Kathy Prendergast The End And The Beginning:

Kathy Prendergast Kathy Prendergast, Francis McKee, Irish Museum of Modern Art (Kilmainham, Dublin, Ireland), 1999 Captures the intricacy symbolism and irony of the work of contemporary Irish artist Kathy Prendergast Kathy Prendergast Brenda McParland, Kathy Prendergast, 1999 A Shared Legacy Fintan Cullen, 2017-07-05 A Shared Legacy Essays on Irish and Scottish Art and Visual Culture brings together for the first time a unique selection of new research by leading Irish Scottish English and North American scholars to explore the varying ways in which the visual can operate within the context of two countries with related experiences of lost statehood yet retained nationhood Covering a span of three centuries this skilfully crafted book takes the discussion of Irish and Scottish art beyond the often isolationist approach adopted in the past dealing directly with issues of nationality in a wider context The authors identify national concerns through a range of themes race class union and assimilation or nationalism and internationalism and while many of the essays focus on paintings sculpture prints and watercolours others consider a wider notion of visual culture by investigating photography magic lantern slides and the home arts of embroidery and textiles Art History at the Crossroads of Ireland and the United States Cynthia Fowler, Paula Murphy, 2022-05-12 Taking the visual arts as its focus this anthology explores aspects of cultural exchange between Ireland and the United States Art historians from both sides of the Atlantic examine the work of artists art critics and art promoters Through a close study of selected paintings and sculptures photography and exhibitions from the nineteenth century to the present the depth of the relationship between the two countries as well as its complexity is revealed The book is intended for all who are interested in Irish American interconnectedness and will be of particular interest to scholars and students of art history visual culture history Irish studies and American studies The Cambridge History of Ireland: Volume 4, 1880 to the Present Thomas Bartlett, 2018-04-26 This final volume in the Cambridge History of Ireland covers the period from the 1880s to the present Based on the most recent and innovative scholarship and research the many contributions from experts in their field offer detailed and fresh perspectives on key areas of Irish social economic religious political demographic institutional and cultural history By situating the Irish story or stories as for much of these decades two Irelands are in play in a variety of contexts Irish and Anglo Irish but also European Atlantic and latterly global The result is an insightful interpretation on the emergence and development of Ireland during these often turbulent decades Copiously illustrated with special features on images of the Troubles and on Irish art and sculpture in the twentieth century this volume will undoubtedly be hailed as a landmark publication by the most recent generation of historians of Ireland Unorthodox Ways to Think the City Teresa Stoppani, 2018-12-07 This book argues that architecture and the city and their processes can be better understood by drawing categories from disciplines that exceed the architectural and urban cultural context It performs an open intellectual reading that traverses architecture and architectural theory but also art theory and history cartography philosophy literature and cultural studies to unfold a series of figures that are ambiguously placed between the representation and the construction of space in architecture and the city The paradigm and philosophy the island and the city the map and representation the model and making and the questioning of form performed by dust are explored beyond their definition as processes that differently make space between architecture and the city and are proposed as unorthodox analytic techniques to decipher contemporary spatial complexity The book analyses how these figures have been employed at different times and in different creative disciplines beyond architecture and in relation to changing notions of space and traces the role that they have played in the shift towards the dynamic that has taken place in contemporary theory and design research What emerges is the idea of an architecture of the city that is not only physical but is largely defined by the way in which its physical spaces are regulated lived and perceived but also imagined and projected

Scale in Contemporary Sculpture Rachel Wells, 2017-07-05 The first book to devote serious attention to questions of scale in contemporary sculpture this study considers the phenomenon within the interlinked cultural and socio historical framework of the legacies of postmodern theory and the growth of global capitalism In particular the book traces the impact of postmodern theory on concepts of measurement and exaggeration and analyses the relationship between this philosophy and the sculptural trend that has developed since the early 1990s Rachel Wells examines the arresting international trend of sculpture exploring scale including American precedents from the 1970s and 1980s and work by the Young British Artists Noting that the emergence of this sculptural trend coincides with the end of the Cold War Wells suggests a similarity between the quantitative ratio of scale and the growth of global capitalism that has replaced the former status quo of qualitatively opposed systems This study also claims the allegorical nature of scale in contemporary sculpture outlining its potential for critique or complicity in a system dominated by quantitative criteria of value In a period characterised by uncertainty and incommensurability Wells demonstrates that scale in contemporary sculpture can suggest the possibility of and even an unashamed reliance upon comparison and external difference in the construction of meaning

