Et In Arcadia Ego:

ET IN ARCADIA EGO (CLASSIC REPRINT). THEODOSIA. GARRISON, 2022 "Et in Arcadia Ego...?" Riccardo Steiner, 1995 Et in Arcadia ego Emilio Cecchi, 1936 The Art of Art History Donald Preziosi, 1998

What is art history? Why, how, and where did it originate, and how have its aims and methods changed over time? The history of art has been written and rewritten since classical antiquity. Since the foundation of the modern discipline of art history in Germany in the late eighteenth century, debates about art and its histories have intensified. Historians, philosophers, psychologists, and anthropologists among others have changed our notions of what art history has been, is, and might be. This anthology is a guide to understanding art history through a critical reading of the field's most innovative and influential texts over the past two centuries. Each section focuses on a key issue: aesthetics, style history, art iconography and semiology, gender, modernity and postmodernity, deconstruction, and museology. More than thirty readings from writers as diverse as Winckelmann, Kant, Gombrich, Warburg, Panofsky, Heidegger, Lisa Tickner, Meyer Schapiro, Jacques Derrida, Mary Kelly, Michel Foucault, Rosalind Krauss, Louis Marin, Margaret Iversen, and Nestor Canclini are brought together, and Donald Preziosi's introductions to each topic provide background information, bibliographies, and critical elucidations of the issues at stake. His own concluding essay is an important and original contribution to scholarship in the field. From the pre-publication reviews: "Until now, anthologies about the history of art have tended to be worthy yet inert, plotting a linear evolution from the great precursors, Vasari, Winckelmann, to the founding fathers of the modern discipline, Wolfflin, Riegl, Panofsky, to the achievements and refinements of today's scholarship. The texts that Donald Preziosi has brought together provide something far more challenging: the juxtapositions and alignments between individual essays point the reader towards unresolved problems, ongoing debates, and paths not taken or not yet taken. In place of the consoling tale of intellectual progress, the collection defamiliarizes the whole field and opens up a space for radical reflection on its basic procedures and assumptions. Definitely the best introduction to art history currently available." Professor Norman Bryson, Harvard University. Donald Preziosi has prepared an anthology from the Greek: a collection of flowers of art history. His bouquet contains representatives from the discipline's two hundred-year history, arranged in standard and innovative methodological categories. Within each, the readings selected provide stimulating congruencies and contradictions that will inspire productive debate and contemplation. But what makes this anthology more than an arresting assemblage is the author's critical stance toward what he has wrought. His introduction and concluding chapter write around and under the subjects presented, emphasizing the art of art history, its kinship with modernity's post-Enlightenment project, and its collaboration with the rise of nationalism. Thus, the discipline's past is probed and questioned and made relevant for its present and future. The whole thereby addresses without healing or concealing the disciplinary ruptures of modernism. The book might also have explored further the nature of art history's history within the emergent discourse of post-colonialism and the globalization of culture. Yet the many new perspectives it does offer help to re present the discipline for its readers students teachers and curators for other areas of humanistic inquiry which are being subject to similar critiques and for artists and the larger art community for whom history narrative and an accounting of art's past have once again become vital issues Professor Robert S Nelson Professor of Art History and Chair Committee for the History of Culture University of Chicago Rather than focusing on its Vasarian moment or on the later academic institutionalization of art history in the 19th and 20th centuries Donald Preziosi in The Art of Art History constructs a reading of this hegemonic and reductive practice of making the visible legible as one that is inextricably tied to the museographic paradigm of late 18th and early 19th centuries This shift he sees as equivalent in importance to the brought by the invention of perspective But the author goes further than to underline the implication of art history with the premises of modernity he makes a strong case in a vivid and inspiring prose for a tighter equation between art history and modernity an equation grounded in his insightful considerations and meteoric formulations of the epistemological setting rhetorical operations political colonialist aims and schizophrenic yet all invasive aestheticization of knowledge that in the last two centuries have fashioned what we will no longer dare to call the discipline of art history The result is a flamboyant book that offers anything but a celebratory reading of art history It does not constitute an articulation of canonical texts or an up to date menu of art historical currents methods or trends Yet it manages to avoid none of these dimensions Art history is not envisaged as the learned discourse of modernity on a specific class of objects nor is it reduced to a genealogy of outstanding artist subjects and their volatile constellations of contemporary subjects readers It becomes a practice wherein objects and subjects relate and relations often crystallize under the unrecognized aegis of the fetish this Other of art since Preziosi concisely defines art as the anti fetish fetish Far from the fantastic neutrality that is traditionally found in the format of such an historiographic endeavour Preziosi frames his selection of text and threads through them with an array of different strategic voices superimposed to stress a spatial figure he is keen to discern in order to elaborate a strong polemic position that situates art history as an enduring and well disguised fictional genre In the process the author courageously takes on the paradox that is at the core of his project to introduce students to the coming out of art history as art one that is not necessarily meant to be our coming out of it but that certainly well establishes our motives to continue to shake its grounds and its multi storied apparatus Professor Johanne Lamoureux University of Montreal Nicolas Poussin Oskar Bätschmann, 1990 Publication coincides with the 400th anniversary of the artist's birth and a forthcoming exhibition

Poussin's Paintings David Carrier, 1993 Sublime Poussin Louis Marin, Nicolas Poussin, 1999 The eminent scholar and critic Louis Marin considered the paintings and the writings of Nicolas Poussin 1594-1665 an enduring source of inspiration and he returned to Poussin again and again over the years The ten major essays in this volume constitute his definitive statement on the painter who inspired his most eloquent and probing commentary 17 illustrations To Destroy Painting Louis Marin, 1995-03 The work of the eminent French cultural critic Louis Marin 1931-92 is becoming increasingly
