Canadian Reference Sources Mary

E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996 This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sourcesthat describe Canadian people institutions organizations publications art literature languages and history. It lists booksof a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities. These large divisions are then broken down by subject genre type of document and province or territory. Titles of national provincial territorial or regional interest are included in everysubject area when available. The contents of the book are indexed fourways by name title. French subject and English subject And to facilitate browsing the major reference books those dealing with morethan one subject or a large geographical region are alsocross referenced. Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages. Entries for unilingual works include acitation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation. The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content arrangements and indexing of works the availability of non printformats previous editions and title changes and related works. Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers.

Fashioning Acadians Hilary Doda, 2023-10-24 What people wore in the distant past is often challenging to determine owing to the disintegration of natural textiles and materials over time Yet when new findings from archaeological excavations are compared with documentation about early Acadia a fascinating picture of the society s early fashions is revealed Fashioning Acadians is a history of clothesmaking and dress in Acadia from 1650 to 1750 Through the analysis of four Acadian settlements in what is now Nova Scotia Hilary Doda uncovers the regional fashions and trends that had begun to emerge prior to the violence of the deportations of 1755 Men s and women s wardrobes are described from head to toe from headdresses and hairstyles down to stockings and shoes along with accessories such as buttons buckles and jewellery While Acadians retained many aspects of the fashion systems of France New France and New England a distinctive Acadian identity can be seen to take shape as their dress evolved and was influenced by other regional styles Exploring the possibilities of a new methodology for identifying lost or decayed garments Doda argues that surviving notions sewing tools and accessories the small finds of archaeological sites are important sources of information not only about domestic life but about manufacturing processes dress and textile cultures and the influence of intersecting fashion systems in colonial spaces Fashioning Acadians expands our understanding of Acadian lives and their connections to both the Atlantic world of goods Weavers of the Southern Highlands Philis Alvic, 2014-07-11 Weaving centers led and the landscapes of Nova Scotia the Appalachian Craft Revival at the beginning of the twentieth century Soon after settlement workers came to the mountains to start schools they expanded their focus by promoting weaving as a way for women to help their family s financial situation Women wove thousands of guest towels baby blankets and place mats that found a ready market in the women's network of religious denominations arts organizations and civic clubs In Weavers of the Southern Highlands Philis Alvic details how the Fireside Industries of Berea College in Kentucky began with women weaving to supply their children's school expenses and later developed student labor programs where hundreds of students covered their tuition by weaving Arrowcraft associated with Pi Beta Phi School at Gatlinburg Tennessee and the Penland Weavers and Potters begun at the Appalachian School at Penland North Carolina followed the Berea model Women wove at home with patterns and materials supplied by the center returning their finished products to the coordinating organization to be marketed Dozens of similar weaving centers dotted mountain ridges Consumers in the Bush Douglas McCalla, 2015-03-01 General stores are essential to the image of a colonial village Many historians however still base their stories of settlement on the notion of rural self sufficiency begging the question if general stores were so common who were their customers To answer this Consumers in the Bush draws on the account books of country stores rich evidence that has rarely been used Douglas McCalla considers more than 30 000 transactions on the accounts of 750 families at seven Upper Canadian stores between 1808 and 1861 These customers were typical of rural society farmers artisans labourers and often women At village stores they found a wide variety of products most imported from Britain a few from the United States and a surprising number that were produced locally Three chapters focus on the major product categories of dry goods groceries and hardware a fourth considers local products and a fifth addresses a variety of items from household goods to footwear to school books In telling us about the goods colonists bought this book explores what they were used for and the stories they allow us to tell about rural lives and experience By seeing rural Upper Canadians as consumers Consumers in the Bush reveals them as full participants in the rapidly changing nineteenth century global world of goods Handweaving Isabel Buschman, 1991 Buschman annotates more than 550 books and periodical titles published on the techniques and history of handweaving from 1928 through October 1989 She includes works on how to weave basic weaving texts books on looms and equipment and patterns both for weaving and for woven articles handweaving history and historic fabrics from around the world works on Native American weaving ranging from the Chilkats of the Northwest coast of North America to the Pueblos and Navajos of our Southwest Mexico and Central America and on through the rich weaving culture of the Andes reference works containing specialized bibliographies and information on fibers dyes education and marketing and periodicals With author title and subject indexes

Shaker Textile Arts Beverly Gordon,1982-07 A comprehensive book on the kinds of textiles the Shakers used how they were produced and their cultural and economic importance to the communities Handwoven Table Linens Tom Knisely,2017-04-30 Master weaver Tom Knisely presents patterns and ideas to spruce up your table with new weaves Tom Knisely author of bestseller Rag Rug Weaving and Handwoven Baby Blankets has now turned his attention to one of the most popular categories of weaving table linens Placemats runners tablecloths and napkins play a central role in creating the look of a dining room or kitchen table and this book gives you the tools needed to realize your vision for these special items Tom has found inspiration from things as varied as china patterns a classic Spode Christmas tree and traditional weaving patterns such as Shadow Weave Wheel of Fortune and Star of Bethlehem For each pattern he outlines the materials you need how to set up your loom and the pattern to weave Add your own dash of inspiration if you choose different colors and make each piece your own The 27 patterns include simple weaves worked on 2 and 4 harness looms as well as more complex weaves requiring more harnesses Because Tom is at heart a teacher he also chose each project with the thought that it should add to your weaving repertoire in some way The techniques you learn as you work on the projects in this book are things that you can adapt and use down the road in future weaving
