01 This volume celebrates the career of archaeobotanist Professor Gordon C Hillman Twenty eight papers cover a wide range of topics reflecting the great influence that Hillman has had in the field of archaeobotany Many of his favourite research topics are covered the body of the text being split into four sections Personal reflections on Professor Hillman's career archaeobotanical theory and method ethnoarchaeological and cultural studies and ancient plant use from sites and regions around the world The collection demonstrates as Gordon Hillman believes that the study of archaeobotany is not only valuable but vital for any study of humanity

The Oasis Papers 7 Gillian E. Bowen, Colin A. Hope, Olaf E. Kaper, Paul N. Kucera, Bruce E. Parr, 2025-01-23 This tribute to Professor Fred Leemhuis reflects his diverse interests in Egyptology and Islamic studies with a focus on al Qasr in Dakhleh Topics include medieval and Ottoman archaeology burial practices ceramics rock art Qur'anic translations and modern Egyptian traditions alongside accounts of WWI hostilities in the oases Urbanisation and State Formation in the Ancient Sahara and Beyond Martin Sterry, David J. Mattingly, 2020-03-26

This ground breaking volume pushes back conventional dating of the earliest sedentarisation urbanisation and state formation in the Sahara Journal of Roman Archaeology, 1999 Material Aspects of Reading in Ancient and Medieval Cultures Anna Krauß, Jonas Leipziger, Friederike Schücking-Jungblut, 2020-05-05 This publication seeks to endeavour the relationship between material artefacts and reading practices in ancient and medieval cultures While the acts of reception of written artefacts in former times are irretrievably lost some of the involved artefacts are preserved and might comprise hints to the ancient reading practices In form of case studies the contributions to this volume examine various forms of written artefacts as to their implications on modes of reading Analyzing different Qumran scrolls codices Tefillin Mezuzot magical texts tablets bricks and statues as well as meta textual and iconographic aspects the articles inquire the possibilities of how to correlate material aspects to assumed modes of reception and practices of reading The contributions stem from Egyptology Papyrology Qumran Studies Biblical Studies Jewish Studies Ancient Christianity and Islamic Studies In total this volume contributes to the research on practices of reception in times past and demonstrates the potential hidden in text bearing artefacts Plants and People in the African Past Anna Maria Mercuri, A. Catherine D'Andrea, Rita

Fornaciari, Alexa Höhn, 2018-07-31 There is an essential connection between humans and plants cultures and environments and this is especially evident looking at the long history of the African continent This book comprising current research in archaeobotany on Africa elucidates human adaptation and innovation with respect to the exploitation of plant resources In the long term perspective climatic changes of the environment as well as human impact have posed constant challenges to the interaction between peoples and the plants growing in different countries and latitudes This book provides an insight into overview of the manifold routes people have taken in various parts Africa in order to make a decent living from the provisions of their environment by bringing together the analyses of macroscopic and microscopic plant remains with ethnographic botanical geographical and linguistic research The numerous chapters cover almost all the continent countries and were prepared by most of the scholars who study African archaeobotany i e the complex and composite history of plant uses and environmental transformations during the Holocene The Excavations at Mut al-Kharab II Richard J. Long, 2021-12-03

For over a century our knowledge of Egypt's Western Desert during the Third Intermediate Period relied almost entirely on the Greater and Smaller Dakhleh Stelae These two significant documents were purchased by Henry Lyons in 1894 in Dakhleh Oasis and indicated the existence of a substantial temple at Mut al Kharab dedicated to the god Seth Apart from these sources very little information from the Western Desert could be dated to this period Excavations at Mut al Kharab began in 2000 and in recent years evidence from the Third Intermediate Period temple has grown considerably A range of artefacts has been unearthed including decorated temple blocks stelae ostraka in situ architectural remains other small finds and a large collection of well dated ceramics The scale of evidence suggests Mut al Kharab was probably the most significant Third Intermediate Period site in the Western Desert In light of this new material a re examination of activity in the Western Desert during this period has been possible This volume presents all the available evidence relating to the western oases during the Third Intermediate Period with a particular focus on the ceramics Occupation appears to have been more widespread than the limited evidence previously suggested and these oasis communities were closely connected to the populations in the Nile Valley The Egyptian central administration continued to be interested in the Western Desert although political control does not seem to have been consistent Moreover subtle yet distinct variations in the material record including aspects of pottery traditions and religious practices may reveal the existence of an oasis culture As such we are developing a much clearer picture of activity in this region

