Asian and Pacific Cities Ian Shirley,Carol Neill,2013-03-12 The cities of Asia and the Pacific are at the epicentre of development in what is arguably the most populous culturally distinctive and economically powerful region in the world 16 major cities such as Tokyo Shanghai Manila Jakarta Bangkok Singapore Auckland Kuala Lumpur and Santiago located in countries as diverse as Mexico and Vietnam Samoa and India China and Australia exemplify the changing patterns of development across this vast region of the world By tracking economic and social trends the contributors to this collection reveal how a wide range of political and cultural factors have interacted over time to provide a powerful explanation for the shape and characteristics of the city today Based on a collaborative research programme and drawing on the work of local researchers this book examines the realities of city development characterised by domestic migration spatial and social fragmentation squatter settlements and gated communities economic experiments and the emergence of the Asian Tigers The collection as a whole records the way in which countries in this region have moved from underdevelopment to become global economic and political powers This book provides a fascinating journey through Asia and the Pacific by generating an insiders view of each city and an insight into national development As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in the Asian and Pacific region in disciplines such as economics politics geography and sociology and in policy domains such as urban planning and economic development

Key Indicators of Developing Asian and Pacific Countries 2004 Asian Development Bank,2004     Environmental Indicators-North East Asia ,     Asia and the Pacific Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition 2019 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,United Nations International Children Emergency Fund,World Food Program,World Health Organization,2019-12-11 Asia Pacific is home to well over half of all people worldwide who do not obtain sufficient dietary energy to maintain normal active healthy lives To achieve SDG 2 in the region more than 3 million people must escape hunger each month from now until December 2030 In most countries in the region the diets of more than half of all very young children aged 6 23 months fail to meet minimum standards of diversity leading to micronutrient deficiencies that affect child development and therefore the potential of future generations The high prevalence of stunting and wasting among children under five years of age is a result of these deficiencies Only four countries in the region are on track to meet the global target of a 40 percent reduction in the number of stunted children between 2012 and 2025 At the same time the prevalence of overweight and obesity is rising steadily among children and adults negatively affecting health and well being Addressing the resultant burden of diet related non communicable diseases places great strain on national healthcare budgets and also causes productivity losses Social protection is an important way of reducing inequality and mitigating the impacts of disasters and it is expanding in the region A special section of this report discusses how to develop social protection programmes that accelerate progress in eradicating hunger and malnutrition

Economic reform in developing countries Lyn Squire,José María Fanelli,2008-05-30 This book offers insights into the process of economic reform in developing countries It is organized around three factors that are critical to the success of any reform According to Nobel Laureate Amartya Sen these key dimensions are Reach Range and Reason Reach refers to the ability of reform to be person centered and evenhanded reaching all individuals in society Range considers the institutional reforms and policy changes necessary to implement change and the possible ripple effects on other policies and populations Finally Reason captures the importance of constantly asking why a particular reform has been selected
