Kennedy Presidential Press Conferences:

The Kennedy Presidential Press Conferences John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 1978      Presidential Press Conferences Carolyn Smith, 1990-07-26 In this timely new book Carolyn Smith develops a methodology for the study and criticism of presidential press conferences Moving away from the traditional method of studying the presidential rhetoric of prepared speeches Smith proposes methods of criticism for the quasi spontaneous environment of the press conference where the control of messages is divided between the president and the press The book offers a detailed critical assessment of Ronald Reagan's relationship with reporters during his eight years in office From this assessment Smith develops her approach to press conference criticism She proposes the development of standards by which to judge good bad and indifferent press exchanges and focuses on the internal dynamics of press conferences as they now exist Noting that presidential press conference reform has been tried several times with a general lack of success Smith points out that these press conferences whatever their deficiencies are valuable records worth understanding The book explores the nature of the presidential press conference and the fundamental importance of the adversarial relationship between the president and the press Smith includes a valuable summary of the history of the adversarial press conference focusing on those aspects that have made the press conference an institution and an inherently adversarial public encounter She then puts forth an approach for criticism of the press conference accounting for both the president and the press Finally using her own approach Smith offers sample criticism of Ronald Reagan's press conferences and his relationship with reporters during his first 69 days in office Students and scholars of journalism rhetoric political science and communication will find Presidential Press Conferences valuable reading

The Presidents vs. the Press Harold Holzer, 2021-08-24 An award winning presidential historian offers an authoritative account of American presidents attacks on our freedom of the press including a new foreword chronicling the end of the Trump presidency The FAKE NEWS media Donald Trump has tweeted is not my enemy it is the enemy of the American People Has our free press ever faced as great a threat Perhaps not but the tension between presidents and journalists is as old as the republic itself Every president has been convinced of his own honesty and transparency every reporter who has covered the White House beat has believed with equal fervency that his or her journalistic rigor protects the country from danger Our first president George Washington was also the first to grouse about his treatment in the newspapers although he kept his complaints private Subsequent chiefs like John Adams Abraham Lincoln Woodrow Wilson and Barack Obama were not so reticent going so far as to wield executive power to overturn press freedoms and even to prosecute journalists Theodore Roosevelt was the first president to actively manage the stable of reporters who followed him doling out information steering coverage and squashing stories that interfered with his agenda It was a strategy that galvanized TR's public support but the lesson was lost on Woodrow Wilson who never accepted reporters into his inner circle Franklin Roosevelt transformed media relations forever holding more than a thousand presidential press conferences and harnessing the new power of radio at times bypassing the press altogether John F Kennedy excelled on television and charmed reporters to hide his personal life while Richard Nixon was the first to cast the press as a public enemy From the days of newsprint and pamphlets to the rise of Facebook and Twitter each president has harnessed the media whether intentional or not to imprint his own character on the office In this remarkable new history acclaimed scholar Harold Holzer examines the dual rise of the American presidency and the media that shaped it From Washington to Trump he chronicles the disputes and distrust between these core institutions that define the United States of America revealing that the essence of their confrontation is built into the fabric of the nation     The Kennedy Presidential Press Conferences John F.

Leap Charles Fishman,2020-09-22 The New York Times bestselling meticulously researched and absorbingly written The Washington Post story of the trailblazers and the ordinary Americans on the front lines of the epic Apollo 11 moon mission President John F Kennedy astonished the world on May 25 1961 when he announced to Congress that the United States should land a man on the Moon by 1970 No group was more surprised than the scientists and engineers at NASA who suddenly had less than a decade to invent space travel When Kennedy announced that goal no one knew how to navigate to the Moon No one knew how to build a rocket big enough to reach the Moon or how to build a computer small enough and powerful enough to fly a spaceship there No one knew what the surface of the Moon was like or what astronauts could eat as they flew there On the day of Kennedy's historic speech America had a total of fifteen minutes of spaceflight experience with just five of those minutes outside the atmosphere Russian dogs had more time in space than US astronauts Over the next decade more than 400 000 scientists engineers and factory workers would send twenty four astronauts to the Moon Each hour of space flight would require one million hours of work back on Earth to get America to the Moon on July 20 1969 A veteran space reporter with a vibrant touch nearly every sentence has a fact an insight a colorful quote or part of a piquant anecdote The Wall Street Journal and in One Giant Leap Fishman has written the sweeping definitive behind the scenes account of the furious race to complete one of mankind's greatest achievements It's a story filled with surprises from the item the astronauts almost forgot to take with them the American flag to the extraordinary impact Apollo would have back on Earth and on the way we live today From the research labs of MIT where the eccentric and legendary pioneer Charles Draper created the tools to fly the Apollo spaceships to the factories where dozens of women sewed spacesuits parachutes and even computer hardware by hand Fishman captures the exceptional feats of these ordinary Americans It's been 50 years since Neil Armstrong took that one small step Fishman explains in dazzling form just how unbelievable it actually was Newsweek