Women Framing Hair Heather Hanna, 2015-05-13 This book explores the complex and enigmatic motif of hair in the work of five contemporary women artists Chrystl Rijkeboer Alice Maher Annegret Soltau Kathy Prendergast and Ellen Gallagher from the late 1970s to the present It investigates why hair is such a productive and resonant site of meaning how it is suggestive of and responds to serial strategies and why it appears to be of particular significance to women who are artists It explores the implications of hair as an embodied material its role as a haptic metaphor of the life cycle and what might be seen as a darker more liminal side of hair as a site of excess and body waste and its ability to represent trauma and wounding It also discusses some of the divergent histories of hair as a rich marker of identity in cultural discourses of beauty myth and femininity and as a symbol of status and power Informed by a range of theoretical approaches this book draws on Julia Kristeva's theorizations of the abject Hélène Cixous's notion of critique feminine and a Deleuzian consideration of difference

Recto Verso: Redefining the Sketchbook Angela

Bartram, Nader El-Bizri, Douglas Gittens, 2016-04-08 Bringing together a broad range of contributors including art architecture and design academic theorists and historians in addition to practicing artists architects and designers this volume explores the place of the sketchbook in contemporary art and architecture Drawing upon a diverse range of theories practices and reflections common to the contemporary conceptualisation of the sketchbook and its associated environments it offers a dialogue in which the sketchbook can be understood as a pivotal working tool that contributes to the creative process and the formulation and production of visual ideas Along with exploring the theoretical philosophical psychological and curatorial implications of the sketchbook the book addresses emergent digital practices by way of examining contemporary developments in sketchbook productions and pedagogical applications Consequently these more recent developments question the validity of the sketchbook as both an instrument of practice and creativity and as an educational device International in scope it not only explores European intellectual and artistic traditions but also intercultural and cross cultural perspectives including reviews of practices in Chinese artworks or Islamic calligraphy and situational contexts that deal with historical examples such as Roman art or modern practices in geographical cultural regions like Pakistan

Art Maps and Cities Gloria Lanci, 2022-11-25 This book presents an original study on how contemporary artists are exploring urban spaces through mapping Despite a long history of representations of cities in maps and the relationships that can be envisaged between art maps and cities in the contemporary world little research is dedicated to investigating how artists intervene in the realm of urban cartography The research examines a century old history of art maps and draws on academic debates challenging traditional notions of maps as scientific artefacts produced through accurate measurement and surveying The potential of art maps to construct personal narratives through contestation embodiment and play is analysed in the city context where spaces are shaped by urban planning and design political ideologies and socio economic forces Adopting an exploratory and interpretative research approach that investigates the confluence of theories originated in different domains this book conducts the reader to discover what artistic practices can bring into a more creative while inquisitive understanding of cities A series of semi structured interviews with visual artists enquiring how they apprehend process and re create urban spaces in artworks explores cartographic process and methods in visual art practices in the twenty first century which incorporates digital technologies and critical thinking Artforum International, 2000

Irish Art Now Declan McGonagle, Fintan

O'Toole, Kim Levin, 1999 Reflecting the seismic changes in Ireland's political social economic and cultural realities of the 1990s contemporary Irish artists have begun to redefine identities raising questions about the relationships between male and female urban and rural North and South history and the present The struggle over identities which used to marginalize Ireland and societies like it has now become central to debates around the globe This strikingly illustrated book presents a reading of Irish art in the 1990s and examines the repositioning of Irish identity in works drawn primarily from the collection of the Irish Museum of Modern Art Dublin The artists examined including Kathy Prendergast Willie Doherty and Alice Maher have initiated a dialogue with their own society and others beyond Ireland using painting photography sculpture video and installation to explore subjects ranging from the personal and poetic to the political Their concerns and the way they are conveyed through non traditional materials and new interpretations of more conventional media link these works to new art being made elsewhere in the world This publication accompanies an exhibition touring the United States and Canada BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Art Year ,2000 Art on Paper ,2000