Caravans in Socio-Cultural Perspective Persis B. Clarkson, Calogero M. Santoro, 2021-12-08 Ranging across space and time this book brings together up to date research on the socio cultural phenomenon of caravans It shows that caravans for long distance trade in arid lands are present in both the Old and New Worlds Alongside historical and archival records ethnographic analyses of modern caravans provide theoretical frameworks for reconstructing aspects of ancient caravans such as behaviour ritual and material culture The volume reflects on the changing foci of caravan research and the future of caravans when memories of living caravaners are fading and the fragile and remote nature of caravan related sites means that they are at risk It will be relevant to scholars from anthropology archaeology and history and others with an interest in trade travel and nomadism

Vernacular Mud Brick Architecture in the Dakhleh Oasis, Egypt and the Design of the Dakhleh Oasis Training and Archaeological Conservation Centre Wolf Schijns, Olaf E. Kaper, Joris Kila, 2008 More than one third of the world s population lives in houses made of unfired earth bricks or stamped earth materials also known as mud brick adobe terre crue pis or rammed earth Houses in the middle east have been made out this material for at least 10 000 years but in many places this form of architecture is slowly being superceded by more recent building techniques using reinforced concrete and concrete blocks This study contains a description of the remaining mud brick architecture in several villages in the Dakhleh Oasis in Egypt It includes a brief history of mud brick a discussion of the distinct local building techniques of the Oasis and three architectural case studies of traditional mud brick houses in the Oasis and it has many plans and photographs of local houses The study was carried out as preparation for the design and construction of an archaeological working and training centre in the Dakhleh Oasis which has been made according to the local traditions in mud brick vernacular It is based on a field trip carried out in 1997 by Wolf Schijns architect Margriet Schijns architect Olaf E Kaper Egyptologist and Joris D Kila art historian Oasis ottomanes Nicolas Michel,2023-11-14 This book explores the position of the Dakhla and Kharga oases within Ottoman Egypt as well as the whole empire It intends to contribute to the reflection on the characteristics and limits of Ottomanity as seen by the inhabitants of a region which from Cairo seemed remote and isolated It is based on several sets of private archives largely unpublished supplemented by travelogues and by modern literature Despite their remoteness from the Nile Valley and a unique environment the Oases were integrated in the same administrative and judicial frame as the rest of Egypt Taxation was specific as were the primarily agricultural resources Because of the threat of Beduin raids the Oases housed a large garrison The book studies the impact of this military presence upon the Oasian society from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century and the gradual erasure of Ottoman peculiarities then of their memory during the nineteenth century

The House of Serenos, Part II Paola Davoli,2022-09-06 A comprehensive study of the archaeology of the House of Serenos The House of Serenos Part II is the second of four books devoted to publishing the archaeology of the House of Serenos a richly decorated late antique villa of a local lite located in Amheida ancient Trimithis in the Dakhla Oasis of Egypt The House of Serenos Part II synthesizes the archaeological information presented in detail in other volumes in a comprehensive study of the architectural and archaeological history of the house and its relationship to its natural and built environments from construction through expansion and renovation to its eventual abandonment around the end of the fourth century The volume includes discussions of archaeological method stratigraphy architecture and the archaeological assemblages discovered in the House of Serenos and reveals what all this can tell us about the inhabitants and their experience living in this high status residence at the edge of the Roman Empire Accounting for History in Marx's Capital Robert Bryer,2019-06-25 Accounting for History uses the accounting interpretation of Marx s theories of history and value to explain and defend his prediction of the inevitability of socialism as the end of history In addition to the technological and institutional development of advanced capitalism Bryer argues that the key necessary conditions are that workers see through capitalist ideology understanding that Marx s theory of value explains why the phenomenal forms appearing in capitalist accounts are distortions of the underlying social reality and that demystified accounting is integral to his concept of socialism on Day One To get to Day One the book concludes Marx left Marxists the tasks of critical accounting
